

IN RIOTOUS MOOD

PENNSYLVANIA STRIKERS ARE GIVING TROUBLE. NON-UNION MEN ASSAULTED HUNDREDS ARE ABROAD AND BREEDING DISTURBANCE. BIG MOB IN MIDNIGHT MARCH PRESIDENT MITCHELL WILL TRY CALM STRIKERS.

Shamokin, Pa., July 30.—Hundreds of strikers lined the roads leading to different collieries today and prevented the non-union men from going to work. John Shipman and son, non-union men, were brutally beaten. Strike leaders are busily engaged in trying to calm the strikers, who have grown more restless. President Mitchell will visit here as soon as possible to address the men in an endeavor to keep them from breaking the law and also to urge them to remain away from the mines.

THE EXODUS CONTINUES.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 30.—The departure of miners from the anthracite region to the bituminous fields continues. About thirty men left today for Indiana. The officials of the United Mine Workers find they cannot provide places for all the applicants who want to leave and it causes dissatisfaction among the strikers. Fully 100 idle miners were gathered around President Mitchell's headquarters today and they all wanted to go west. The men were told that as soon as work was found for them they could make the journey. A mob gathered at Durysa again today, expecting that an attempt would be made to start up the washery. Sheriff Jacobs sent a number of deputies to the scene, but their services were not needed as no effort was made to resume work.

STRIKERS DEMONSTRATIVE.

Shenandoah, Pa., July 30.—The attitude of the striking mine workers here is daily becoming more demonstrative. All last night a mob of 1,000 men and boys were on the march. They first visited the West Shenandoah colliery and drove the non-union workmen from the engines, pumps and fire rooms. The workmen were compelled to seek refuge in the camp of the coal and iron police. The strikers assailed the breaker with stones, doing considerable damage to window glass. From the West Shenandoah mine the mob proceeded to the Indian Ridge colliery, where they were confronted by a body of special police, whose presence prevented violence. Squads of strikers picketed the approaches to several mines where pumping is in progress and urged the men employed to quit work. Deputy Sheriff Coombs, Union Organizer Cinley and a posse of deputy sheriffs are here endeavoring to maintain order.

GOVERNMENT IS REPULSED.

Cape Haytian, Hayti, July 30.—General Albert Salnave, commanding an army in support of Mr. Firmin's candidacy for the presidency, is camped, with a large body of troops, about three miles from this place. General Nord, who went out to give battle to General Salnave was defeated and his army retreated in panic to Cape Haytian. The volunteers have abandoned their posts. Confidence has been restored among the foreign residents of the city, thanks to the energetic measures taken by Commander McCrea, of the United States gun boat Machias, and United States Consul Livingston, to guarantee them protection in case of an attack on the city.

THREE YOUNG LADIES DROWN.

Monticello, Minn., July 30.—Three young women, Miss Mabel Wells, of this place, and Eva Saker and Laura T. Tye, of Faribault, were drowned in Lake Jefferson last evening. Their boat capsized during a storm. Professors Bingham and Hanson, of Minneapolis, were of the party, but could not save their companions.

Anderson, Ind., July 30.—An interurban car was struck by a train near Yorktown this afternoon. It is reported that two persons were killed and many injured. them, John Larb, living on Fletcher avenue, stumbled and fell into one of the pits. As he did so a portion of the bank caved in, completely burying him. The lad's companions fortunately had sufficient presence of mind enough to dig him out, and although nearly suffocated, he soon came to. In the fall the boy's right collar bone was broken and he received other injuries. Dr. J. W. McCausland reduced the fracture.

A WRECK ON PENNSYLVANIA

ENGINE OF MAIL TRAIN NO. 11 JUMPS THE TRACK. Engineer Killed and Fireman and Mail Clerks Hurt—Engine Went 250 Feet Down Embankment.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 30.—The engine of the westbound fast mail No. 11 on the Pennsylvania railroad jumped the track near Packsaddle about 11:30 o'clock today and plunged over a 250-foot embankment, taking with it the mail cars. One man was killed and five injured.

The dead: John Kemmerling, engineer, aged 51, of Altoona, Pa. Injured: S. M. Kinsley, fireman, 24, Altoona, Pa.; will die. J. F. McGinnis, brakeman, Harrisburg, slightly injured. J. S. Wills, mail clerk, Harrisburg, slightly injured. H. H. Wert, mail clerk, Harrisburg, not dangerous. J. B. Maurer, mail clerk, Harrisburg, slightly injured. The train was made up entirely of mail cars and was fifty-five minutes late. It was running at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred. All the cars were wrecked. The cause of the accident is not yet known. A relief train has been sent from Pittsburg to bring the mail here.

BALL PLAYERS IN SMASH-UP.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 30.—The wagon containing the Iliou State League ball team on its way to the ball grounds was struck by an Erie passenger train at a crossing in Lestershire this afternoon. The driver, a colored man, was instantly killed, and a young man named Signor, of this city, had one leg broken. Fitcher Hess, of the Iliou team, was injured, but the other players jumped in time to save themselves. L. W. Hess, of Nanticoke, father of Fitcher Hess, was internally injured and is not expected to live. Manager Howard Earl, of the Iliou team, was internally injured, as was also Pitcher Hess. Both are seriously hurt.

AGED VICTIM OF AN ASSAULT.

South Bend, Ind., July 30.—Mrs. Josefa Janowiak, a widow, aged 60 years, while returning to her home shortly after 11 o'clock Monday night, was hailed by a young man in a buggy and asked if she did not want him to take her home in his carriage. He spoke in Polish, and Mrs. Janowiak accepted his offer. He drove through the city, past the woman's home, threatening her life if she made an outcry. In the dense woods south of the city he threw her from the buggy, and after assaulting her, took her money and medicine and disappeared, leaving her about two miles from her home. Although terribly injured she managed to drag herself to the residence of John Shearer, in the vicinity. She reached the house about 1 o'clock, but was too exhausted to awaken the family, and was obliged to pass the night in a stupor on the porch. She is in a critical condition. Her assailant has not been apprehended.

WHITE HOUSE STRIKE ENDS.

Washington, July 30.—The differences between the striking electricians and the New York contractors having in charge the electrical work at the white house have been satisfactorily adjusted, and the men have returned to work.

Mrs. Caroline Bender, of 505 East Washington street, has returned home after a three weeks' visit in Petoskey.

FORMED AT LIMA

BIG CONSTRUCTION COMPANY ORGANIZED TUESDAY. WILL BUILD FLEMING LINE S. B. FLEMING AND H. C. PAUL ARE STOCKHOLDERS. CAPITALIZED AT $600,000

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN FORT

WAYNE INTERURBAN PLAN.

The Ohio and Indiana Construction company, which has for its object the construction of the Fleming interurban line between Fort Wayne and New Haven, was organized at a meeting held in Lima, Ohio, on Tuesday.

The construction company will be incorporated under the laws of Indiana with a capital stock of $600,000, all of which is held by five well-known business men—L. J. Neely and J. A. VanDyke, of Lima, S. T. Murdock, of Lafayette, Henry C. Paul and Stephen B. Fleming, of Fort Wayne. While little stir has been made, preparations for the building of the Fort Wayne and New Haven line, a franchise for which was recently granted the S. B. Fleming company, have been going steadily forward. Countless details have to be attended to in the development of a work of this magnitude, and there is now evidence that within a short time all preparations will have been completed, and the actual work of construction will begin.

The company formed Tuesday has no connection with the S. B. Fleming company save in a business way—that it will attend to the building of the road. The incorporation of the S. B. Fleming company, which is to own and operate the line, will be consummated within a few days. No additional plans of the company, regarding probable extensions to the east from New Haven have been made public.

HELD FOR INTENT TO KILL

ONE OF THE COLORED RIOTERS ARRESTED.

Jailed for Want of Bond—Bill Hochstetter and May Baughman Fed the Animals—Police News.

Judge Dreibels had quite a miscellaneous crowd to deal with this morning and offenses of more or less gravity were found on his calendar. Ellis Smith, colored, was most severely dealt with. Smith was arrested last evening on Grand street and is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. He was one of the three colored men implicated in the shooting affair night before last, in which William Collins was shot in the leg by "Shorty" Milan, who is still at large. Smith, it is said, started the racket and proceeded to do some carving with his razor. Collins, who was a third and innocent party to the affair, got mixed up and stopped "Shorty's" bullets. Smith pleaded not guilty to the charge, said he wanted a lawyer and asked for a continuance. The case was set for August 7 and the prisoner was placed under bond of $2,000. Failing to secure a bondsman, he was sent to jail.

A STRENUOUS TIME.

Bill Hochstetter and May Baughman, or Bookman, were out for a high old time last night, and they had it. About 11 o'clock they raised more excitement along Columbia street and the territory north of the city than has been provoked there in a long time. Murder and riot looked like small change compared to what this worthy pair stirred up. They were in a buggy, and as they drove through the streets the woman screamed at the top of her voice, calling for police and help, while the gentle William insisted in stentorian tones that he would kill her this time, sure. Whether it was all a joke at the time does not appear, but, anyway, they led the police a merry chase. The wagon went north on Clinton street, and Sergeant Harknider took a Lakeside car and finally gave up the hunt near the feeble minded institute. All the down town officers were on the lookout, and finally after midnight Officer Strodel ambled up to the station with the bibulous pair in tow. They were as affectionate as turtle doves, as drunk as owls and as indignant as vestals. They were locked up and this morning both pleaded not guilty to being drunk and wanted an opportunity to get attorneys. Their cases were continued until tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock and they were placed under $100 bond each, failing to give which both went below. PUNISHED FOR THEFT. Earl McMannery, whose arrest was noted yesterday, was charged with vagrancy and was sent over for 10 days. He was arrested for stealing a pair of driving lines from M. Baltes & Co., but the charge of vagrancy was placed against him in order to give the officers an opportunity to make inquiries concerning him. He claims his home to be at Toledo, but tells many conflicting stories. He is about 17 years of age and there is a suspicion that he may be an escaped reform school lad. Mr. Baltes identified and recovered his lines this morning.

Eddie Lassus, a young man out on parole from the Indiana reform school at Plainfield, was picked up yesterday for carrying concealed weapons. The officers at Plainfield were notified and the young man was held pending the arrival of a custodian who will conduct the boy back to his old quarters. Frank Sweetney pleaded not guilty to a charge of vagrancy, but he went over for 18 days just the same. He has been out of jail only a few days, having been sent over June 26 for train climbing. He is supposed to be so crooked that he has to sleep in a tub. He was yesterday found peddling cheap jewelry and is supposed to be one of a gang of three "phoney" ring men who have been operating quietly for about a week.

E. B. Jones, who is an Abbot township farmer owning a stand on the city market, reported yesterday that someone left a purse containing a small sum of money on his stand yesterday. He deposited the purse at the police station, where the owner can get it. POLICE NOTES. A bunch of keys, evidently of considerable value to the owner, can be identified at the superintendent of police's office. A horse and buggy is reported missing from the Martin livery barn and it is a question whether the renter forgot to bring the rig back or whether it was stolen. The outfit is gone anyway and is unaccounted for at the stable and the police have been asked to assist in locating it. Officer White picked up a stray mare last night and stabled her at Weick's barn. Blanche Kuffie, of 1604 West Main street, reports the loss of a purse containing a small sum of money. E. G. Kampe, of 801 West Jefferson street, reports that someone stole a gardiner and some plants from his yard. The police have an idea that this theft was committed by the same party who carried away a rattan chair from the front porch of Charles Falk's residence on Saturday. The officers have a clue and are encouraged to the belief that the thief is a woman kleptomaniac known to the department.

NEW PAPER TRUST PLANNED

FORT WAYNE STOCKHOLDERS ARE INVITED IN. Would Embrace Rope and Bag Papers—Meeting Was Held at Cleveland Yesterday.

Following close upon the absorption of the leading strawboard mills of the country into a gigantic corporation, comes a plan for the consolidation of mills producing another class of paper goods—the rope papers and the paper bag manufacturers. Many Fort Wayne men were interested in the first organization and the stockholders of the Wayne paper mill at Hartford City, most of whom reside in Fort Wayne, have been invited into the new organization. The Wayne company was not included in the recent merger. No decision has yet been reached, for the reason that plans for the new combine have not been fully perfected. A meeting was held at Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday to talk over the matter, and A. B. Trentman, of this city, representing the Wayne Paper company, was in attendance. Another meeting is to be held in New York in September, when it is believed plans for the incorporation of the new company will have been perfected.

BOTH RETURN HOME.

Mrs. Robinson and Miss Wells, who narrowly escaped drowning at Robison park Sunday afternoon, have both returned to their homes at Hartford City. Miss Wells left last evening at 4:15 o'clock and Mrs. Robinson was a passenger on the train shortly before noon today.

SHE SLEPT AWAY

MRS. HARVEY YARYAN ENDS LIFE WITH CHLOROFORM. HAD INHALED DEADLY FUMES WAS FOUND LIFELESS UPON BED AT NOON TODAY.

HUSBAND MADE DISCOVERY

WOMAN WAS LAST SEEN ALIVE ABOUT 9 O'CLOCK.

The lifeless body of Mrs. Allie Yaryan, 36 years of age, was found lying upon the bed in her rooms at the Whiteman boarding house, 720 Barr street, shortly after noon today. Her face was buried in the pillow, and beside the body lay a two-ounce bottle, uncorked, containing chloroform. This instantly explained the cause of death, but the exact circumstances surrounding it may never be known. The dead woman was the wife of Harvey Yaryan, a woodworker employed at the City Carriage works, and the horrifying discovery was made by the husband as he returned to the house for the noonday meal.

The room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Yaryan was the front room upon the ground floor, and on reaching the house today Mr. Yaryan found both front and rear doors to the apartment locked. In some alarm he forced an entrance through a window at the side of the house. Inside the room the fumes of the chloroform were stifling. Beside his wife upon the bed he noticed the bottle of chloroform and a book which she had evidently been reading. Efforts to arouse the woman failed and Mr. Yaryan called to other residents of the house. Dr. Harriet Macbeth was also summoned, but the attempt to resuscitate the woman were futile. It is believed death had ensued at least an hour before.

LAST SEEN AT 9 O'CLOCK.

Coroner Barnett was called and he at once began work upon the case. The bottle found beside the body originally contained two ounces of chloroform, but at least three-thirds of the drug was missing. Mrs. S. D. Whitman, wife of the proprietor of the boarding house, which is the old White homestead, was the last person to see Mrs. Yaryan alive. The latter arose this morning as usual, made a visit to the public library to exchange a book she had been reading, then ordered some groceries for Mrs. Whitman and returned to the house at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Whitman had a brief conversation with her at that time, but the woman was in her usual spirits, and there was no indication in her manner of contemplated suicide. She entered her room and locked the door. Three hours later the lifeless body was found.

The family came to Fort Wayne three years ago from Crawfordsville, and consisted of the husband, wife and one son, Herbert, who is employed at the Stafford printing house. For a short time it is said Mrs. Yaryan was employed as a demonstrator of food products at several grocery stores in the city. There is a possibility her death may have been accidental, for it is said that members of the family have known for some time that Mrs. Yaryan was in the habit of occasionally using some drug to induce sleep, but she repeatedly refused to tell the nature of the medicine. Her death under the circumstances today might tend to support the theory that the narcotic used was chloroform, and that so great a quantity of the drug was unintentionally used today that fatal consequences ensued.

REJECTED AMENDMENT.

At a meeting of the Wabash city council last evening the amendment to the franchise of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern allowing it to make some changes in its route, was defeated. Owing to the failure of the Wabash council to grant the amendment the interurban will ignore the franchise awarded it and will build its tracks to a point near the Big Four depot. Manager Nelson emphatically states that his road is not endeavoring to antagonize the city of Wabash, but the management does not think it would be beneficial to either of the parties if the old franchise were accepted as drafted.

DR. H. G. MERZ HOME.

Dr. Henry G. Merz, who has been spending the past month in Denver for rest and recuperation, has returned to the city and resumed his practice. Dr. Merz says the trip was a most delightful one and his health is much improved.

"BUD" CARSON HOME.

"Bud" Carson, son of Kit Carson, arrived home this morning from New York, where he was mustered out a week ago. Carson was a member of company G, of the famous "Fighting Ninth," and saw service in the Philippine islands and China. He intends settling down here and going into business.

FIRST OATS COMES IN.

The first of the 1902 crop of oats was delivered in the Fort Wayne market today. The price paid was 30 cents.

MAKES OLD NAVIES USELESS

A NEW AND POWERFUL EXPLOSIVE IS A SUCCESS. Experiments With a Time Fuse for It Give Uncle Sam a Big Hunch on Other Powers.

New York, July 30.—A new time fuse, for use on armor-piercing shells loaded with a recently discovered secret explosive of great power, has been invented by war department ordnance experts and will, according to a New York American dispatch from Washington, revolutionize foreign warship building. Tests of the explosive and fuse have been made, and so long as the United States government holds the secret foreign battleships either must double their steel walls or be as wooden frigates against the new destroyer.

General Crozier, chief of ordnance, is quoted as having said that a test of the new explosive has been conducted with eminent success at the Sandy Hook proving grounds, that the shell carried its contents through the thickest armor, and that the fuse lived long enough to have exploded on the interior of a ship of war. The greatest penetration secured was that of a shell fired from a twelve-inch gun. It pierced fourteen-inch Krupp armor before detonation. The heaviest shield now in use is said to be only twelve inches thick.

JAMES H. LAKE DEAD.

Rome City, Ind., July 30.—(Special.)—James H. Lake, for many years a prominent farmer near this place, died at 3:20 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the age of 69 years. Mr. Lake's illness had been an extended one. He had been a resident of Noble county for about fifty years and was widely and favorably known. Surviving are the widow and an only child—Mrs. W. P. Denny, of Fort Wayne. The funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the residence.

LOCAL LINES.

Miss Effie Ellenwood is visiting friends in Flint, Mich. Mrs. Rouch, of Taylor street, is visiting friends in Columbia City. Frank Gruber and family are spending a few weeks at Rome City. Miss Dibble has gone to Decatur to visit her parents and will then go east to spend a month. Mrs. Samuel Dafforn, living in Pleasant township, lost a pocketbook yesterday containing $130. Miss Ethel Mossman returns this evening from Detroit, where she has been spending several weeks. The Newsboys' union field day will be at the Driving park instead of Robison park, Friday, as announced. Miss Clara DeWald has returned from Logansport, where she has been the guest of her sister for several weeks. Mrs. L. B. Davis was called to Kalamazoo, Mich., yesterday on account of the illness of her father, who was bitten by a rattlesnake yesterday. The patient was in a critical condition for a time, but he is now out of danger.

The Misses Emily Williams and her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Williams, of Pittsburg, Pa., and the Misses Eva Bowser, Emily Mick, Myrtle Long and Mae Williams will go to Winona on Saturday, where they will be guests for two weeks at the Bowser cottage. Word was received here this morning of the death of Mrs. Henry Dawkins, wife of a prominent farmer living east of New Haven. Mrs. Dawkins was 40 years old, and her death was due to consumption, from which she suffered for a number of years. She leaves two daughters by a former marriage, who reside in Dayton, and one daughter by her second husband. She has several relatives living in Fort Wayne.

RECOMMEND CONTRACT FOR BOARD TO SIGN.

CLINTON STREET IS BARRED.

PROCEEDINGS OF MEETING OF COUNCIL.

The city council met last evening in special session, pursuant to a call from the mayor, all the members responding to the call except Borkenstein, Gerding and O'Ryan. After roll call the call was read and then upon motion the council resolved itself into a committee of the whole, with Councilman Scheid in the chair and Councilman Hensch at the clerk's desk. The chair announced that the object of the session was to receive the report of the sub-committee appointed to prepare a report to be submitted to the council and by the council to the board of works on matters pertaining to Fort Wayne traction franchise, extension and other matters. The report of the sub-committee was read, involving also the reading of the entire contract as revised at the meeting of June 2, the reading occupying over an hour. There was some discussion in the committee, resulting in the changing of the report so as to include a provision for the removal of the feed wires on Barr and Lafayette streets, after which the report was signed, the committee rose and again met as a council, received and adopted the report of the committee, instructed the clerk to submit a copy of the report and recommendations to the board of works for presentation to the traction company for signature, and after the mayor had appointed Councilmen Miller, Sordet, Glenn, Bauer and Scheid as members of the committee provided for in the recommendations, adjourned.

TEXT OF THE REPORT.
The direct report of the sub-committee of the committee of the whole, not including the text of the ordinance and contract embodied therein, was as follows:

"To the Mayor and Common Council: Gentlemen—The committee of the whole respectfully submits the following report on contract with traction company. The committee does not deem it necessary to give in detail the proceedings of the many meetings and conferences held by it, for the purpose of adjusting the differences between the traction company and committee. Suffice to say that since January of this year the contract has been up in one way or the other, and not until the evening of July — was the issues between committee and traction company definitely defined. Concessions were made by the committee, and likewise by the traction company, and as it now stands there are but two points upon which there is a difference. 1. The traction company agrees to sell six tickets for a quarter, good on all lines and to all persons, and a 'special ticket' in lots of thirty for $1.05, for laboring people only, and use limited to one and one-half hours in morning and one hour in evening, conditioned that the contract would provide for a line on Clinton street, from Holman street to Lewis street. 2nd. Eliminating Clinton and Holman streets from the proposition, and the three and a half-cent tickets, the traction company agrees to carry out the general provisions of its original contract, presented with the following amendments thereto:

"1st. That the term of the franchise be thirty-five years instead of fifty.
"2nd. That it will make extensions after ten years, provided that the same be ordered by council and board of public works, and,
"3rd. That there be a change of route as to extensions provided in sub-divisions 2, 3 and 4, section 1, of original contract.

"The committee is not in favor of approving a contract granting a franchise on Clinton street, from Holman street to Lewis street, for the reason that it is opposed to the occupancy of said streets by railroads of any kind.

"As to the special ticket for laboring people, the committee does not see why it should be eliminated, as this ticket was provided for in the original contract, except that it was to be sold in 100 lots, and the sale of them was not conditioned on the company's getting Clinton street. The committee is not opposed to a reconsideration of route of extensions as provided in sub-division 2, 3 and 4, section 1, of original contract as asked for by traction company, and for the purpose of reconsidering the route, it recommends that the mayor appoint five members of the common council to act in conjunction with the board of public works, and together agree upon a route. Aside from the question of route, in so far as it relates to sub-division 2, 3 and 4, section 1, of original contract, the committee would recommend the approval of a contract like unto that of the original heretofore signed by the traction company when amended.

POINTS IN CONTROVERSY.

The first point in controversy was upon the interpretation or construction of a paragraph in the contract relating to the granting of the use of any street covered by the traction company in the proposed new grant, to any other company. City Attorney Shambaugh explained that the city was not granting a perpetual nor an exclusive franchise in the ordinance under consideration and could allow other companies to build and operate along the same route if public policy demanded it. The $500 forfeiture clause next was considered and was changed to provide that failure to build extensions agreed upon by a board of arbitration provided for, would involve a forfeiture of $500 by the company and that such forfeiture, together with attorney fees could be exacted each six months that there was a failure to comply with the order. The principal change was the substitution of the word "failure" for "refusal."

FEED WIRE ISSUE.

Councilman Ehrman then introduced the feed wire proposition, saying that right then was the time to enact a provision for the placing of feed wires under ground. A long and somewhat acrimonious discussion followed. Mr. Hoesy suggested that as the city had already an ordinance upon its books providing for underground wires and the removal of the particularly objectionable feed wires on Barr and Lafayette streets, he thought that should suffice and the present ordinance should not be burdened with objectionable features. He added that an agreement had been made with the traction company, but that before the agreement was carried out a new council had passed a sweeping ordinance, making it compulsory to put all wires under ground and that therefore the traction company did not feel bound to stand by its previous private agreement. Chairman Scheid here interposed an objection to the insertion of any "underground clause," saying it would only prove obstructive. Another colloquy ensued and finally Bauer moved to instruct the board to insert a clause requiring the company to remove its wires on Barr and Lafayette streets. Miller amended by including any wires which the board saw fit to have removed and Lennon objected to the whole proceeding. He said the rider on the franchise would prove an unsurmountable barrier to a contract with the traction company and declared that there was not a tenth of the danger in feed wires that there is in ordinary trolleys.

A RECONSIDERATION.

During the discussion a motion was made, put and carried that the committee now rise. Mayor Berghoff rapped for order and asked for the roll call, when Mr. Hoesy objected and said that he did not think the committee was ready to go into a session as a council, because he thought there was a misapprehension on the part of some councilmen as to what the report, as it was to be submitted, really meant. There was a wait of half an hour, when the council resumed a sitting as a committee of the whole. Mr. Bauer took the floor and stated for the record that the amendment of Mr. Miller to include all wires had created a breach and that the council could not sign the report as it was at that time and that he therefore moved to reconsider. He followed this with a motion to include in the removal order only the wires on Barr and Lafayette streets and this motion, after a debate, was carried. The committee then rose.

A COUNCIL AGAIN.

The council then met for the second time with the same membership. The report of the committee was again read as presented above, the lengthy text of the franchise alone being omitted. Mr. Bauer then objected to the appointment of a committee of five as recommended in the report, saying that he thought that there should be no suspicion of collusion on the part of the councilmen. He referred to the published report of a midnight session between members of the council and Manager Scott and added that he did not believe the report was true, but that it was out and that a special council committee would look bad; the matter should be left entirely with the board and the traction company.

Mr. Lennon arose to say that his name had been mentioned in connection with that midnight conference and he wanted the privilege of utterly repudiating the statement and branding it as an unqualified falsehood. He scarcely thought it necessary, but as his character and integrity had been publicly assailed, he wanted to publicly sustain himself.

Mr. Hoesy followed Mr. Lennon and along the same lines. The report was then adopted and the mayor appointed Miller, Hoesy, Sordet, Bauer and Glenn on the committee recommended by the report. Mr. Hoesy promptly declined to serve and his declination was followed by that of Mr. Bauer, who said that he had had traction company for breakfast, dinner and supper and that he had all he wanted. The vacancies were filled by the appointment of Borkenstein and Scheid respectively. The council then adjourned with Councilman Meier still objecting to the feed wire proposition, he being the only member who refused to sign the report of the committee of the whole.

GRIST OF RECOMMENDATIONS.

The report of the council and recommendations as they now go to the board of works provide for the extensions by the street car company as they were outlined at the session of the council on June 2, eliminating the spur on Clinton street and the barn track on Holman street; dispensing with the Lafayette street freight loop as provided for in the ordinance presented last January and omitting the east end extensions already covered in the Fleming franchise. The matter of abandoning the Creighton avenue line and substituting north and south parallel lines, and going south on Broadway to the river bridge and other lines contemplated by the terms of the report are left open and referred to the board of works for adjustment and contract. A thirty-five year franchise is designated and the ticket rate is left at six for a quarter at all times on cars and 30 for $1.05 during designated hours; the report also is adverse to the abolishment of the other reduced rate tickets in book form. The board has not yet indicated when the report and contract will be taken up with the traction company.

MR. SCOTT'S CONCESSION.

That the Fort Wayne Traction Co. is endeavoring to harmonize with the board of works was evidenced yesterday when Manager Scott made and signed an agreement to concrete the portion of East Main street occupied by the company's tracks along the line of the route now in course of being paved. The street proper is being built with a foundation of rolled stone only, but upon solicitation of Chairman Eggemann Manager Scott agreed to put in concrete between the rails and to a distance of twelve inches outside and has contracted with Contractor Moellering to do the work.

Member Doehrmann, of the board of works, who has charge of the Wayne street pavement construction, says that the Barber company will have the street completed in its entirety by tomorrow noon and that the entire length of the street will be open to traffic on Friday morning.

Member Zollinger, who is superintending the Buchanan street job, says that the work of that improvement is progressing rapidly and that he expects the asphalters to commence work there not later than Saturday.

The Epworth league of St. Paul's M. E. church will give an ice cream social on the church lawn this evening.

CONFERENCE OF TITHERS.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 30.—A conference of tithers is to be held at Winona Lake, August 12, 13 and 14. This conference is called by the following ministers and laymen:
 Thomas Kane, Chicago; S. R. Harrison, Pittsburgh; William G. Roberts,
 Cincinnati; E. A. K. Hackett, Fort
 Wayne; Rev. R. V. Hunter, Buffalo;
 Rev. Freeley Rohrer, Marion, Ind.;
 Rev. Frank O. Ballard, Indianapolis.
 While this is called a tithers' conference, everybody is invited. The program will include men and women from the different denominations and from all parts of the country. Besides those in the call, who will also be speakers, there will be such men present as Rev. Dr. Moorehead, of the United Presbyterian church; Judge J. P. Hobson, of Kentucky, and Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, of New York.

This will unquestionably be the greatest gathering of the sort ever held in this country. It is desired that many practical results may flow from the conference. To this end representatives from each denomination will give statistics as to the people who have adopted this system and also of the congregations that have adopted it either in whole or in part. Additional testimonies are desired for use at the conference. These will be published in tabulated form giving the most valuable statistics that have ever been given on the subject. There has been much discussion regarding this most important movement, but the Winona conference wants facts.

BISHOP GETS AN EAGLE.

Bishop Alerting has received a handsome present from Rev. Father Benedict, of near Whiting, in the shape of a handsomely mounted specimen of an American eagle, measuring eight feet from tip to tip.
 While out hunting Father Benedict was attacked by the bird and he succeeded in capturing it after a hard struggle, in which he was badly clawed and pecked. Father Benedict turned the bird loose in his homcoop, having no other place to put it, and it killed off his entire stock of poultry.
 The bird was shot a few days later and Father Benedict had it mounted and presented it to the bishop.

JOINTING CAUSED HEMORRHAGE

Chris. Waters, a young farmer living near Academie, was stricken with a hemorrhage yesterday afternoon and for a time it was thought he would not recover. Waters was riding on a binder and when stooping over to adjust some of the machinery, blood gushed from his mouth and nose, and in the fainting spell which followed he narrowly escaped being thrown in front of the knives of the machine.
 Waters was carried home and Dr.
 J. D. Chambers was called from this city to attend him. It is thought the hemorrhage was caused by the joint-ing of the binder. Young Waters comes of a rather unfortunate family, his father, Stephen Waters, having been killed on Wells street some years ago, falling from his wagon and breaking his neck.

DANIEL W. KANE MARRIED.

The Bloomington, Ill., Bulletin has the following account of the marriage of Miss Margaret Frances O'Neill, of that city, and Daniel William Kane, of Indianapolis, son of James
 M. Kane, of Fort Wayne:

"This morning at 7:00, at the cathedral in Indianapolis, occurred the marriage of Miss Margaret Frances O'Neill, of this city, to Daniel William Kane, of Indianapolis.
 High mass was celebrated by Rev.
 Father Clemmons, an intimate friend of the groom. The attendants were Miss Grace O'Neill, sister of the bride, and George Walsh. The bride was attired in white Paris muslin and carried American beauty roses.
 The bride is a vivacious young lady, of sunny disposition and very attractive. She is the daughter of Mrs.
 Mary O'Neill, of 904 North Center street, and one of Bloomington's most prominent families. Mr. Kane is traveling salesman for Kipp Bros., one of the largest wholesale houses in Indianapolis. He is the son of James M. Kane, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and a highly respected citizen. The bridal party left on a trip to the lakes. They will be at home to friends in Bloomington after August 15. Their many friends wish them much success in their new voyage.
 Mrs. O'Neill, mother of the bride, and son Owen, of St. Louis, attended the wedding.

We have the Illinois, the finest battleship of the American navy, on the other side of the water to show off and the Machias, a dingy sort of gunboat, down at Cape Haytien, where a good stout warship just at present seems to be somewhat needed. A decent display of force in the neighborhood of Hayti might have a salutary effect.

A puma, or mountain lion, escaped from its cage at Bronx, one of the Long Island annexes of Greater New York, and is wandering around loose and unprotected. Such an ignorant, unsophisticated puma ought to know that on that same island the greatest of all the mighty hunters has his abode. Long Island is not small, but it is not large enough for a mountain lion and Teddy, the lion-hunter.

The new Balfour government has received a sudden and wholly unexpected jolt, and there is considerable dismay in ministerial circles of Great Britain. The first bye election since the new ministry took the reins has resulted in the return of a liberal. North Leeds elects him by a majority that is a complete turnover. Of course this is the cause of immense disturbance of mind to the government, for it may be a forecast of a general disaffection of British sentiment from the party in power. The Boer war is ended, but the burdens it imposed remain, and the feelings which national sentiment have kept suppressed may now be given expression without any accompanying tarnt of disloyalty to a ministry prosecuting a war. There has been a revival of liberal activity and it may be that the Balfour ministry, which entered office with promise of a long and uninterrupted regime, will be but short-lived after all.

At last night's meeting of the city council that body finally acquitted itself of the task of revising the traction franchise and returned it to the board of works in such form as will command approval of the council when the matter comes back in the shape of a signed contract. YOUNG BARON WAS A FRAUD

VON MANTEUFFEL CAME TO GRIEF IN NEW YORK.

Skillful Swindler Who Cut a Wide Swath Tells of a Recent Visit to Fort Wayne.

Little more than a week ago there drifted into Fort Wayne a young German, polished of manner and faultlessly attired, who represented himself to be a son of General Baron Von Manteuffel, one of the most famous of modern German soldiers. His conversation gave evidence of culture and fine education, and he was kindly received by a number of Fort Wayne citizens, in once case being entertained at dinner. To another he shyly admitted that he was in financial embarrassment and secured a temporary loan of small amount, promising a remittance as soon as he reached New York.

The young man was a pleasing conversationalist, well versed in mechanics, and altogether made a most favorable impression here. But the alleged baron turns out to be a fraud of the most pronounced type, and a telegram from New York to the Chicago Chronicle today contains some surprises for the acquaintances the young fellow made in Fort Wayne. The story reads as follows:

"I probably shall do more work in the next six months than I have for two years past," said one of the prisoners who landed on Blackwell's island today, "but the exercise may do me good. When I come out, I think, I will have to start at something else or try to make an honest living."

HAD TRIED WORK.

"But I don't know. I tried that for four years and my family nearly starved, and after I found how easy it was to make a good living without work I didn't want to go back to it."

The prisoner was Hermann Wilhelm Truebner, whose beautifully engraved cards inscribed "Baron Von Manteuffel" and "Professor Wilhelm Von Humboldt" gained him audiences, hospitality, sympathy and cash gifts from such prominent persons as J. Pierpont Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, Mrs. Howard Gould, H. O. Havemeyer, William C. Whitney, Clarence H. Mackay, Jacob H. Schiff, Mrs. Grace Dodge, Seth Low and ex-Mayor Edward Cooper.

He operated in Chicago for a month last spring, where he passed himself off as a nephew of Von Humboldt, the famous scientist. He thought it best to leave when one of the German-American societies pressed its investigations too closely.

"I had to leave Chicago over the back fence," said Truebner with a smile.

"I had $7 left, and I walked to South Chicago and took a train to Fort Wayne to escape arrest."

"At Fort Wayne I met a millionaire who controlled the trolley railroads and the natural gas company and I represented myself as a gas engineer with a fine position in New York, but an empty pocketbook owing to my infatuation for a woman."

FEASTED IN FORT WAYNE.

"The old German laughed and said he was young once himself and took me to his house, where we feasted and drank in the old German fashion. I slept there all night. The next day he bought me a ticket on the Pennsylvania limited to New York and gave me the remainder of a $50 bill. The ticket cost $22.92."

Truebner said that while he was not really the son of General Baron Von Manteuffel, who was dictator of Alsace-Lorraine at the close of the Franco-Prussian war, the name really was his own and he had some claim to the title of baron. He did not insist on this point strongly,

THE NEW WOMAN.

Miss Alice Cohn, writes from 474 Eleventh Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., as follows:

"Having had poor health for a great many months and now having it restored makes me feel very grateful to Peruna. I suffered a great deal during my monthly periods, had severe pains, and was generally depressed, but can truthfully say that a few bottles of Peruna has removed all pain and made a new woman of me.—MISS ALICE COHN.

The coming of what is known as the "new woman" in our country is not greeted by everyone as if she were a great blessing. But there is another new woman whom everybody is glad to see. Every day some invalid woman is exclaiming, "I have been made a new woman by Dr. Hartman's home treatment." It is only necessary to send name, address, symptoms, duration of sickness and treatment already received to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O., and directions for one month's treatment will be promptly forwarded. The medicines can be obtained at the nearest drug store.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

MOB WANTED TO LYNCH HIM

A LAFORTE COUNTY MAN SUSPECTED OF WIFE MURDER.

Her Disappearance Inflames Neighbors and Man's Removal Became Necessary.

Laforte, Ind., July 30.—The town of Westville, twelve miles southwest of here, is in the throes of excitement over the supposed murder of Mrs. William Tolton by her husband, and the attempt made by a mob to hang the man for his alleged crime. The stand taken by the officers and the cool-headedness of a few citizens is all that saved Tolton from being strung up.

Because of alleged previous remarks that he would dispose of his wife, the neighbors of Tolton Monday morning mistrusted that something was wrong when she failed to make her usual appearance around the house. Inquiries of Tolton as to his wife's whereabouts were met with evasive answers. The news spread that Mrs. Tolton was missing and soon the excitement was so intense that John Herold, a merchant of the town, made affidavit before Justice Brewer that Tolton had murdered his wife. Marshal Herman Warnke arrested Tolton, who made no effort to escape, and he was arraigned before a justice. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, and the case was postponed until evening, so that further evidence could be procured, Tolton in the meantime being given his freedom on his own recognizance.

At the preliminary hearing in the evening Tolton, when pressed for information as to his wife's whereabouts, claimed that he had sent her to Chicago on the 5 o'clock morning Wabash train for the purpose of entering a hospital, but he was unable to tell what hospital. Investigation showed that no one had seen her depart and as the station is closed at night she did not buy a ticket in Westville, if she departed on the train. Later on Tolton said his wife had gone to her sister's home in Chicago, but he could not tell the woman's name nor give her address.

The excitement in the crowd continued to grow until about 11 o'clock Monday night, when the ring leaders of the mob procured a rope and were about to get Tolton to string him up in order to make him tell what he had done with his wife when Marshal Warnke and some aids warned them that any show of violence would be met with armed resistance, and any attempt to take away Tolton would mean the officers opening fire on the mob. Sheriff Small was appealed to for assistance and Deputy Wells and an assistant at once left for the scene. They brought Tolton to this city early yesterday morning. He is now in the county jail. He protests his innocence. Sheriff Small is endeavoring to unravel the mystery.

TRIES THEORY ON INDIAN.

Cambridge, Mass., July 30.—Abraham Flynn, LL. D., of Oakland, Pa., who is connected with Harvard college and is a deep student of psychology, has returned from Niagara Falls, where he secured an "Indian boy for the purpose of making mental experiments. Prof. Flynn long has been convinced that by a series of mental impressions the most indolent, uneducated person may be transformed into an intelligent, cultivated citizen and his discoveries in this line have reached the stage where he believes they can be made easily practicable. He intends to give the boy a special course of treatment. It will be an entirely new departure in educational lines, simpler than the present methods, and in some respects to the savage what the kindergarten is to white infants.

DEATH FOLLOWS DEBAUCH.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 30.—Firemen early today found one man dead and another dying in the Stoner Wall Paper company's building in South Des Moines, while trying to put out a fire which destroyed $50,000 worth of property. The dead man's name is David Watt, night watchman for the Stoner Wall Paper company. The dying man's name is I. P. Miller, night guard for the Long Shore mill. It is believed that the two men secured a quantity of liquor; repaired to the office of the wall paper company and after drinking the liquor went to sleep. In some manner the building was set on fire and before the firemen could reach the factory the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to save much of the stock and machinery.

Oswald Stahn has leased the store building at 1010 Calhoun street and will shortly remove his stock from the basement of the Y. M. C. A. building to the new location.

GORGEOUS DISPLAY FOR THE FALL FESTIVAL.

Twelve Electric Arches Will Adorn Calhoun Street—Plans for Each Day.

Elaborate electrical illuminations are planned for the fall festival, to be held in Fort Wayne the week beginning August 25. The committee in charge of this branch of the entertainment held a meeting last evening and decided upon the plan of the display.

Calhoun street is to be a blaze of light from Washington street to the base ball park, and in that space an even dozen large electric arches will overlook the fanciful designs wrought in electric lights along the way. Manager Sargent, who is directing the advance preparations, says the display will fully equal that of the famous fall festival at Cincinnati.

The general plan as outlined for the week is as follows: Monday is merchants' and manufacturers' day, and it will be inaugurated by a big industrial parade. Tuesday is set apart for the children, and all under 12 years of age will have free access to the attractions between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock. Wednesday is farmers' day, and prizes will be given for the most meritorious exhibit of farm products. Thursday is Fort Wayne day, and a number of special street attractions will mark this event. Friday is Indiana day, and invitations will be sent to Governor Durbin and members of his staff to be present. Saturday is devoted to labor day, and it will have an appropriate special program.

Early next week a big force of men will begin posting the advertising for the festival, and more than 18,000 sheets of paper will herald the coming of the carnival.

CONFESSES SHORTAGE.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, July 30.—C. W. Perkins, cashier in the district office of the Northwestern Life Insurance company, has confessed to a large shortage in his accounts, probably $25,000, and has turned over his fine residence and other valuable property to cover the deficit. Perkins, who has stood high in business circles for years, began his speculations several years ago. As he had the entire handling of the funds of the office, the truth was not discovered until disappointments and losses compelled him to make a statement to Agent Munger. Little is known outside as to the character of the speculations in which he has engaged, but it is said that he sunk a large sum of money in an olive plantation in Arizona, although he has had a big sale on olive oil. Perkins says he began to use the funds of the company when he was put in a position where he had to support three families and that he expected to realize on his ventures soon and replace the money he had used. Agent Munger is now in Milwaukee conferring with the general officials of the company. It is said that both Munger and the company will be losers.

HAS A CHANGE OF HEART.

Michigan City, Ind., July 30.—Much surprise was caused in this city yesterday when it became known that Miss Lillie Mattis, of Chicago, had filed suit in the superior court against Prof. Calvin Ewing, proprietor of the Michigan City business college, for $5,000 for breach of promise, alleging that Ewing had asked her to marry him, and that she had consented; that this was in June of 1900, and that although Miss Mattis had made all preparations, the professor had failed to carry out his promises. Miss Mattis was in the city yesterday, and seeking out Prof. Ewing, notified him of her intention to file suit unless he changed his mind. The interview ended unsatisfactorily, but last evening Ewing experienced a change of heart and it is announced that the wedding will take place today. Prof. Ewing formerly conducted a school at Evansville, where he met Miss Mattis. Prof. Ewing and his wife will make their home in this city.

LOCAL LINES.

Rev. J. K. Walts left last night for Bay View, Mich., to attend the assembly.

There will be a very important meeting of the ladies of Trinity M. E. church at the church tomorrow at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Josephine Skilling, of Philadelphia, niece of Mrs. McOscar, went to Garrett today, accompanied by Miss Mary Skilling, whose guest she will be for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. William McKinnie and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Trentman will leave this evening for Petoskey, where they will spend a portion of the summer.

NOT HELD FOR MURDER.

Kokomo, Ind., July 30.—At her preliminary trial before Mayor Armstrong yesterday Mrs. Myrtle Smith was held not guilty of murder in the killing of her stepfather, Albert Milton, whom she shot on July 2, and whose death resulted last week. The only eyewitness besides the accused was her mother, Mrs. Milton, and the latter sustained her daughter's plea of self-defense. The friends of the dead man are dissatisfied with the finding of the mayor and will present the case to the grand jury. Milton maintained to the last that the shooting was unprovoked.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. my8-cod-w

Miss Jessie Cameron and Miss Ella Jones, graduate nurses from Hope hospital, will leave this week for their homes in Canada, to remain several months.

MADE OFF WITH THE MONEY

YOUNG ITALIAN CLAIMS CASH

FOUND BY ANOTHER.

Fifteen Dollars Lost by Mrs. Armour

Picked Up by Aged Man and Seized by a Stranger.

Yesterday Mrs. Anne Armour, while passing from the postoffice to her boarding place at the Crescent hotel, lost a roll containing $15 in bills, which loss she promptly reported, and also inserted an advertisement in The Sentinel.

Carl Wehnert, an elderly German citizen living on Spy Run avenue, saw the advertisement and reported to the police that he had found the money and related then how he came to become separated from it. He said he was passing along Berry street, opposite the Tri-State building, when he saw something on the sidewalk which he picked up. He was examining it and was far enough along in his examination to know that it was money, and consisted of a five and a ten-dollar bill.

While he was looking at it a young fellow ran up to him, snatched the roll from his hands and said that it was his—that he had just dropped it. Mr. Wehnert protested and said that the proper place to deposit the money would be at the police station—that he did not know who it belonged to. The young fellow, however, insisting that it was his and went away with it.

The police upon investigation learned that the claimant is a young Italian, who comes here occasionally is a traveling man of some kind and that he stops at the Hedekin house. He was accosted and produced some money, which contained several two-dollar bills, and declared that was the money he had lost and that it was the identical money he had received from Wehnert. Wehnert says it was not.

It was later learned that the young Italian, whose name the police did not take the trouble to learn, had left a sealed envelope with the landlady at the Hedekin house and the police started out to get the envelope and the fellow if possible.

Mrs. Armour, the woman who lost the money, is boarding at the Crescent hotel, where her husband is lying at the point of death and is not expected to survive the day. She had received the money only a day or two ago and is sorely distressed over its loss, which only augments her other and greater misfortune.

WILL DOUBLE ITS CAPACITY

UNION MANUFACTURING COMPANY IS PROSPERING.

Leases Additional Room and Will Install Much Machinery—New Concern Grows Rapidly.

The Union Manufacturing company, whose factory is on Maiden Lane, is preparing to double its present capacity, and within a few weeks will install a vast amount of new machinery.

The company is one of the newer manufacturing enterprises of the city, but it is showing a phenomenal growth. The company is made up of Messrs. Julius Tonne, W. B. Phillips, W. F. Ranke and C. A. Singrey, and is engaged in the manufacture of working suits and overalls of special design.

The factory, at present employing more than fifty people, has always been a busy place, but the company has been unable to meet the demand for its goods. It has now leased an additional room adjoining its present plant, and has made a purchase of machinery that will double its present capacity. Within five weeks the new equipment will probably be in operation, with a hundred employees.

IN RIOTOUS MOOD

PENNSYLVANIA STRIKERS ARE

NON-UNION MEN ASSAULTED

HUNDREDS ARE ABROAD AND

BIG MOB IN MIDNIGHT MARCH

PRESIDENT MITCHELL WILL TRY CALM STRIKERS.

Shamokin, Pa., July 30.—Hundreds of strikers lined the roads leading to different collieries today and prevented the non-union men from going to work. John Shipman and son, non-union men, were brutally beaten. Strike leaders are busily engaged in trying to calm the strikers, who have grown more restless. President Mitchell will visit here as soon as possible to address the men in an endeavor to keep them from breaking the law and also to urge them to remain away from the mines.

THE EXODUS CONTINUES.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 30.—The departure of miners from the anthracite region to the bituminous fields continues. About thirty men left today for Indiana. The officials of the United Mine Workers find they cannot provide places for all the applicants who want to leave and it causes dissatisfaction among the strikers. Fully 100 idle miners were gathered around President Mitchell's headquarters today and they all wanted to go west. The men were told that as soon as work was found for them they could make the journey.

A mob gathered at Duryea again today, expecting that an attempt would be made to start up the washery. Sheriff Jacobs sent a number of deputies to the scene, but their services were not needed as no effort was made to resume work.

STRIKERS DEMONSTRATIVE.

Shenandoah, Pa., July 30. The attitude of the striking mine workers here is daily becoming more demonstrative. All last night a mob of 1,000 men and boys were on the march. They first visited the West Shenandoah colliery and drove the non-union workmen from the engines, pumps and five rooms. The workmen were compelled to seek refuge in the camp of the coal and iron police.

The strikers assailed the breaker with stones, doing considerable damage to window glass.

From the West Shenandoah mines the mob proceeded to the Indian Ridge colliery, where they were confronted by a body of special police, whose presence prevented violence.

Squads of strikers picketed the approaches to several mines where pumping is in progress and urged the men employed to quit work. Deputy Sheriff Coombs, Union Organizer Gintley and a posse of deputy sheriffs are here endeavoring to maintain order.

GOVERNMENT IS REPULSED.

Cape Haytian, Hayti, July 30.—General Albert Salnave, commanding an army in support of Mr. Firmin's candidacy for the presidency, is camped, with a large body of troops, about three miles from this place. General Nord, who went out to give battle to General Salnave was defeated and his army retreated in panic to Cape Haytian. The volunteers have abandoned their posts.

Confidence has been restored among the foreign residents of the city, thanks to the energetic measures taken by Commander McGree, of the United States gun boat Machias, and United States Consul Livingston, to guarantee them protection in case of an attack on the city.

THREE YOUNG LADIES DROWN.

Monticello, Minn., July 30.—Three young women, Miss Mabel Wells, of this place, and Eva Saker and Laura T. Tye, of Fairbault, were drowned in Lake Jefferson last evening. Their boat capsized during a storm. Professors Bingham and Hanson, of Minneapolis, were of the party, but could not save their companions.

BURIED IN A CAVE-IN.

A number of boys were playing in the gravel pits in White's addition yesterday afternoon, when one of them, John Lark, living on Fletcher avenue, stumbled and fell into one of the pits. As he did so a portion of the tank caved in, completely burying him. The lad's companions fortunately had sufficient presence of mind enough to dig him out, and although nearly suffocated, he soon came to. In the fall the boy's right collar bone was broken and he received other injuries. Dr. J. W. McCausland reduced the fracture.

ENGINE OF MAIL TRAIN NO. 11
JUMPS THE TRACK.

Engineer Killed and Fireman and Mail Clerks Hurt—Engine Went 250 Feet Down Embankment.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 30.—The engine of the westbound fast mail No. 11 on the Pennsylvania railroad jumped the track near Padesaddle about 11:30 o'clock today and plunged over a 250-foot embankment, taking with it the mail cars. One man was killed and five injured. The dead:

John Kennerling, engineer, aged 51, of Altoona, Pa.

Injured:

S. M. Kinsley, fireman, 24, Altoona, Pa.; will die.

J. T. McGinnis, brakeman, Harrisburg, slightly injured.

J. S. Wills, mail clerk, Harrisburg, slightly injured.

H. H. Wert, mail clerk, Harrisburg, not dangerous.

J. R. Maurer, mail clerk, Harrisburg, slightly injured.

The train was made up entirely of mail cars and was fifty-five minutes late. It was running at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred. All the cars were wrecked.

The cause of the accident is not yet known. A relief train has been sent from Pittsburg to bring the mail here.

BALL PLAYERS IN SMASH-UP.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 30.—The wagon containing the Iliac State League ball team on its way to the ball grounds was struck by an Erie passenger train at a crossing in Lestershire this afternoon. The driver, a colored man, was instantly killed, and a young man named Signor, of this city, had one leg broken. Fitcher Hess, of the Iliac team, was injured, but the other players jumped in time to save themselves. L. W. Hess, of Nanticoke, father of Fitcher Hess, was internally injured and is not expected to live. Manager Howard Earl, of the Iliac team, was internally injured, as was also Fitcher Hess. Both are seriously hurt.

AGED VICTIM OF AN ASSAULT.

South Bend, Ind., July 30.—Mrs. Joseph Bonowick, a widow, aged 63 years, while returning to her home shortly after 11 o'clock Monday night, was hailed by a young man in a buggy and asked if she did not want him to take her home in his carriage. He spoke in Polish, and Mrs. Bonowick accepted his offer. He drove through the city, past the woman's home, threatening her life if she made an outcry. In the dense woods south of the city he threw her from the buggy, and after assaulting her, took her money and medicine and disappeared, leaving her about two miles from her home. Although severely injured she managed to drag herself to the residence of John Shearer, in the vicinity. She reached the house about 1 o'clock, but was too exhausted to awaken the family, and was obliged to pass the night in a stupor on the porch. She is in a critical condition. Her assailant has not been apprehended.

WHITE HOUSE STRIKE ENDS.

Washington, July 30.—The differences between the striking electricians and the New York contractors having in charge the electrical work at the white house have been satisfactorily adjusted, and the men have returned to work.

Mrs. Caroline Bender, of 505 East Washington street, has returned home after a three weeks' visit to Potosky.

FORMED AT LIMA

BIG CONSTRUCTION COMPANY ORGANIZED TUESDAY.

WILL BUILD FLEMING LINE

S. B. FLEMING AND H. C. PAUL ARE STOCKHOLDERS.

CAPITALIZED AT $600,000

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN FORT
WAYNE INTERURBAN PLAN.

The Ohio and Indiana Construction company, which has for its object the construction of the Fleming interurban line between Fort Wayne and New Haven, was organized at a meeting held in Lima, Ohio, on Tuesday.

The construction company will be incorporated under the laws of Indiana with a capital stock of $600,000, all of which is held by five well-known business men—L. J. Keeley and J. A. VanDyke, of Lima, S. T. Murdock, of Lafayette, Henry C. Paul and Stephen B. Fleming, of Fort Wayne.

While little stir has been made, preparations for the building of the Fort Wayne and New Haven line, a franchise for which was recently granted the S. B. Fleming company, have been going steadily forward. Careless details have to be attended to in the development of a work of this magnitude, and there is now evidence that within a short time all preparations will have been completed, and the actual work of construction will begin.

The company formed Tuesday has no connection with the S. B. Fleming company save in a business way—that it will attend to the building of the road. The incorporation of the S. B. Fleming company, which is to own and operate the line, will be consummated within a few days. No additional plans of the company, regarding probable extensions to the east from New Haven have been made public.

HELD FOR INTENT TO KILL

ONE OF THE COLORED RIOTERS ARRESTED.

Jailed for Want of Bond—Bill Hochstetter and May Baughman Fed the Animals—Police News.

Judge Dreihelbiss had quite a miscellaneous crowd to deal with this morning and offenses of more or less gravity were found on his calendar. Ellis Smith, colored, was most severely dealt with. Smith was arrested last evening on Grand street and is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. He was one of the three colored men implicated in the shooting affair might before last, in which William Collins was shot in the leg by "Shirley" Milan, who is still at large. Smith, it is said, started the racket and proceeded to do some carving with his razor. Collins, who was a third and innocent party to the affair, got mixed up and stopped "Shirley's" bullets. Smith pleaded not guilty to the charge, said he wanted a lawyer and asked for a continuance. The case was set for August 7 and the prisoner was placed under bond of $2,000. Failing to secure a bondsman, he was sent to jail.

A STRENUOUS TIME.

Till Hochstetter and May Baughman, or Bookman, were out for a high old time last night, and they had it. About 11 o'clock they raised more excitement along Columbia street and the territory north of the city than has been provoked there in a long time. Murder and riot looked like small change compared to what this worthy pair stirred up. They were in a buggy, and as they drove through the streets the woman screamed at the top of her voice, calling for police and help, while the gentle William insisted in stentorian tones that he would kill her this time, sure. Whether it was all a joke at the time does not appear, but, anyway, they led the police a merry chase. The wagon went north on Clinton street, and Sergeant Harkender took a Lakeside car and finally gave up the hunt near the feeble minded institute. All the down town officers were on the lookout, and finally after midnight Officer Strodel ambled up to the station with the dubious pair in tow. They were as affectionate as turtle doves, as drunk as owls and as indignant as vultures. They were locked up and this morning both pleaded not guilty to being drunk and wanted an opportunity to get attorneys. Their cases were continued until tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock and they were placed under $100 bond each, failing to give which both went below.

PUNISHED FOR THEFT.

Earl McMannery, whose arrest was noted yesterday, was charged with vagrancy and was sent over for 10 days. He was arrested for stealing a pair of driving lines from M. Baites & Co., but the charge of vagrancy was placed against him in order to give the officers an opportunity to make inquiries concerning him. He claims his home to be at Toledo, but tells many conflicting stories. He is about 17 years of age and there is a suspicion that he may be an escaped reform school lad. Mr. Baites identified and recovered his lines this morning.

Eddie Lassus, a young man out on parole from the Indiana reform school at Plainfield, was picked up yesterday for carrying concealed weapons. The officers at Plainfield were notified and the young man was held pending the arrival of a custodian who will conduct the boy back to his old quarters.

Frank Sweeney pleaded not guilty to a charge of vagrancy, but he went over for 10 days just the same. He has been out of jail only a few days, having been sent over June 25 for train climbing. He is supposed to be so crooked that he has to sleep in a tub. He was yesterday found peddling cheap jewelry and is supposed to be one of a gang of three "phony" ring men who have been operating quietly for about a week.

E. H. Jones, who is an Abbot township farmer owing a stand on the city market, reported yesterday that someone left a purse containing a small sum of money on his stand yesterday. He deposited the purse at the police station, where the owner can get it.

POLICE NOTES.

A bunch of keys, evidently of considerable value to the owner, can be identified at the superintendent of police's office.

A horse and buggy is reported missing from the Martin livery barn and it is a question whether the renter forgot to bring the rig back or whether it was stolen. The outfit is gone anyway and is unaccounted for at the stable and the police have been asked to assist in locating it.

Officer White picked up a stray mare last night and stabled her at Weick's barn. Blanche Kniffle, of 1604 West Main street, reports the loss of a purse containing a small sum of money.

E. G. Kampe, of 801 West Jefferson street, reports that someone stole a jardiner and some plants from his yard. The police have an idea that this theft was committed by the same party who carried away a rattan chair from the front porch of Charles Falk's residence on Saturday. The officers have a clue and are encouraged to the belief that the thief is a woman kleptomaniac known to the department.

NEW PAPER TRUST PLANNED

FORT WAYNE STOCKHOLDERS ARE INVITED IN.

Would Embrace Rope and Bag Papers—Meeting Was Held at Cleveland Yesterday.

Following close upon the absorption of the leading strawboard mills of the country into a gigantic corporation, comes a plan for the consolidation of mills producing another class of paper goods—the rope papers and the paper bag manufacturers.

Many Fort Wayne men were interested in the first organization and the stockholders of the Wayne paper mill at Hartford City, most of whom reside in Fort Wayne, have been invited into the new organization. The Wayne company was not included in the recent merger.

No decision has yet been reached, for the reason that plans for the new combine have not been fully perfected. A meeting was held at Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday to talk over the matter, and A. B. Trentman, of this city, representing the Wayne Paper company, was in attendance. Another meeting is to be held in New York in September, when it is believed plans for the incorporation of the new company will have been perfected.

BOTH RETURN HOME.

Mrs. Robinson and Miss Wells, who narrowly escaped drowning at Robison park Sunday afternoon, have both returned to their homes at Hartford City. Miss Wells left last evening at 4:15 o'clock and Mrs. Robinson was a passenger on the train shortly before noon today.

SHE SLEPT AWAY

MRS. HARVEY YARYAN ENDS
LIFE WITH CHLOROFORM.

HAD INHALED DEADLY FUMES

WAS FOUND LIFELESS UPON BED AT NOON TODAY.

WOMAN WAS LAST SEEN ALIVE
ABOUT 9 O'CLOCK.

The lifeless body of Mrs. Allie Yaryan, 36 years of age, was found lying upon the bed in her rooms at the Whiteman boarding house, 720 Barr street, shortly after noon today. Her face was buried in the pillow, and beside the body lay a two-ounce bottle, uncorked, containing chloroform. This instantly explained the cause of death, but the exact circumstances surrounding it may never be known.

The dead woman was the wife of Harvey Yaryan, a woodworker employed at the City Carriage works, and the horrifying discovery was made by the husband as he returned to the house for the noonday meal.

The room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Yaryan was the front room upon the ground floor, and on reaching the house today Mr. Yaryan found both front and rear doors to the apartment locked. In some alarm he forced an entrance through a window at the side of the house.

Inside the room the fumes of the chloroform were stifling. Beside his wife upon the bed he noticed the bottle of chloroform and a book which she had evidently been reading. Efforts to arouse the woman failed and Mr. Yaryan called to other residents of the house. Dr. Harriet Macbeth was also summoned, but the attempt to resuscitate the woman were futile. It is believed death had ensued at least an hour before.

LAST SEEN AT 9 O'CLOCK.

Conner Barnett was called and he at once began work upon the case. The bottle found beside the body originally contained two ounces of chloroform, but at least two-thirds of the drug was missing. Mrs. S. D. Whiteman, wife of the proprietor of the boarding house, which is the old White homestead, was the last person to see Mrs. Yaryan alive.

The latter arose this morning as usual, made a visit to the public library to exchange a book she had been reading, then ordered some groceries for Mrs. Whiteman and returned to the house at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Whiteman had a brief conversation with her at that time, but the woman was in her usual spirits, and there was no indication in her manner of contemplated suicide. She entered her room and locked the door. Three hours later the lifeless body was found.

The family came to Fort Wayne three years ago from Crawfordsville, and consisted of the husband, wife and one son, Herbert, who is employed at the Stafford printing house. For a short time it is said Mrs. Yaryan was employed as a demonstrator of food products at several grocery stores in the city.

There is a possibility her death may have been accidental, for it is said that members of the family have known for some time that Mrs. Yaryan was in the habit of occasionally using some drug to induce sleep, but she repeatedly refused to tell the nature of the medicine. Her death under the circumstances today might tend to support the theory that the narcotic used was chloroform, and that so great a quantity of the drug was unintentionally used today that fatal consequences ensued.

REJECTED AMENDMENT.

At a meeting of the Wabash city council last evening the amendment to the franchise of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern allowing it to make some changes in its route, was defeated. Owing to the failure of the Wabash council to grant the amendment the interurban will ignore the franchise awarded it and will build its tracks to a point near the Big Four depot. Manager Nelson emphatically states that his road is not endeavoring to antagonize the city of Wabash, but the management does not think it would be beneficial to either of the parties if the old franchise were accepted as drafted.

DR. H. G. MERZ HOME.

Dr. Henry G. Merz, who has been spending the past month in Denver for rest and recuperation, has returned to the city and resumed his practice. Dr. Merz says the trip was a most delightful one and his health is much improved.

"BUD" CARSON HOME.

"Bud" Carson, son of Kit Carson, arrived home this morning from New York, where he was mustered out a week ago. Carson was a member of company G, of the famous "Fighting Ninth," and saw service in the Philippine islands and China. He intends settling down here and going into business.

A NEW AND POWERFUL EXPLOSIVE IS A SUCCESS.

Give Uncle Sam a Big Hunch on Other Powers.

New York, July 30.—A new time fuse, for use on armor-piercing shells loaded with a recently discovered secret explosive of great power, has been invented by war department ordnance experts and will, according to a New York American dispatch from Washington, revolutionize foreign warship building.

Tests of the explosive and fuse have been made, and so long as the United States government holds the secret foreign battleships either must double their steel walls or be as wooden frigates against the new destroyer.

General Crozier, chief of ordnance, is quoted as having said that a test of the new explosive has been conducted with eminent success at the Sandy Hook proving grounds, that the shell carried its contents through the thickest armor, and that the fuse lived long enough to have exploded on the interior of a ship of war. The greatest penetration secured was that of a shell fired from a twelve-inch gun. It pierced fourteen-inch Krupp armor before detonation. The heaviest shield now in use is said to be only twelve inches thick.

JAMES H. LAKE DEAD.

Rome City, Ind., July 30.—(Special.)—James H. Lake, for many years a prominent farmer near this place, died at 3:20 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the age of 69 years. Mr. Lake's illness had been an extended one. He had been a resident of Noble county for about fifty years and was widely and favorably known. Surviving are the widow and an only child—Mrs. W. E. Dempy, of Fort Wayne. The funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the residence.

LOCAL LINES.

Miss Effie Ellenwood is visiting friends in Flint, Mich.

Mrs. Rouch, of Taylor street, is visiting friends in Columbia City.

Frank Gruber and family are spending a few weeks at Rome City.

Miss Dibble has gone to Decatur to visit her parents and will then go east to spend a month.

Mrs. Samuel Dafforn, living in Pleasant township, lost a pocketbook yesterday containing $130.

Miss Ethel Moorman returns this evening from Detroit, where she has been spending several weeks.

The Newsboys' union field day will be at the Driving park instead of Robison park, Friday, as announced.

Miss Clara DeWald has returned from Logansport, where she has been the guest of her sister for several weeks.

Mrs. L. B. Davis was called to Kalamazoo, Mich., yesterday on account of the illness of her father, who was bitten by a rattlesnake yesterday. The patient was in a critical condition for a time, but he is now out of danger.

The Misses Emily Williams and her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Williams, of Pittsburg, Pa., and the Misses Eva Bowser, Emily Mick, Myrtle Long and Mae Williams will go to Winona on Saturday, where they will be guests for two weeks at the Bowser cottage.

Word was received here this morning of the death of Mrs. Henry Dawkins, wife of a prominent farmer living east of New Haven. Mrs. Dawkins was 40 years old, and her death was due to consumption, from which she suffered for a number of years. She leaves two daughters by a former marriage, who reside in Dayton, and one daughter by her second husband. She has several relatives living in Fort Wayne.

DENY TRUST TALE

WORLD-WIDE OIL COMBINE IS CALLED A MYTH.

WHAT STANDARD OIL MEN SAY

AND OTHERS UNITED.

RULE WORLD'S OIL SUPPLY

A LONDON JOURNAL LAUNCHES
THE STORY.

New York, July 30.—Regarding the cable report that the Standard Oil company has entered or will enter into an agreement with the Rothschilds and Nobel interests to control the world's oil production, M. P. Elliott, the attorney of the Standard Oil company, today made the following statement:

"I am authorized to say that the story has absolutely no foundation in fact. It is false from beginning to end. Furthermore, the Standard Oil company has at no time considered a plan of this kind, and at no time has that company entered into negotiations about this matter."

ANOTHER DENIAL.

London, July 30.—James MacDonald, general representative of the Standard Oil company and manager of the Anglo-American Oil company, denies the story printed in the Daily Mail to the effect that the oil interests of Rockefeller, Rothschilds and Nobel have entered into a working agreement. Mr. MacDonald said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"Nothing of the sort has been accomplished or contemplated. The rumor must have sprung from the fact that the Shell Trading company, which handles much Russian product in the east, was negotiating in the direction of securing the export trade of the whole Russian output. There had been some slight negotiation towards taking over the Shell business by the Standard Oil company, but this was without result. It is improbable that the Standard Oil company will depart from its policy of handling the American product only, so long as that remains sufficient to supply the trade."

DETAILS OF THE REPORT.

London, July 30.—The greatest trust the world has yet seen, a combination which will have absolute control of the trade of Europe, America and Asia, sprang into being today when a semi-official announcement was made of the merger of the interests of Rockefeller, Rothschild and Nobel. This combine has unquestioned proprietorship of the great oil fields in the United States, in Russia and in Siberia, and can dictate to the world the terms it needs for its commodity.

The Daily Mail, which has hinted before that negotiations were proceeding in Moscow, in its issue of this morning states unequivocally that the agreement has been reached and that "thus, without any publicity, the greatest trust that the world has ever seen has sprung into being."

CZAR FORCED TO THE WALL.

This combination has also been forecast in messages from Baboum, and it has more clearly shown in the offers made to Russian oil exporters by representatives of the Nobel and Rothschilds' interests for the absorption of the whole of their output.

The exporters have been forbidden to sell through the agencies of these interests at a price arranged by them or to fight the combined forces of the three oil giants. This offer was made openly and with the idea of maintaining prices and it has been refused, the Russian exporters preferring to fight.

It was doubtless this combine, continues the Daily Mail, which induced the Russian government to issue invitations to an anti-trust conference. The spokesmen of the great combines declare it means a fight to the death and that the independent exporters cannot hope to win.

RECOMMEND CONTRACT FOR BOARD TO SIGN.

CLINTON STREET IS BARRED

PROCEEDINGS OF MEETING OF COUNCIL.

The city council met last evening in special session, pursuant to a call from the mayor, all the members responding to the call except Borkenstein, Gending and O'Ryan. After roll call the call was read and then upon motion the council resolved itself into a committee of the whole, with Councilman Scheid in the chair and Councilman Hench at the clerk's desk. The chair announced that the object of the session was to receive the report of the sub-committee appointed to prepare a report to be submitted to the council and by the council to the board of works on matters pertaining to Fort Wayne traction franchise, extension and other matters. The report of the sub-committee was read, involving also the reading of the entire contract as revised at the meeting of June 2, the reading occupying over an hour. There was some discussion in the committee, resulting in the changing of the report so as to include a provision for the removal of the feed wires on Barr and Lafayette streets, after which the report was signed, the committee rose and again met as a council, received and adopted the report of the committee, instructed the clerk to submit a copy of the report and recommendations to the board of works for presentation to the traction company for signature, and after the mayor had appointed Councilmen Miller, Sordelet, Glenn, Bauer and Scheid as members of the committee provided for in the recommendations, adjourned.

TEXT OF THE REPORT.

The direct report of the sub-committee of the committee of the whole, not including the text of the ordinance and contract embodied therein, was as follows:

"To the Mayor and Common Council: Gentlemen—The committee of the whole respectfully submits the following report on contract with traction company. The committee does not deem it necessary to give in detail the proceedings of the many meetings and conferences held by it, for the purpose of adjusting the differences between the traction company and committee. Suffice to say that since January of this year the contract has been up in one way or the other, and not until the evening of July 1—was the issues between committee and traction company definitely defined. Concessions were made by the committee, and likewise by the traction company, and as it now stands there are but two points upon which there is a difference. 1. The traction company agrees to sell six tickets for a quarter, good on all lines and to all persons, and a 'special ticket' in lots of thirty for $1.05, for laboring people only, and use limited to one and one-half hours in morning and one hour in evening, conditioned that the contract would provide for a line on Clinton street, from Holman street to Lewis street, 2nd. Eliminating Clinton and Holman streets from the proposition, and the three and a half-cent tickets, the traction company agrees to carry out the general provisions of its original contract, presented with the following amendments thereto:

"1st. That the term of the franchise be thirty-five years instead of fifty.

"2nd. That it will make extensions after ten years, provided that the same be ordered by council and board of public works, and

"3rd. That there be a change of route as to extensions provided in sub-divisions 2, 3 and 4, section 1, of original contract.

"The committee is not in favor of approving a contract granting a franchise on Clinton street, from Holman street to Lewis street, for the reason that it is opposed to the occupancy of said streets by railroads of any kind.

"As to the special ticket for laboring people, the committee does not see why it should be eliminated, as this ticket was provided for in the original contract, except that it was to be sold in 100 lots, and the sale of them was not conditioned on the company's getting Clinton street. The committee is not opposed to a reconsideration of route of extensions as provided in sub-division 2, 3 and 4, section 1, of original contract as asked for by traction company, and for the purpose of reconsidering the route, it recommends that the mayor appoint five members of the common council to act in conjunction with the board of public works, and together agree upon a route. Aside from the question of route, in so far as it relates to sub-division 2, 3 and 4, section 1, of original contract, the committee would recommend the approval of a contract like unto that of the original heretofore signed by the traction company when amended."

POINTS IN CONTROVERSY.

FEED WIRE ISSUE.

Councilman Ehrman then introduced the feed wire proposition, saying that right then was the time to enact a provision for the placing of feed wires under ground. A long and somewhat acrimonious discussion followed. Mr. Husey suggested that as the city had already an ordinance upon its books providing for underground wires and the removal of the particularly objectionable feed wires on Barr and Lafayette streets, he thought that should suffice and the present ordinance should not be burdened with objectionable features. He added that an agreement had been made with the traction company, but that before the agreement was carried out a new council had passed a sweeping ordinance, making it compulsory to put all wires under ground and that therefore the traction company did not feel bound to stand by its previous private agreement. Chairman Scheid here interposed an objection to the insertion of any "underground clause," saying it would only prove obstructive. Another colloquy ensued and finally Bauer moved to instruct the board to insert a clause requiring the company to remove its wires on Barr and Lafayette streets. Miller amended by including any wires which the board saw fit to have removed and Lennan objected to the whole proceeding. He said the rider on the franchise would prove an insurmountable barrier to a contract with the traction company and declared that there was not a tenth of the danger in feed wires that there is in ordinary trolleys.

A RECONSIDERATION.

During the discussion a motion was made, put and carried that the committee now rise. Mayor Berghoff rapped for order and asked for the roll call, when Mr. Husey objected and said that he did not think the committee was ready to go into a session as a council, because he thought there was a misapprehension on the part of some councilmen as to what the report, as it was to be submitted, really meant. There was a wait of half an hour, when the council resumed a sitting as a committee of the whole. Mr. Bauer took the floor and stated for the record that the amendment of Mr. Miller to include all wires had created a breach and that the council could not sign the report as it was at that time and that he therefore moved to reconsider. He followed this with a motion to include in the removal order only the wires on Barr and Lafayette streets and this motion, after a debate, was carried. The committee then rose.

A COUNCIL AGAIN.

The council then met for the second time with the same membership. The report of the committee was again read as presented above, the lengthy text of the franchise alone being omitted. Mr. Bauer then objected to the appointment of a committee of five as recommended in the report, saying that he thought that there should be no suspicion of collusion on the part of the councilmen. He referred to the published report of a midnight session between members of the council and Manager Scott and added that he did not believe the report was true, but that it was out and that a special council committee would look bad; the matter should be left entirely with the board and the traction company.

Mr. Lennan arose to say that his name had been mentioned in connection with that midnight conference and he wanted the privilege of utterly repudiating the statement and branding it as an unqualified falsehood. He scarcely thought it necessary, but as his character and integrity had been publicly assailed, he wanted to publicly sustain himself. Mr. Husey followed Mr. Lennan and along the same lines. The report was then adopted and the mayor appointed Miller, Husey, Sordelet, Bauer and Glenn on the committee recommended by the report. Mr. Husey peremptorily declined to serve and his declination was followed by that of Mr. Bauer, who said that he had had traction company for breakfast, dinner and supper and that he had all he wanted. The vacancies were filled by the appointment of Borkenstein and Scheid respectively. The council then adjourned with Councilman Meier still objecting to the feed wire proposition, he being the only member who refused to sign the report of the committee of the whole.

CRIST OF RECOMMENDATIONS.

The report of the council and recommendations as they now go to the board of works provide for the extensions by the street car company as they were outlined at the session of the council on June 2, eliminating the spur on Clinton street and the barn track on Holman street; dispensing with the Lafayette street freight loop as provided for in the ordinance presented last January and omitting the east end extensions already covered in the Fleming franchise. The matter of abandoning the Creighton avenue line and substituting north and south parallel lines, and going south on Broadway to the river bridge and other lines contemplated by the terms of the report are left open and referred to the board of works for adjustment and contract. A thirty-five year franchise is designated and the ticket rate is left at six for a quarter at all times on cars and 30 for $1.05 during designated hours; the report also is adverse to the abolishment of the other reduced rate tickets in book form. The board has not yet indicated when the report and contract will be taken up with the traction company.

MR. SCOTT'S CONCESSION.

That the Fort Wayne Traction Co. is endeavoring to harmonize with the board of works was evidenced yesterday when Manager Scott made and signed an agreement to accrete the portion of East Main street occupied by the company's tracks along the line of the route now in course of being paved. The street proper is being built with a foundation of rolled stone only, but upon solicitation of Chairman Eggemann Manager Scott agreed to put in concrete between the rails and to a distance of twelve inches outside and has contracted with Contractor Moellering to do the work.

Member Doehrmann, of the board of works, who has charge of the Wayne street pavement construction, says that the Barber company will have the street completed in its entirety by tomorrow noon and that the entire length of the street will be open to traffic on Friday morning.

Member Zollinger, who is superintending the Buchanan street job, says that the work of that improvement is progressing rapidly and that he expects the asphalters to commence work there not later than Saturday.

The Epworth league of St. Paul's M. E. church will give an ice cream social on the church lawn this evening.

CONFERENCE OF TITHERS.
 Winona Lake, Ind., July 30.—A conference of tithers is to be held at Winona Lake, August 12, 13 and 14. This conference is called by the following ministers and laymen: Thomas Kane, Chicago; S. B. Harrison, Pittsburg; William G. Roberts, Cincinnati; E. A. K. Hackett, Fort Wayne; Rev. R. V. Hunter, Buffalo; Rev. Freely Rohrer, Marion, Ind.; Rev. Frank O. Ballard, Indianapolis. While this is called a tithers' conference, everybody is invited. The program will include men and women from the different denominations and from all parts of the country. Besides those in the call, who will also be speakers, there will be such men present as Rev. Dr. Moorehead of the United Presbyterian church; Judge J. P. Hobson, of Kentucky, and Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, of New York.
 This will unquestionably be the greatest gathering of the sort ever held in this country. It is desired that many practical results may flow from the conference. To this end representatives from each denomination will give statistics as to the people who have adopted this system and also of the congregations that have adopted it either in whole or in part. Additional testimonies are desired for use at the conference. These will be published in tabulated form giving the most valuable statistics that have ever been given on the subject. There has been much discussion regarding this most important movement, but the Winona conference wants facts.

BISHOP GETS AN EAGLE.
 Bishop Alerding has received a handsome present from Rev. Father Benedict, of near Whiting, in the shape of a handsomely mounted specimen of an American eagle, measuring eight feet from tip to tip. While out hunting Father Benedict was attacked by the bird and he succeeded in capturing it after a hard struggle, in which he was badly clawed and pecked. Father Benedict turned the bird loose in his hen coop, having no other place to put it, and it killed off his entire stock of poultry. The bird was shot a few days later and Father Benedict had it mounted and presented it to the bishop.

JOLTING CAUSED HEMORRHAGE
 Chris. Waters, a young farmer living near Academic, was stricken with a hemorrhage yesterday afternoon and for a time it was thought he would not recover. Waters was riding on a binder and when stooping over to adjust some of the machinery, blood gushed from his mouth and nose, and in the fainting spell which followed he narrowly escaped being thrown in front of the knives of the machine. Waters was carried home and Dr. J. D. Chambers was called from this city to attend him. It is thought the hemorrhage was caused by the jolting of the binder. Young Waters comes of a rather unfortunate family, his father, Stephen Waters, having been killed on Wells street some years ago, falling from his wagon and breaking his neck.
DANIEL W. KANE MARRIED.
 The Bloomington, Ill., Bulletin has the following account of the marriage of Miss Margaret Frances O'Neill, of that city, and Daniel William Kane, of Indianapolis, son of James M. Kane, of Fort Wayne:
 "This morning at 7:00, at the cathedral in Indianapolis, occurred the marriage of Miss Margaret Frances O'Neill, of this city, to Daniel William Kane, of Indianapolis. High mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Clemmons, an intimate friend of the groom. The attendants were Miss Grace O'Neill, sister of the bride, and George Walsh. The bride was attired in white Paris muslin and carried American beauty roses. The bride is a vivacious young lady, of sunny disposition and very attractive. She is the daughter of Mrs. Mary O'Neill, of 904 North Center street, and one of Bloomington's most prominent families. Mr. Kane is traveling salesman for Kipp Bros., one of the largest wholesale houses in Indianapolis. He is the son of James M. Kane, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and a highly respected citizen. The bridal party left on a trip to the lakes. They will be at home to the bridesmaids after August 15. Their many friends wish them much success in their new voyage. Mrs. O'Neill, mother of the bride, and son Owen, of St. Louis, attended the wedding.

Attend St. Vincent Picnic, Wednesday, Aug. 6, at Academy Grove, near Robison Park.

THE NEW WOMAN.

Miss Alice Colm, writes from 474 Eleventh Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., as follows:

"Having had poor health for a great many months and now having it restored makes me feel very grateful to Peruna. I suffered a great deal during my monthly periods, had severe pains, and was generally depressed, but can truthfully say that a few bottles of Peruna has removed all pain and made a new woman of me.—MISS ALICE COLM.

The coming of what is known as the "new woman" in our country is not greeted by everyone as if she were a great blessing. But there is another new woman whom everybody is glad to see. Every day some invalid woman is exclaiming, "I have been made a new woman by Dr. Hartman's home treatment." It is only necessary to send name, address, symptoms, duration of sickness and treatment already received to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O., and directions for one month's treatment will be promptly forwarded. The medicines can be obtained at the nearest drug store.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanatorium, Columbus, Ohio.

A LAPORTE COUNTY MAN SUSPECTED OF WIFE MURDER.

Her Disappearance Influenced Neighbors and Men's Removal Because Necessary.

Laporte, Ind., July 30.—The town of Westville, twelve miles southwest of here, is in the throes of excitement over the supposed murder of Mrs. William Tolton by her husband, and the attempt made by a mob to hang the man for his alleged crime. The stand taken by the officers and the cool-headedness of a few citizens is all that saved Tolton from being strung up.

Because of alleged previous remarks that he would dispose of his wife, the neighbors of Tolton Monday morning mistrusted that something was wrong when she failed to make her usual appearance around the house. Inquiries of Tolton as to his wife's whereabouts were met with evasive answers. The news spread that Mrs. Tolton was missing and soon the excitement was so intense that John Herrold, a merchant of the town, made affidavit before Justice Brewer that Tolton had murdered his wife. Marshal Herman Warnke arrested Tolton, who made no effort to escape, and he was arraigned before a justice. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, and the case was postponed until evening, so that further evidence could be procured. Tolton in the meantime being given his freedom on his own recognizance.

At the preliminary hearing in the evening Tolton, when pressed for information as to his wife's whereabouts, claimed that he had sent her to Chicago on the 5 o'clock morning Wabash train for the purpose of entering a hospital, but he was unable to tell what hospital. Investigation showed that no one had seen her depart and as the station is closed at night she did not buy a ticket in Westville, if she departed on the train. Later on Tolton said his wife had gone to her sister's home in Chicago, but he could not tell the woman's name nor give her address.

The excitement in the crowd continued to grow until about 11 o'clock Monday night, when the ring leaders of the mob procured a rope and were about to get Tolton to string him up in order to make him tell what he had done with his wife when Marshal Warnke and some aids warned them that any show of violence would be met with armed resistance, and any attempt to take away Tolton would mean the officers opening fire on the mob. Sheriff Small was appealed to for assistance and Deputy Wells and an assistant at once left for the scene. They brought Tolton to this city early yesterday morning. He is now in the county jail. He protests his innocence. Sheriff Small is endeavoring to unravel the mystery.

TRIES THEORY ON INDIAN.

Cambridge, Mass., July 30.—Abraham Flynn, LL. D., of Oakland, Pa., who is connected with Harvard college and is a deep student of psychology, has returned from Niagara Falls, where he secured an "Indian boy for the purpose of making mental experiments. Prof. Flynn long has been convinced that by a series of mental impressions the most indolent, uneducated person may be transformed into an intelligent, cultivated citizen and his discoveries in this line have reached the stage where he believes they can be made easily practicable. He intends to give the boy a special course of treatment. It will be an entirely new departure in educational lines, simpler than the present methods, and in some respects to the savage what the kindergarten is to white infants.

DEATH FOLLOWS DEBAUCH.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 30.—Firemen early today found one man dead and another dying in the Stoner Wall Paper company's building in South Des Moines, while trying to put out a fire which destroyed $50,000 worth of property. The dead man's name is David Watt, night watchman for the Stoner Wall Paper company. The dying man's name is I. P. Miller, night guard for the Long Shore mill. It is believed that the two men secured a quantity of liquor, repaired to the office of the wall paper company and after drinking the liquor went to sleep. In some manner the building was set on fire and before the firemen could reach the factory the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to save much of the stock and machinery.

Oswald Stahn has leased the store building at 1010 Calhoun street and will shortly remove his stock from the basement of the Y. M. C. A. building to the new location.

PLAN FINE ILLUMINATIONS

GORGEOUS DISPLAY FOR THE FALL FESTIVAL.

Twelve Electric Arches Will Adorn Calhoun Street—Plans for Each Day.

Elaborate electrical illuminations are planned for the fall festival, to be held in Fort Wayne the week beginning August 25. The committee in charge of this branch of the entertainment held a meeting last evening and decided upon the plan of the display.

Calhoun street is to be a blaze of light from Washington street to the base ball park, and in that space an even dozen large electric arches will overlook the fanciful designs wrought in electric lights along the way. Manager Sargent, who is directing the advance preparations, says the display will fully equal that of the famous fall festival at Cincinnati.

The general plan as outlined for the week is as follows: Monday is merchants' and manufacturers' day, and it will be inaugurated by a big industrial parade. Tuesday is set apart for the children, and all under 12 years of age will have free access to the attractions between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock. Wednesday is farmers' day, and prizes will be given for the most meritorious exhibit of farm products. Thursday is Fort Wayne day, and a number of special street attractions will mark this event. Friday is Indiana day, and invitations will be sent to Governor Durbin and members of his staff to be present. Saturday is devoted to labor day, and it will have an appropriate special program.

Early next week a big force of men will begin posting the advertising for the festival, and more than 18,000 sheets of paper will herald the coming of the carnival.

CONFESSES SHORTAGE.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, July 30.—C. W. Perkins, cashier in the district office of the Northwestern Life Insurance company, has confessed to a large shortage in his accounts, probably $25,000, and has turned over his fine residence and other valuable property to cover the deficit. Perkins, who has stood high in business circles for years, began his specutions several years ago. As he had the entire handling of the funds of the office, the truth was not discovered until disappointments and losses compelled him to make a statement to Agent Munger. Little is known outside as to the character of the speculations in which he has engaged, but it is said that he sunk a large sum of money in an olive plantation in Arizona, although he has had a big sale on olive oil. Perkins says he began to use the funds of the company when he was put in a position where he had to support three families and that he expected to realize on his ventures soon and replace the money he had used. Agent Munger is now in Milwaukee conferring with the general officials of the company. It is said that both Munger and the company will be losers.

HAS A CHANGE OF HEART.

Michigan City, Ind., July 30.—Much surprise was caused in this city yesterday when it became known that Miss Lillie Mattis, of Chicago, had filed suit in the superior court against Prof. Calvin Ewing, proprietor of the Michigan City business college, for $5,000 for breach of promise, alleging that Ewing had asked her to marry him, and that she had consented; that this was in June of 1900, and that although Miss Mattis had made all preparations, the professor had failed to carry out his promises. Miss Mattis was in the city yesterday, and seeking out Prof. Ewing, notified him of her intention to file suit unless he changed his mind. The interview ended unsatisfactorily, but last evening Ewing experienced a change of heart and it is announced that the wedding will take place today. Prof. Ewing formerly conducted a school at Evansville, where he met Miss Mattis. Prof. Ewing and his wife will make their home in this city.

LOCAL LINES.

Rev. J. K. Walts left last night for Bay View, Mich., to attend the assembly.

There will be a very important meeting of the ladies of Trinity M. E. church at the church tomorrow at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Josephine Skilling, of Philadelphia, niece of Mrs. McOscar, went to Garrett today, accompanied by Miss Mary Skilling, whose guest she will be for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. William McKinnis and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Treatman will leave this evening for Petoskey, where they will spend a portion of the summer.

NOT HELD FOR MURDER.

Kokomo, Ind., July 30.—At her preliminary trial before Mayor Armstrong yesterday Mrs. Myrtle Smith was held not guilty of murder in the killing of her stepfather, Albert Milton, whom she shot on July 2, and whose death resulted last week. The only eyewitness besides the accused was her mother, Mrs. Milton, and the latter sustained her daughter's plea of self-defense. The friends of the dead man are dissatisfied with the finding of the mayor and will present the case to the grand jury. Milton maintained to the last that the shooting was unprovoked.

Mothers, be sure and use Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. my8-eod-w

Mrs. Jacob Fry, sixty-seven years of age, died at Huntington Tuesday.
Mrs. J. M. Jennings, wife of a well known North Manchester merchant, is dead.
Jacob Schini, of Peru, has been adjudged insane as the result of a sunstroke some weeks ago.
Socialists of the Thirtieth district met at Elkhart and nominated E. P. Anderson for congress.
It is said that grafters with Buckskin Bill's show left a trail of empty pocketbooks at Garrett and Nappanee.
Molten metal splashed into the face of William Brown, near Warren, and it is feared he will lose his eyesight.
Goshen officials say horse stealing is becoming so prevalent in that section that the situation is assuming an alarming aspect.
An anti-saloon movement has been started at Poneto, and an effort is to be made to knock out the three saloons at present in the village by the remonstrance method.
A. R. Colburn's big planing mill at Michigan City was burned early Tuesday morning. The loss will be $25,000; insured for $3,000. The mill was the largest in the city.
It is said that Harry Wilson, now in Jeffersonville reformatory under a sentence of manslaughter for the killing of Liveryman Richard Sherwin at Bristol, is to be pardoned.
Workmen digging a ditch south of Rochester unearthed the rib of a mastodon and also a tooth. The rib was four feet in length and the tooth measured eighteen inches in circumference.
James Rufus Beardsley, banker and manufacturer, former mayor and state representative, died at his home in Elkhart Tuesday. His father was the founder of the city of Elkhart.
Dr. William F. Whippy, seventy-six years of age and one of the best known of Goshen physicians, died Tuesday after a protracted illness which had its inception in a stroke of paralysis.
Mrs. Clayton Dailey, of Decatur, has been appointed substitute carrier on a rural mail route out of that city. She is the first lady to be appointed to such a position in this section of Indiana.
Farmer telephone lines in Elkhart, Lagrange and Kosciusko counties are to be merged into one independent company, with a main exchange at Goshen, if a deal now under way is consummated.
Rumors of shortage in the office of town treasurer of Claypool, Kosciusko county, were officially confirmed Monday night, when a committee of citizens met the town board and the latter acknowledged that the town's funds, to the amount of $700, together with the treasurer's books, were missing. George Emmer, the treasurer, left Claypool suddenly after selling some property last March, but the shortage has never been admitted until now.

THE MARKETS.
Chicago, July 30.—Early trading in all grains save July new oats was weakened prices today. The weather continues fine and materially aided grading. The wheat report indicated the finish of winter harvesting save in a few localities and such quantities of the leading grain were under movement that selling was general. Deliveries on July contracts were being made freely and cleared up the late congestion in that option. September wheat opened 3/8c to 1/2c down at 70 1/2c to 70 3/4c and dipped to 69 3/4c. At this price some covering steadied the market and there was a fractional rally. Local receipts were 219 cars, 8 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 138 cars, making a total for the three points of 357 against 491 last week and 459 a year ago. Cables were lower and the southwest was bearish on liberal receipts.
Low prices later started an excellent speculative demand and something of a call for shipment. There was a hurry to cover July contracts before tomorrow and this option sold to 70 1/2c and closed 1 1/2c higher at 75 1/2c. September sold at 70 3/4c and closed steady, 3/8c up at 70 1/2c.
Corn had perfect growing weather, fair movement, better grading and lower cables to depress it at the start. Selling in September was heavy and there was little support. That option opened 1/2c to 1/4c lower at 55 1/2c to 55c and dipped to 54 1/2c. Some covering put the price back to 55c. July opened 2c down at 55c and held steady near 55 1/2c. Receipts were 117 cars, 15 of contract grade.
Cornier operations started to develop again in July corn and that option jumped to 60c, or 5c gain for the morning. Later, in a dull, ragged trade, the price slipped back and closed 2c up at 59c. September recovered from its dip and closed steady 3/8c up at 55 1/2c.
July oats were still very nervous, particularly in view of the fact that yesterday the directors of the board put the marginal price of 45c on this option. There was no weakness in July at the opening, nothing being offered. The first trade was unchanged at 60c and the second at 61c. September still was weak on the heavy movement to this market—304 cars today with 128 of contract grade. September opened 3/8c to 1/2c down at 31 1/2c to 31 3/4c and dropped to 31 1/4c, but rallied a little with July.
After the early weakness September oats sold up to a steady close, 1/2c up at 32 1/2c. There was much nervousness all session in July and that option on a good demand and little offering went to a strong close, 3c up at 63c.
Provisions were quiet and mostly steady early. Hogs were weak at the yards, but support in the pit had a leveling effect. September pork opened 5c down to unchanged at $16.75 to $16.80; September lard unchanged at $10.87 1/2 and momentarily sold at $10.70, and September ribs 2 1/2c down to 5c up at $10.12 1/2 to $10.20 and sold at $10.22 1/2.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.
New York, July 30.—The opening movement of prices was irregular within a narrow range and business was not on a large scale. St. Louis and San Francisco rose 1 1/2, but a number of the southwesterns and Pacifics were heavy. Atchison opened at an advance of 3/8 on the sale of 100 shares, but 4,000 shares sold immediately afterward at 91 1/2 to 91 3/4, compared with 91 1/2, last night's close.
Points of strength developed after the opening and the whole market rose sympathetically, but was very dull. Chicago and Eastern Illinois rose 3/4, New York Airbrake 3/4 and Illinois Central, St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred, Hocking Valley, Mexican Central, from 1 to 2. Colorado Fuel advanced 3/4, but fell back 1/4. The market became easier again on the announcement of additional gold exports.
The selling movement became active and carried the whole market to below last night's level. Northwestern and Lackawanna rose 1/2, Rock Island reacted 2, Colorado Fuel fell a point under last night and the declines reached a point or more in Illinois Central, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, New York Central, Missouri Pacific, Atchison, Colorado and Southern and Wheeling and Lake Erie second preferred. The market rallied a sharp fraction before noon. Western Union rising ever a point. Bonds were irregular.

THE MARKETS.
Chicago, July 30.—Early trading in all grains save July new oats was weakened prices today. The weather continues fine and materially aided grading. The wheat report indicated the finish of winter harvesting save in a few localities and such quantities of the leading grain were under movement that selling was general. Deliveries on July contracts were being made freely and cleared up the late congestion in that option. September wheat opened 3/8c to 1/2c down at 70 1/2c to 70 3/4c and dipped to 69 3/4c. At this price some covering steadied the market and there was a fractional rally. Local receipts were 219 cars, 8 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 138 cars, making a total for the three points of 357 against 491 last week and 459 a year ago. Cables were lower and the southwest was bearish on liberal receipts.
Low prices later started an excellent speculative demand and something of a call for shipment. There was a hurry to cover July contracts before tomorrow and this option sold to 70 1/2c and closed 1 1/2c higher at 75 1/2c. September sold at 70 3/4c and closed steady, 3/8c up at 70 1/2c.
Corn had perfect growing weather, fair movement, better grading and lower cables to depress it at the start. Selling in September was heavy and there was little support. That option opened 1/2c to 1/4c lower at 55 1/2c to 55c and dipped to 54 1/2c. Some covering put the price back to 55c. July opened 2c down at 55c and held steady near 55 1/2c. Receipts were 117 cars, 15 of contract grade.
Cornier operations started to develop again in July corn and that option jumped to 60c, or 5c gain for the morning. Later, in a dull, ragged trade, the price slipped back and closed 2c up at 59c. September recovered from its dip and closed steady 3/8c up at 55 1/2c.
July oats were still very nervous, particularly in view of the fact that yesterday the directors of the board put the marginal price of 45c on this option. There was no weakness in July at the opening, nothing being offered. The first trade was unchanged at 60c and the second at 61c. September still was weak on the heavy movement to this market—304 cars today with 128 of contract grade. September opened 3/8c to 1/2c down at 31 1/2c to 31 3/4c and dropped to 31 1/4c, but rallied a little with July.
After the early weakness September oats sold up to a steady close, 1/2c up at 32 1/2c. There was much nervousness all session in July and that option on a good demand and little offering went to a strong close, 3c up at 63c.
Provisions were quiet and mostly steady early. Hogs were weak at the yards, but support in the pit had a leveling effect. September pork opened 5c down to unchanged at $16.75 to $16.80; September lard unchanged at $10.87 1/2 and momentarily sold at $10.70, and September ribs 2 1/2c down to 5c up at $10.12 1/2 to $10.20 and sold at $10.22 1/2.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.
New York, July 30.—The opening movement of prices was irregular within a narrow range and business was not on a large scale. St. Louis and San Francisco rose 1 1/2, but a number of the southwesterns and Pacifics were heavy. Atchison opened at an advance of 3/8 on the sale of 100 shares, but 4,000 shares sold immediately afterward at 91 1/2 to 91 3/4, compared with 91 1/2, last night's close.
Points of strength developed after the opening and the whole market rose sympathetically, but was very dull. Chicago and Eastern Illinois rose 3/4, New York Airbrake 3/4 and Illinois Central, St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred, Hocking Valley, Mexican Central, from 1 to 2. Colorado Fuel advanced 3/4, but fell back 1/4. The market became easier again on the announcement of additional gold exports.
The selling movement became active and carried the whole market to below last night's level. Northwestern and Lackawanna rose 1/2, Rock Island reacted 2, Colorado Fuel fell a point under last night and the declines reached a point or more in Illinois Central, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, New York Central, Missouri Pacific, Atchison, Colorado and Southern and Wheeling and Lake Erie second preferred. The market rallied a sharp fraction before noon. Western Union rising ever a point. Bonds were irregular.

SURGICAL OPERATIONS

How Mrs. Bruce, a Noted Opera Singer, Escaped an Operation. Proof That Many Operations for Ovarian Troubles are Unnecessary.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Travelling for years on the road, with irregular meals and sleep and damp beds, broke down my health so completely two years ago that the physician advised a complete rest, and when I had gained sufficient vitality, an operation for ovarian troubles. Not a very cheerful prospect to be sure. I, however, was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Surrogate. I did so, fortunately for me. Before a month had passed I felt that my general health had improved; in three months more I was cured, and I have been in perfect health since. I did not lose an engagement or miss a meal.

Your Vegetable Compound is certainly wonderful, and well worthy the praise your admiring friends who have been cured are ready to give you. I always speak highly of it, and you will admit I have good reason to do so." Mrs. G. Bruce, Lansing, Mich. $2000 forfeit if above statement is not genuine.

The fullest counsel on this subject can be secured without cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be carefully confidential.

CHANGES IN PENNSYLVANIA

TELEGRAPH FORCE.

WABASH DECIDES ON CHANGE

JOSEPH RAMSEY TO CONTROL

ALL GOULD LINES.

A NEW STYLE LOCOMOTIVE

WILL CARRY OBSERVATION CAR

OVER ITS BOILER.

Next Friday there will be a change in the force of telegraphers on the western division of the Pennsylvania, which will affect several men. On that day S. C. Tuttle, operator at the east yards, will become second day operator in Mr. Jennings' office, and E. C. Park, who has been working extra, will go to the end yards to take the place vacated by Mr. Tuttle. C. M. Duncan, night operator at the east yard office, has resigned on account of the serious condition of his wife's health, and will return to her home, in Frankfort. W. H. Walker, of Waukegan, will take Mr. Duncan's place. C. A. Hite, of Plymouth, and T. W. Jackson, of Dunkirk, will be two new copying operators in Mr. Jennings' office.

A NOVEL LOCOMOTIVE.

A unique engine has just been completed by the Baltimore and Ohio shops for the use of L. G. Hoss, general superintendent, on his inspection trips and was used for the first time last week. For want of a better name they have designated it as an inspection engine, but this does not cover the whole idea, for it answers the purpose of an entire train. In short, No. 622 is an engine with a small passenger coach constructed on the top of the boiler, just back of the smoke stack. It somewhat resembles the old inspection car of the Pennsylvania, answering the same purpose, but is different from anything ever seen in this section of the country. The boiler is heavily covered with asbestos, that with a thickness of iron and the floor with Brussels carpet. The seats in this sheltered coach are arranged in amphitheater style, so as to give every one in the car a full view of the track and the surrounding country. The higher officials of the inspection party are supposed to sit in the rear seats, which are the most elevated. Passengers enter the car by winding stairs on each side of the front pilot, so the engine may be run in either direction readily. But three men are required to make up the train crew, an engineer and a fireman, who occupy the cab, located back on the coach, about the same as on an ordinary engine, and a flagman. The idea is to have a quick and convenient way for officials to make a trip over the lines without hauling an entire train. The affair devised at the Mt. Clear shops presents a peculiar sight passing over a railroad.

RUMORS OF CHANGES.

According to the Toledo Blade, which claims to have information from a reliable source, the Wabash company, or rather the Gould interests, in what are termed the Gould interests, propose to put Joseph Ramsey at the head of all the interested lines and to give him managers for the several branches. The first movement in this direction, the Blade says, will be the appointment of Henry W. Ashley, of the Ann Arbor, general manager of the Wabash, and the extension of General Manager Bickenseder's territory so as to cover the Ann Arbor as well as the Wheeling and Lake Erie. Mr. Ashley will go to St. Louis and Mr. Bickenseder to Toledo if this change is made.

HENRY HILLE INJURED.

Henry Hille, night baggagemaster at the Wabash depot, was injured about the knees and legs at 7 o'clock this morning by being run down by a horse and buggy, the property of U. J. Loos, the Lafayette street grocer. Mr. Hille was riding his wheel down the street when the wheel of the buggy, which was traveling fast, caught his rear wheel and threw him to the pavement and dragged him about ten feet and demolished the rear portion of the wheel. This collision excited the horse, which increased its speed and ran into a wagon, upsetting the vehicle he was pulling and dragging Loos a considerable distance. One of Mr. Hille's knees was cut and bruised painfully and the accident may keep him from his work for several nights.

LARGEST ELECTRIC MOTORS.

Contracts were awarded yesterday by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company to the General Electric company for the two largest electric motors in the world. Each machine will weigh 15 tons, and be capable of drawing 1,800 tons of freight up the heavy grades of the belt line tunnel, which runs nearly two miles under the city. Passenger trains have been drawn through the tunnel by electricity since it was opened in 1895, but the motors now in use are not capable of pulling the heavy freight trains. The motors will be designed to haul twice the load the steam locomotives at present pull through the tunnel.

WALTER ADAMS MARRIED.

Walter Adams and Miss Marie Meyers were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Meyers, of 1140 Oak street, at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. A. H. L. Lang officiating. So quietly was the wedding performed that news of it did not reach the shopmates of the groom until the publication of the license, which had been withheld, this morning. Mr. Adams is a machinist and is employed in the erecting department of the Hoss works. He had been away from home for some time, setting up some big engines, and his presence in the city this week was not known outside of his immediate family circle until news of the wedding leaked out. He is a popular fellow and the wedding creates considerable interest among his acquaintances. Miss Meyers is also quite popular with her acquaintances, who are also taken completely by surprise.

ED REMBERT GOES EAST.

Ed Rembert, a stenographer in Captain H. Stoll's office, has gone to Pittsburgh to work in the company's offices during the vacation season. He will release the stenographers there one at a time until all have had a vacation. Mr. Rembert will probably be gone from home two months.

HIS INJURIES ARE SERIOUS.

H. H. Lang, the Nickel Plate brakeman who had his back injured by a fall from a car at McDonough, O., two or three weeks ago, is in St. Joseph hospital for treatment for concussion of the spine. He went to his home in Bellevue about a week ago, hoping to improve by the treatment received there, but he was disappointed and he came here as slated last evening. In order to prevent him from being a cripple for life, Mr. Lang will have to wear a plaster cast for a month. Mr. Lang has been particularly unfortunate during his experience as a brakeman on the Nickel Plate. Last October he had an eye injured and previous to that accident he suffered a sunstroke.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Ed Spence, of Rhinesmith & Simonson's factory, is sick.

Engineer W. Swart is taking a lay off to attend to private business.

Nickel Plate firemen C. H. Minsar and Fred Roembke are sick and off duty.

A. Hettie, H. C. Strangman and James Roche, Pittsburgh shopmen, are sick and off duty.

R. C. Hettler and A. J. Noll, of the East car shops, are off duty on account of sickness.

Randolph Brees, of the Pittsburgh shops, has gone to Altoona on business for the company.

Henry Brockman, a blacksmith's helper, has been transferred to the police department of the Pennsylvania.

H. M. Miller and J. J. Phillips, truckmen at the Pittsburgh freight house, are off duty on account of sickness.

Assistant Foreman John T. Leach, of the Pittsburgh boiler shops, went to Lima, Ohio this morning to look after some affairs for the department.

W. W. Waggoner, who will assume charge of the Western Union's business at Muncie August 1, is in the city today, calling upon his old friends.

Carl Hilgeman, twelve years old and the son of Car Inspector Rudy Hilgeman, of the Wabash, sustained painful injuries to his face at 7:30 o'clock last evening. The forks of his wheel broke, throwing the lad to the ground and cutting his lips, and knocking out two or three teeth.

John Smith, of the Wabash blacksmith shop, is sick.

Harry Tempelar, jr., of the Electric works, is sick and off duty.

Supt. E. A. Gould, of the Wabash, was in the city this morning in conference with the local officials.

Supt. D. E. Crawford has gone east on business connected with the motive power department of the Pennsylvania.

The Illinois Central has placed orders with the Rogers locomotive works for thirty-eight locomotives of a heavy type.

Barney Hicker, a helper in the Wabash blacksmith shop, resigned this morning and was succeeded by Henry Linton.

No. 119, one of the big engines on the Nickel Plate, has gone to the shops for repairs. It broke down at Claypool yesterday.

Brakeman D. C. Potts returned to his duties on the Nickel Plate yesterday. For three weeks he was visiting friends in Kansas.

President W. H. Ginniff, of the Nickel Plate, passed through the city yesterday afternoon on train No. 2, riding in his private car.

The Twentieth Century train on the Lake Shore on Friday left Buffalo one hour and six minutes late and arrived in Elkhart, Ind., on time.

Mrs. Offner, wife of Pittsburgh Machinist J. Offner, has returned from St. Louis, where she spent two or three weeks with relatives.

William Dawkins, of the Wabash lumber yards, is at New Haven to attend the funeral of his step mother, wife of Henry Dawkins, a well known resident of that village.

A long string of brand new gondola cars, just out of the Pullman shops, passed through the city, over the Pittsburgh road, at 9 o'clock this morning. They were en route to the coal mines to go into service.

A 120-light generator left the Electric works this morning for Grimes, Iowa. A car load of machinery and supplies, including a 3,000 light dynamo, is being gotten ready for shipment to Greenville, Ohio.

Hugh Walsh, who has been employed in the capacity of assistant fireman at the Pittsburgh playing mills for seven or eight years, resigned yesterday. He will go to Toledo on a visit and may decide to remain there permanently.

The working force at the Electric works was slightly increased this morning when the following men took positions there: William Hilgeman, William Littlejohn, Gene Mann, Ed Jacobs, Ed Schacher and George Noy.

After a trial of two or three days Lauda Dieckhoff has concluded that the farm is a better place for him than the Wabash shops. He was stationary fireman at the latter place.

John Eick, a boiler helper at the same shop, also resigned this morning.

Foreman John H. Kretzinger surprised the men at the shops this morning by appearing at the gate astride a new bicycle. It was not known that Mr. Kretzinger could ride, but it appears that he has been practicing on the commons out near his home until he is proficient in that way.

Henry Rapa, clerk at the Pittsburgh round house, and Charles Young, a draughtsman at the Bass shops, and their wives will go to Rome City next Saturday to spend a week in a cottage. They have already commenced for the outing and will have all manner of tackle and bait at hand when the day of departure for the lake arrives.

Conductor Groat, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, went to Sturgis, Mich., this morning to pilot an excursion from that city to Rome City. The excursion party came from towns along the line of the Lake Shore road and they numbered nearly 500. The train consisted of a baggage and nine passenger cars. The Lake Shore engine crew accompanied the train to its destination.

An official of the Pennsylvania says all reports of the company being dissatisfied with the results from operating the twenty-hour trains between New York and Chicago have no foundation whatever; on the contrary, the company is so well satisfied that it has ordered from the Pullman company eighty-two cars for the Pennsylvania limited and the twenty-hour trains, at a cost of $1,300,000.

At midnight last night a special train of one baggage and eight coaches and carrying about 400 immigrants, passed through the city over the Nickel Plate. The passengers came from Germany, Russia and France and they are en route to the northwest to settle on new lands.

J. C. Langston resumed work at the Pittsburgh shops this morning. He had a lame foot several days, the result of stepping upon a nail.

James E. Finley has taken a position as fireman on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road. He was formerly employed at the east car shops.

Crawford Griswold, whose misfortune was mentioned in these columns some days ago, has recovered and resumed his duties on the Pittsburgh.

Yard Conductor Harry Hayes and Yard Brakeman Joseph Starr resumed their duties in the Pittsburgh yards this morning. Mr. Hayes was east a month and Mr. Starr was in the west a month.

On August 1 the Santa Fe will increase the pay of 7,000 of its trainmen in amounts averaging 10 to 12 per cent. The agreement also provides for ten hours a day and one hour of Saturday.

Harry P. Bronson, secretary of the Western Passenger association, will on August 1 go to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific as confidential secretary of John Sebastian, passenger traffic manager of that road.

Secretary C. T. Strawbridge, of the Bass Foundry and Machine company, went to Chicago this morning on business for the firm. George T. Ladd, a salesman for the company, went to Pittsburgh in that capacity last night.

W. T. Wolff, who relies from the position of trainmaster of the eastern division of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, will become chief clerk to General Manager C. A. Goodnow, of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, next Friday.

It is announced that E. H. Milling, of St. Thomas, Ont., will, on August 15, succeed E. E. Turley, superintendent of telegraph of the Michigan Central. M. B. Sawyer, of Detroit, trainmaster for the Michigan Central, will on the same date succeed E. P. MacDonald as division superintendent of the middle division, with headquarters at Jackson.

Machinist Glen Reid, of the Bass works, last evening exhibited to his friends at the shops a night blooming cereus that came from a plant on his mother's farm, one and a half miles west of the city, which, when open, measured eleven inches in diameter. Mrs. Reid, who raised the flower, is 75 years old and she has resided in Allen county ever since 1845. On her invitation several of her neighbors and friends assembled at her home Monday night and watched the development of the flower.

OLD PEOPLE

Do not always receive the sympathy and attention which they deserve. Their ailments are regarded as purely imaginary, or natural and unavoidable at their time of life. Disease and infirmity should not always be associated with old age. The eye of the gray haired grandchild may be as bright and the complexion as fair as any of his younger and more vigorous companions.

Good Blood is the secret of healthy old age, for it regulates and controls every part of the body, strengthens the nerves, makes the muscles elastic and supple, the bones strong and the flesh firm; but when this life fluid is polluted or poisoned and loses its nutritive, health sustaining elements, then there is a rapid decline of the vital powers, resulting in premature old age and disease. Any derangement of the blood quickly shows itself in an ulcer, sore, wart, tumor or some other troublesome growth upon the body, and rheumatic and neuralgic pains become almost constant, accompanied with poor digestion and cold extremities.

S. S. S. being purely vegetable, is the safest and best blood purifier for old people. It does not shock or hurt the system like the strong mineral remedies, but gently and thoroughly cleanses the blood and stimulates the debilitated organs, when all bodily ailments disappear. S. S. S. is just such a tonic as old people need to improve a weak digestion and tone up the Stomach. If there is any hereditary taint, or the remains of some disease contracted in early life, S. S. S. will search it out and remove every vestige of it from the system.

Write us fully about your case and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will mail free our book on blood and skin diseases.

"FORCE" FOOD CO.,
Buffalo, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—Seeing a package of "FORCE" in my grocer's yesterday, I purchased a package and tried it the same day. The entire family united in pronouncing it much better than any of the cereals on the market. Being fond of cereals, we give almost every new product of the kind a trial. I can truthfully say that it is seldom we find one that is as unanimously praised by everyone who uses it as "FORCE."

Yours very truly,

Name given on application.

YOUNG ITALIAN CLAIMS CASH FOUND BY ANOTHER.

Fifteen Dollars Lost by Mrs. Armour Picked Up by Aged Man and Seized by a Stranger.

Yesterday Mrs. Annie Armour, while passing from the postoffice to her boarding place at the Crescent hotel, lost a roll containing $15 in bills, which loss she promptly reported, and also inserted an advertisement in The Sentinel.

Carl Wehnert, an elderly German citizen living on Spy Run avenue, saw the advertisement and reported to the police that he had found the money and related then how he came to become separated from it. He said he was passing along Berry street, opposite the Tri-State building, when he saw something on the sidewalk which he picked up. He was examining it and was far enough along in his examination to know that it was money, and consisted of a five and a ten-dollar bill.

While he was looking at it a young fellow ran up to him, snatched the roll from his hands and said that it was his—that he had just dropped it. Mr. Wehnert protested and said that the proper place to deposit the money would be at the police station—that he did not know who it belonged to. The young fellow, however, insisted that it was his and went away with it.

The police upon investigation learned that the claimant is a young Italian, who comes here occasionally, is a traveling man of some kind and that he stops at the Hedekin house.

He was accused and produced some money, which contained several two-dollar bills, and declared that was the money he had lost and that it was the identical money he had received from Wehnert. Wehnert says it was not. It was later learned that the young Italian, whose name the police did not take the trouble to learn, had left a sealed envelope with the landlady at the Hedekin house and the police started out to get the envelope and the fellow, if possible.

Mrs. Armour, the woman who lost the money, is boarding at the Crescent hotel, where her husband is lying at the point of death and is not expected to survive the day. She had received the money only a day or two ago and is sorely distressed over its loss, which only augments her other and greater misfortune.

WILL DOUBLE ITS CAPACITY

UNION MANUFACTURING COMPANY IS PROSPERING.

Leases Additional Room and Will Install Much Machinery—New Concern Grows Rapidly.

The Union Manufacturing company, whose factory is on Maiden Lane, is preparing to double its present capacity, and within a few weeks will install a vast amount of new machinery.

The company is one of the newer manufacturing enterprises of the city, but it is showing a phenomenal growth. The company is made up of Messrs. Julius Tonne, W. B. Phillips, W. F. Ranke and C. A. Singrey, and is engaged in the manufacture of working suits and overalls of special design.

The factory, at present employing more than fifty people, has always been a busy place, but the company has been unable to meet the demand for its goods. It has now leased an additional room adjoining its present plant, and has made a purchase of machinery that will double its present capacity. Within five weeks the new equipment will probably be in operation, with a hundred employees.

STRANGLES BABES

CRAZY MOTHER CHOKES THEM WITH CORDS.

TWO ARE DEAD; ONE IS DYING

THE FATHER FINDS THEM ON RETURNING HOME.

WIFE STUPEFIED BY DRINK

WOMAN A VICTIM OF ACUTE ALCOHOLISM.

New York, July 26.—Richard Mead, a night watchman, on returning to his home in Brooklyn today, found his two little daughters dead from strangulation, caused by twine tightly tied around their throats.

A third child was unconscious from the same cause and his wife lay in a comatose condition on the floor, apparently suffering from alcoholism, combined with poison.

According to the police the woman was of intemperate habits and the supposition is that she strangled the children while in a delirious condition.

The oldest child was three years of age. Her body and that of her one-year-old sister were lying on the bed with several yards of stout twine wound about their throats.

The other little one was still alive and was removed to a hospital with the mother.

The baby's injuries are probably fatal as the slender cord had cut deep into the throat.

About one year ago Mead had his wife arraigned for commitment for intemperance. It was just prior to the birth of the youngest child and on that account she was released on promise of reform.

THE STRAWBOARD COMBINE

REPRESENTATIVES COMPLETE DEAL AT NEW YORK.

Capital Near Thirty Million—Many

Indiana Plants Are Involved in the Consolidation.

New York, July 26.—Thirty or more representatives of the various companies which are to enter the strawboard combination known as the United Box Board and Paper company have held informal conferences in this city, at the conclusion of which it was reported that the combination had been completed. It was stated that the principal business transaction was the transfer of plants of the new corporation which will have a capitalization of $28,867,400, of which $14,946,000 will be in 7 per cent preferred stock and $14,028,500 in common.

Ex-State Comptroller James A. Roberts will be, it was said, president of the consolidated company; R. F. Newcomb, president of the American Strawboard company, first vice president, and Charles D. Brown, second vice president. Besides seventeen mills owned by the American Strawboard company plants in the following cities are included in the new company: Muncie, Ind.; Peoria, Ill.; Waldron, Ill.; Mt. Carmel, Ill.; Rockport, Ind.; Eaton, Ind.; Marion, Ind.; Vincennes, Ind.; Wabash, Ind.; Yorktown, Ind.; Urbana, O.; Middletown, O.; Norwich, Conn.; Shelton, Conn.; Fulton, N. Y.; Honeye Falls, N. Y.; Penn Yan, N. Y.; Schuylersville, N. Y.; Lockport, N. Y.; Middleport, N. Y.; Whippany, N. J.; Bogota, N. J.; Danville, N. H.; Milton, N. H.; Lawrence, Mass.; Benton Falls and Fairfield, Me.

Holders of American strawboard stock will receive, it is said, $57.50 in the preferred stock of the new company and $55.40 in the new common for each $100 share of the strawboard. The terms upon which the other companies exchange their stock have not been made public. The headquarters of the new corporation are likely to be in this city.

IS PAINFULLY INJURED.

E. F. Bitsberger, of 416 Wallace street, is confined to his bed with a compound fracture of the right leg, which he sustained in a fall a day or two ago.

COMING EXAMINATIONS.

Civil service examinations are announced to be held in Fort Wayne as follows:

August 12.—Nautical expert, hydrographic office; provincial supervisor, Philippine service; electro-typist, Philippine service; teacher of agriculture, Indian service.

August 26.—Pressman, Philippine service; compositor (Linotype) Philippine service; bookbinder, Philippine service; engineer, Philippine service.

FAIRBANKS TO RUN AGAIN.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 26.—The Indianapolis Journal makes authorized denial editorially of the statement in New York newspapers that Senator Fairbanks is "likely to retire from politics at the end of his present term in the senate."

The Journal says: "Senator Fairbanks is a candidate for re-election, and he will be re-elected. The party is united on him. In fact, all intelligent men in both parties realize that Mr. Fairbanks has served the people of Indiana with marked ability and success."

MULLAH'S FORCES DEFEATED

THE MAD ONE SUFFERS FROM THE BRITISH.

One Hundred and Fifty Tribesmen are Killed and 4,000 Camels and 12,000 Sheep Captured.

Aden, Arabia, July 26.—The British expeditionary force, operating against the mad mullah in East Africa, after scouting northeast of Bamot over an absolutely waterless country, learned the general direction of the mullah's forces and his prisoners and sent off a mounted column, under Colonel Cobbe, which, after an eighty-mile chase across the desert, came in contact with the tribesmen, killed 150 of them and captured 4,000 camels and 12,000 sheep. The British had eight men killed and four wounded.

COL. HIRAM E. WELLS DEAD.

Paoli, Ind., July 26.—Col. Hiram E. Wells, proprietor of the Wells hotel, French Lick, this county, died at Chicago yesterday of apoplexy. He was on his way, accompanied by his daughter, to the northern lake resorts for the summer, and upon reaching Chicago was stricken and never rallied. He was 62 years of age and had accumulated a large fortune. He was prominent in state and local republican politics and was at one time treasurer of this county. He served during the war of the rebellion. He was for a number of years one of the owners and proprietors of French Lick Springs and hotel. At the time of his death he was president of the Citizens' State bank, of Bloomington, Ind., and also president of the Stone City bank, of Bedford, Ind., in both of which he was one of the largest stockholders. Two sons and two daughters survive him.

PURSING BLACK BANDIT.

Philippi, W. Va., July 26.—A negro, said to be the real assassin of Chief of Police Wilmoth, has been located and officers with bloodhounds are on the trail. With the daring and desperation of Tracy, the fugitive is terrorizing the people and steadily pushing his way up the mountains. His name is not known and the only point of identity is his reported confession to another negro, whom he was trying to take with him. He was located by the authorities on the Roaring Creek and Charleston railroad, about thirty miles northwest of Womelsdorf. A large posse is on his trail and if taken he will probably share the horrible fate of his companions. He is well armed and is expected to make a daring fight for liberty. The whole country is aroused and negroes continue to leave.

TUMULTUOUS IN HAYTI.

Washington, July 26.—Tumultuous conditions continue in Hayti, according to advices received today at the state department from Minister Powell, who is at Port Au Prince. He cables that civil war has been declared throughout the country and that General Firmin, an aspirant for the presidency, is marching on Port Au Prince. The provisional government has been dissolved. The acting president has sent a communication to the diplomatic corps declaring that Admiral Killick is a pirate and asking that the vessels of foreign countries capture him wherever found. The precedents show that the naval powers have decided to pay no attention to any such proclamation, but to regard men in Killick's positions as simply rebels.

E. L. Barber, who has been at Hope hospital several weeks on account of a fractured leg, is making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

HIS LIFE SPARED

DR. WILSON'S DEATH SENTENCE IS COMMUTED.

NICARAGUA SHOWS MERCY

COURTESY TO UNITED STATES, SYMPATHY FOR MOTHER.

HAD INTERESTED HIMSELF IN AMERICAN'S CASE.

Washington, July 28.—The life of Dr. Russell Wilson, of Ohio, who was captured by a revolutionist party in Nicaragua, has been saved through the representations of Minister Corea, of that country. A cablegram was received at the state department today from Chester Donaldson, United States consul at Managua, Nicaragua, dated the 26th instant, which says:

"As a courtesy to the United States and sympathy for the mother, the president will commute Russell Wilson's death sentence."

Wilson was one of several Americans who joined a filibustering expedition which landed at Monkey Point, near Bluefields, early in July. Most of the party were captured or killed. Wilson would have been summarily executed but for the interposition of Senator Corea, the Nicaraguan minister here. Having secured a stay of proceedings and a guarantee of a legal trial, the minister has now induced President Zelaya to commute the death sentence, imposed upon Wilson by court martial. Before the receipt of this message it was not known here that the court martial had been held. It is presumed that the commutation is to imprisonment for a time, and then expulsion from Nicaragua.

SENATOR HANNA GRATIFIED.

Cleveland, July 28.—Senator Hanna, who has been most active in Dr. Wilson's case, was much gratified today when shown The Associated Press dispatch from Washington announcing the president of Nicaragua would commute the sentence of the prisoner.

"Now that the doctor's life has been spared," said Senator Hanna, "I think it will be found that the Nicaraguan authorities have charged him with a crime with which he was in no manner connected, because he was at college here in Ohio at the time it is said to have occurred."

WHEN WILSON WAS TAKEN.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 28.—The British officers arrived here today. Her officers report that on July 7, when the force of Nicaraguan revolutionists landed near Bluefields, by the Colombian gunboat General Pinzon, had been captured, the Pinzon steamed away. The Nicaraguan forts fired at the Pinzon but without success. The commander of the Psyche landed and insisted that the captured rebels be given a fair and impartial trial instead of being shot without trial. It was believed that among those captured at that time was Dr. Wilson, an American, but the officials of the Psyche could not definitely ascertain regarding his presence. He had not been tried up to the time the Psyche left last week. Telegraph lines are broken and news is difficult to get. According to officers of the Psyche the Colombian government is helping the Nicaraguan revolutionists. All was quiet when the Psyche sailed.

NEW AUTOMOBILES.

Dr. L. P. Drayer, formerly city bacteriologist, and A. C. Alter, the well-known cigar dealer, are the latest additions to Fort Wayne's list of automobilists, both gentlemen having placed their orders for horseless vehicles last week. Dr. Drayer's machine will be a five-horse power Rambler of the most improved pattern, and Mr. Alter's machine is a Buffalo runabout. Both vehicles will be on the streets in a few days.

WEDDED IN CHICAGO.

W. A. Deems, formerly an employee in the Pittsburg shops in this city, now living in Chicago, and Miss Bertha Kaylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kaylor, of West Jefferson street, were quietly married in Chicago Sunday afternoon. After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Deems will return to Chicago and make that city their future home.

TRAPEZE ARTIST HURT.

J. D. Thomas, known professionally as J. D. Rouen, a trapeze performer whose home is in this city, arrived in Fort Wayne last Sunday and is confined to his home, 435 Duchanan street. While giving an exhibition at Omaha Friday night some of the guy ropes controlling Rouen's trapeze broke and he fell a considerable distance. The man is painfully bruised and will be unable to follow his profession for some time. His injuries are not believed to be dangerous.

MR. TRENTMAN HOME.

A. B. Trentman, who has been in New York the past week on business connected with the recent merger of strawboard interests, arrived home this morning. The consolidation was effected according to previous arrangements, and Mr. Trentman expresses the belief that the arrangement will be much more satisfactory to local stockholders than conducting an independent plant. S. B. Fleming, who was also east upon the same business, will return home Wednesday.

IN A HEAD-ON COLLISION

TWO ELEVATED TRAINS IN BROOKLYN ARE WRECKED.

Two Passengers Fatally and Many Others Seriously Injured—Motorman Arrested.

New York, July 28.—A head-on collision occurred today between two trains of the Brooklyn elevated railroad on Adams street, which resulted in the derailing of six cars, the wrecking of two and the injury of a number of persons, at least two of them fatally.

The collision took place at a point where the tracks diverge and is thought to have been caused by a misplaced switch.

A train bound to New York from Bath Beach was turning the curve at the junction when it was met by a train from the bridge station and the crash occurred. Godfrey Moore and Henry Moore, of New York, were pinned beneath the wreckage and probably fatally hurt. It was nearly an hour before they were released. Thirteen others were bruised more or less seriously.

Charles Shattuck, motorman of the Bath Beach train, was arrested. John Sullivan, the motorman of the other train has disappeared.

HOSPITAL COMMITTEE MET.

A meeting of the committee of delegates from twenty-five Lutheran churches in Fort Wayne and vicinity was held Sunday afternoon in St. Paul's Lutheran church, when the Lutheran hospital plan was discussed at length. The delegates reported favorably to the project and it was decided to open subscription lists in the different churches. Another meeting of the committee will be held in October when a final report on subscriptions will be made. If a sufficient sum is promised, plans will be made at once, and the work will be pushed rapidly. The churches represented at yesterday's meeting are all favorable to the plan, and it is very probable that the hospital will be built.

WEDDED IN FORT WAYNE.

(Columbia City Post.)

Walter A. Trout, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Trout, of this city, was united in marriage Friday evening to Miss Flora B. Miller, of Fort Wayne, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's parents. The groom is a bright and industrious young man that has been employed by the Archer printing company for about two years, but has now accepted a position at Niles, Mich. His choice of a life partner is a handsome and accomplished young lady. The couple passed through this city Saturday morning for their future home.

CAUSES A SENSATION.

New York, July 28.—A writ of conspiracy issued by Messrs. Redmond, O'Brien, Dillon and Davitt against the trustees of the new Irish landlord trust has created a great sensation in Ireland, says a Tribune dispatch from London. The Freeman's Journal promises that it will be the biggest constitutional hearing in Ireland since the Parnell trial in 1882.

COL. J. B. MAYNARD DEAD.

Indianapolis, July 28.—Colonel James B. Maynard, former editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel, and for many years one of the most prominent newspaper men in Indiana, died at his home in this city today aged 83. He gave up active newspaper work several years ago. He was born in New York.

DROWNS IN ST. JOE

WILLIAM H. NILL LOSES LIFE IN THE RIVER.

OTHERS NARROWLY ESCAPED

BOAT CAPSIZED ABOVE ROBISON PARK SUNDAY.

THREE COMPANIONS SAVED

NONE ABLE TO TELL HOW ACCIDENT HAPPENED.

William H. Nill, 28 years of age, a Pennsylvania machinist, residing at 1305 Broadway, was drowned in the St. Joe river, half a mile above Robison park, shortly before 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Only the prompt work of rescue by Arthur Nagle and Chauncey Hosler, who were near by in a boat, saved the lives of Nill's companions—Philip F. Luley, of this city, and two young women from Hartford City, who gave their names as Florence Wells and Florence Rose.

The latter is said to be Mrs. Vernie Groves-Robinson, daughter of C. L. Groves, of Hartford City. From six to eight minutes elapsed after the capsizing of the boat before the rescuers reached them and dragged the three unfortunate young people from the water. Nill's body is said to have sunk at once and did not again appear upon the surface. The others struggled and managed to keep afloat until rescuers dragged them from the river.

Miss Rose was unconscious and she was hurried to the park, where Dr. J. W. Young, of this city, Dr. E. D. Smith, of Leo, and Dr. N. B. Smith, of Leo, began heroic efforts to resuscitate the woman. The case seemed hopeless, but after persistent efforts the physicians were rewarded by returning signs of life. Miss Wells and Luley did not appear to suffer so extensively. The victims were brought to the city in a closed car, and from Spy Run avenue were driven in a carriage to Hope hospital, where, after several hours further effort, Miss Rose regained consciousness. Luley, after a short time, was able to proceed to his home, 1809 Hanna street.

Both young women are yet at Hope hospital, and both are suffering excessively from their experience, though neither are believed to be in particular danger. They are not, however, in condition to give a clear version of the affair, and as soon as possible their testimony will be taken by the coroner.

CANNOT EXPLAIN IT.

Neither the surviving occupants of the boat, nor others who happened to be in the vicinity are able to explain the manner in which the boat came to capsize. The coroner, Dr. W. W. Barnett, this morning took the testimony of Luley, as well as that of Nagle and Hosler, who rescued the trio. It appeared in the evidence today that Nill and his companion had purchased a quantity of beer at some point up the river. Nagle and Hosler, who were in their boat some distance away from the quartet, say that one of the young men had changed his position in the boat a short time before, and that suddenly all four appeared to lean to one side. Instantly the boat flopped over.

As soon as the rescued persons had been placed in proper hands the search for Nill's body was taken up by officers and spectators. The remains were recovered at 6:30 o'clock by Joseph Banet, living opposite the park. The father of the unfortunate man, George Nill, a shoemaker on Broadway, was present when the remains were recovered, and he directed the removal of the body to the Wellman undertaking establishment. The accident occurred at what is known as Kramer bend, where the water is about twenty feet deep, and the fact that Luley's watch had stopped at 2:45 o'clock, furnishes evidence as to the exact time of the mishap.

CAME ON EXCURSION.

Miss Wells is 19 years of age; her companion somewhat older. They came to the city on the Lake Erie and Western excursion train during the forenoon, and happened to meet Nill and Luley at the depot. Together the quartet inspected the court house, dined at the IXL restaurant and then boarded a car for Robison park. Here they rented a boat. Both men were rowing for a time; then Luley took the oars alone. It was while the party was returning from up the river, having floated much of the way down, that the accident occurred.

Nill, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nill, of Broadway, was quite well known. He began work as a machinist for the Pennsylvania company November 19, 1900, and it is noted as a strange coincidence that immediately below Nill's name on the records of the railway company is that of Arthur Nagle, who rescued Nill's companions. Nagle is not, however, now working for the company. Nagle's hands shows the effects of his splendid efforts to save the drowning party, for the nails are nearly torn from his hands where he clutched at the boat in his efforts at rescue.

Nill's relatives include his parents, a little sister, aged 7, and a brother, George Nill, the ball player, now with the Davenport, Iowa, team. The deceased was a member of Fort Wayne Court No. 98, Tribe of Ben Hur, and carried an insurance policy of $1,500 in that order and a $1,500 policy in the New York Life Insurance company.

BAPTISTS WERE DEFEATED

PRESBYTERIANS WIN TRACK MEET SATURDAY.

Interesting Program of Field Sports at Driving Park—Kimsey Evans Won Honors.

The first annual field meet between the young men's societies of the First Presbyterian and First Baptist churches was won by the Presbyterians Saturday by a score of 76 3/4 points to 54 1/4. The meet was held at the Driving park in the presence of a rather small crowd. Kimsey Evans, of the Presbyterians, won the all around medal. Evans won all the sprints, scoring 35 points for his society. The meet was one of the cleanest ever given in Fort Wayne and the utmost good feeling prevailed. A summary of events is given below:

Fifty Yard Dash—Evans, first; Duryea, second; Roebuck, third. Time, 6 1-5 seconds.

Shot Put—N. Olds, first; Yarnelle, second; Oiler, third. Distance 34 feet, 2 1/2 inches.

One Hundred Yard Dash—Evans, first; Yarnelle, second; Duryea, third. Time, 10 4-5 seconds.

Running High Jump—Yarnelle, N. Olds, Oiler and A. Olds were all tied in this event at the height of 4 feet, 8 inches.

One Hundred and Twenty Yard Hurdle—Evans, first; A. Olds, second; Duryea, third. Time, 17 4-5 seconds.

Half Mile Bicycle Race—Bucher, first; Rahe, second; Dart, third. Time, 1:23.

Two Hundred and Twenty Yard Dash—Evans, first; Yarnelle, second; Roebuck, third. Time, 25 1-5 seconds.

Pole Vault—Oiler, first; Diether and Rahe tied for second. Height, 8 feet, 6 inches.

Running Hop, Step and Jump—N. Olds, first; A. Olds, second; Burris, third. Distance 37 feet, 2 inches.

Four Hundred and Forty Yard Dash—Evans, first; Duryea, second; Dart, third. Time, 1:00 1/2.

One Mile Bicycle Race—Bucher, first; Rahe, second; Dart, third. Time, 3:21.

Running Broad Jump—A. Olds, first; Diether, second; N. Olds, third. Distance, 16 feet, 7 inches.

Half Mile Run—Evans, first; Graham, second; Duryea, third. Time, 2:27.

Hammer Throw—Evans, first; N. Olds, second; Oiler, third. Distance, 55 feet, 1 inch.

The half mile relay was won by the team from the Baptist church in 2:47.

AGED MISSIONARY DEAD.

New York, July 28.—The Rev. Dr. Stephen L. Baldwin, recording secretary of the Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, died today in Brooklyn of typhoid fever. He was 67 years of age. Dr. Baldwin was born at Somerville, N. J., and entered the ministry in 1858. From 1859 until 1882, with the exception of two years, he was a missionary in China.

WAYNE KING SOLD.

L. A. Centlivre has sold "Wayne King" to Goldman Bros., of Detroit, for a sum understood to be something under $4,000. The horse was driven by Frank Bogash in the races at Cleveland last week and showed up very well making a mile in 2:00 1/4 Wednesday. Wayne King was bred by County Commissioner C. E. Orff.

Auburn Dispatch: "Elwood George, the well known Fort Wayne shoe salesman, caught a six-pound bass at Hamilton lake a few days ago. It was the largest fish of the kind taken from that lake this season."

MINERS ARE UGLY

FOREMAN AT SHENANDOAH, FILLED WITH BUCKSHOT.

WAS ATTACKED BY STRIKERS

ANOTHER MAN ALSO PURSUED AND SHOT.

STRIKERS WELL CARED FOR A NUMBER OF ARRESTS MADE AT NANTICOKE.

Pottsville, Pa., July 28.—Daniel Landerman, foreman at the Kohlmoor colliery, Shenandoah, was shot today near his home by a crowd of strikers. His face and shoulders are torn with buckshot but it is thought he will recover.

Albert Landerman was also chased and shot and four other non-union men badly beaten.

MINERS WELL CARED FOR.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 28.—Secretary Wilson, of the Miners, said today that the anthracite men are being well cared for, although the assessment of the bituminous miners is just beginning to come in. He does not expect the bulk of the first assessment until next week, because the majority of the miners are paid semi-monthly. The clerical force at headquarters was increased today to handle the funds.

The miners are making an appeal to the members of the American Federation of Labor, which practically amounts to a direct appeal from the officers of the federation. The habeas corpus proceedings for the release of the men imprisoned for violating Judge Jackson's injunction are being prepared.

WANT TO RESUME WORK.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 28.—It is understood the rock miners will present a petition to the executive board of the mine workers' union requesting permission to return to work. It is said the employment of this class of anthracite miners would not affect the situation.

Warrants were issued today for the arrest of a number of striking miners at Nanticoke who are charged with holding up and assaulting several steam employees of the Susquehanna Coal Co., who were on their way to work on Saturday morning. Thus far only one arrest has been made.

About strike headquarters President Mitchell was busy receiving and answering telegrams from Indianapolis and the United Mine Workers' headquarters in West Virginia.

JUDGE JACKSON GETS BUSY.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 23.—Judge Jackson issued another injunction this afternoon of the same general character as those for whose violation "Mother" Jones and others were tried. It was issued upon the application of G. Clinton Gardner, receiver for the Flemington Coal company and is directed against thirty strikers and organizers.

DIED IN CHICAGO.

William M. Provines, whose critical illness at the Emergency hospital in Chicago was noted in The Sentinel Saturday, died at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, before Mr. Provines' mother and his sister, Mrs. G. R. Hench, could reach his bedside. Mr. Provines' death followed an operation for obstruction of the bowels.

The deceased was born at Huntington about forty-five years ago. About one year ago he came to Fort Wayne to take a position with the Mondamin Dairy company, but remained only a short time, going then to Indianapolis and later to Chicago, where he was employed in soliciting. During his brief residence in Fort Wayne Mr. Provines made many friends. Besides a wife, the surviving relatives include his mother, two sisters and a brother—Mrs. G. R. Hench, of this city; Mrs. George H. Conrad, of Quincy, Ill., and Frank Provines, of Chicago. The funeral services were held this afternoon from the late residence at 256 Bowen avenue, Chicago.

MANY CHANGES WILL ENSUE.

Rome, July 28.—The death of Cardinal Ledochowski, prefect of the congregation of the propaganda, probably will result in several changes in the high personnel of the congregation. General satisfaction is expressed at the deposition of Mgr. Meszerynski, who was ostensibly private secretary to Cardinal Ledochowski, but who was really his deputy, and whose personality was distasteful, especially to many Americans.

A PANIC IN OATS

JULY NEW OATS DROP 16 CENTS
IN TWENTY MINUTES.

PRICE THEN ROCKETS TO 67

LAST FIGURES QUOTED WERE THE CLOSING PRICE.

EXCITEMENT RULED THE PIT

RUMOR OF SHORT SETTLEMENT CAUSED THE FLURRY.

Chicago, July 26.—Great excitement ruled the oats pit today. Prices fluctuated so wildly that speculators were almost panic-stricken. In twenty minutes July new oats dropped from 89 to 55, a loss of 16 from the opening trade. In half an hour more the price rocketed to 67, the closing quotation. The cause of the pandemonium was the rumor that James Patten, who is supposed to control contracts for about 1,500,000 bushels of long stuff, which shorts fear they cannot deliver, had allowed his unfortunate opponents to settle at about 70 cents. No support was given the market for some time. Receipts of oats, which have not been liberal for some time, was much improved today, at 224 cars. A liberal movement was estimated for next week. Fair weather has been drying out the over-wet fields to some extent and other conditions favored a natural decline in prices. With the Patten contracts out of the way the crowd started to let the market take its course and thrash cut the inflation in values. July new oats, which opened firm at 71c, floundered to 55c before any support came. Then the small shorts heard that no settlement had been made, the few speculators who sold unguardedly rushed back to cover and with a whoop prices jumped to 67c. Trade was not particularly heavy, but fluctuations were very ragged. Quotations were 2c apart many times. Other grains felt the depressing influence of the stampede, especially July options. The net loss in July oats was 3½c; July wheat closed 2½c down, at 74½c, and July corn 2½c lower, at 63c.

PRIVY COUNCIL SEES KING.

London, July 26.—The duke of Devonshire, president of the council, and other members of the privy council, left here on a special train for Southampton this morning to attend a meeting of the council on the yacht Victoria and Albert, off Cowes, Isle of Wight, today. This will be the first meeting of the council ever held in a similar place or under such circumstances. The weather at Cowes today is favorable. King Edward passed an excellent night and experienced no ill effects from yesterday's cruise around the island. The meeting was brief. King Edward signed proclamations fixing the coronation for August 9, and making a bank holiday of the same date. The privy councillors, who had luncheon with the king, spent two hours on board the royal yacht.

ANTHRACITE WILL SOAR.

New York, July 26.—Predictions that anthracite coal will be ten dollars a ton within forty-eight hours are made by one of the largest wholesale dealers in this city. The statement was made after reports were received showing that the local market is absolutely barren of coal, of both domestic and steam sizes. An indication of the extent of the coal famine comes from Plainfield, N. J., in a dispatch which says there is less than 100,000 tons of anthracite in the yards there, and that for the first time in the history of the yards soft coal has been stored in them, and that one-half of the total amount in store is bituminous. There are now in Port Morris, N. J., three hundred gondolas of coal, about 7,500 tons, but there may be 7,500 tons more in today.

LEASE NEW QUARTERS.

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, which has for some time been holding its Sunday services at Masonic Temple and its mid-week meetings in Harmony hall, will vacate both these locations early in August. The society has leased fine quarters in the handsome new Flick building on West Perry street, where all its services will be held. The large hall is being carpeted today, and the furniture will be installed there early in the coming week.

MISS VAN ALLEN A BRIDE.

Newport, R. I., July 26.—The marriage of Miss Sara Stewart Van Allen, youngest daughter of James J. Van Allen, and granddaughter of Mrs. William Astor, to Robert Joseph Collier, son of Peter Fenlon Collier, of New York, took place today at the Van Allen villa, "Wakohurst." Only the members of the two families and a few intimate friends were present.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss May Van Allen, and the groom by Robert R. Remington. There were no bridesmaids or ushers. Bishop Byrnes, of Nashville, Tenn., officiated, assisted by Rev. Wm. B. Meenan, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church. After the ceremony a nuptial mass was celebrated at St. Mary's church by Bishop Byrnes and Father Meenan.

CHILD'S FINGER TORN OFF.

Auburn, Ind., July 26.—Frank Nugent, six years old, son of S. H. Nugent, of Jackson township, got his right hand caught in the pulleys of a hay fork yesterday in such a manner that the fore finger was literally torn from his hand, the tendons being pulled out by the roots and the hand torn and lacerated back to the wrist.

AFFAIR HAS BECOME FARCE

CLOSING OF THE RELIGIOUS SCHOOLS IN FRANCE.

In Paris No Effort is Made to Enforce Decree—Situation in Country Serious.

Paris, July 26.—The serving of official notices closing the unauthorized religious schools began this morning and was carried out so far as Paris was concerned without any disturbances.

At Mauvaux, Dept. Du Nord, the expulsion of the sisters led to a riot, in which two persons were arrested. A police commissary and ten rioters were injured.

The resistance to the official decree in the capital is developing into a farce. The government allows the sisters in the Rue Salneuve to remain because an orphanage and a home for the aged are attached to their school. On the other hand the sisters in another street, who were ordered by their mother superior to leave, were prevented from complying by a band of fifty enthusiasts, who surrounded them and shut them up in the school house. The police are holding off from expelling them by force.

The situation in the provinces is more grave. Telegrams containing petitions for clemency and delay are pouring in on President Loubet from all quarters and a telegram from Brest says the outlook in several of the neighboring towns is serious. Opposition to the authorities was offered, but no casualties have been reported.

At Lyons there was no disturbance. The schools there have been closed and the doors sealed.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS.

A series of evangelistic services, to continue several weeks, will be inaugurated at the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ on October 12. Professor Mallard, a noted evangelist, will conduct the meetings, which will continue a month or more. The reports of officers of the church, presented at a congregational meeting Thursday evening showed that $500 had been raised for all purposes during the last quarter. The report of the pastor showed nine new members added, making a total of sixty new members since January 1st.

DIPLOMATIC BREACH HEALED

Geneva, July 26.—The Journal de Geneve announces the resumption of diplomatic relations between Switzerland and Italy, which were ruptured April 10, of the present year, owing to the refusal of Switzerland to give satisfaction regarding an anarchist article published in Geneva, insulting the memory of the murdered King Humbert. The settlement was arranged through the mediation of Germany.

DUEL FOUGHT WITH KNIVES.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 26.—When N. O. Downing, a merchant at Vermillion, Ill., asked James Stubbs to correct his son for gossiping about Mrs. Downing the two men quarreled and fought with knives. Downing was dangerously cut and later tried to shoot Stubbs, but was restrained by friends.

MET A TERRIBLE DEATH.

Dyersburg, Tenn., July 26.—Will Young and Dan Macauliff met a terrible death while repairing a steam pipe at a mill here today. The scaffolding on which they were working gave way and they fell into one of the boilers and were literally cooked, the flesh dropping from them in large pieces when they were pulled out.

DIED FROM INHALING GAS.

Chicago, July 26.—Mrs. Ella Perry, formerly of Watkins, N. Y., died here at Passavant hospital today from the effects of gas which she inhaled with suicidal intent Thursday night. Relatives of Mrs. Perry live in Watkins. She left word, saying she was alone and friendless.

THE FIGHT A FAKE

SUCH IS THE CRY NOW RAISED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

HINTED THAT FITZ LAY DOWN

MAYOR HAD TIP JEFFRIES WAS TO WIN IN EIGHTH.

EXPERTS SAY IT WAS SQUARE

DETAILS OF JEFFRIES' VICTORY OVER FITZSIMMONS.

San Francisco, July 26.—Mayor Schmitz has given out the following statement for publication relative to last night's prize fight between James Jeffries and Robert Fitzsimmons:

"From the information I have received I am forced to believe that this exhibition is no better than the previous ones we have had, namely, the Jeffries-Ruhlin and Gans-McFadden and others, and it will do much toward discouraging the spirit in this city. In fact unless some indubitable evidence is produced to disprove the information furnished me by the Examiner, I shall hereafter have to prohibit all such professional 'fight' exhibitions.

(Signed) "E. E. Schmitz, Mayor of San Francisco."

MAY STOP THE GAME.

When seen at his office today Mayor Schmitz was emphatic in his assertion that, should he be convinced after a thorough investigation that last night's contest between Fitzsimmons and Jeffries was a pre-arranged affair, he would do all in his power to prohibit future prize fights in this city. Mayor Schmitz has been very much disgusted with many of the recent fights that have taken place in this city, it being evident that they were pre-arranged and that the best man did not always win. It is expected that the fighting game in this city will be forever killed, should conclusive evidence be adduced to prove the assertion of certain persons, who are supposed to be well informed in the matter, that the fight between Fitzsimmons and Jeffries was a fake.

RAISE CRY OF "FAKE."

San Francisco, July 26.—Now that the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons contest for the world's championship is over, the cry of "fake" has been raised though without justification in the opinion of Referee Graney, George Siler and the great majority of other sporting men who witnessed the contest. A communication sent to Mayor Schmitz before the fight, to be opened after it was over, stated that the writer had been informed that Jeffries was to win in the eighth round, which he did. The mayor has stated that if the charge that the contest was a prearranged affair cannot be disproved he will be compelled to prohibit such exhibitions hereafter.

Referee Graney says: "I think the contest was legitimate. From a referee's standpoint the fight was as near perfect as a fight could be. There were no fouls—not even a semblance of a foul. I had to caution them once, but this was not for anything that either did to the other, but for their bumping into me. It was the greatest fight I ever saw and I doubt if there will ever be another like it."

"It is absolutely ridiculous to talk anything else. Fitzsimmons fought a hard fight, the greatest I ever saw. He worked hard all the time and when I got in the deciding blow on him he was taken off his guard. After I had my eye cut Delaney told me to start in and finish him, for fear that I would be blinded and would be unable to keep on fighting."

Fitzsimmons is equally emphatic in his assertion that it was a hard fought, legitimate battle. George Siler said of the fight that Bob Fitzsimmons, although beaten, rather was, the greatest fighter that ever stepped into an American prize ring.

WHAT NEWSPAPERS SAY.

The Chronicle this morning says: "There was no taint or suspicion coming from any quarter that the contest was not strictly fair, and the best man won. Surely no other encounter of the kind ever waged combined all the good qualities of that fought last evening."

The Call says: "For seven rounds Robert Fitzsimmons made a pitiable spectacle of the young Hercules from the south and then fell under just such a blow as that with which he won the world's championship from Corbett at Carson on that memorable 17th of March, 1897."

The Examiner insists that the fight was a fake pure and simple. HOW THE MONEY GOES. James Jeffries will receive 60 per cent and Robert Fitzsimmons 40 per cent of $23,910 which is 75 per cent of the gross receipts of the fight, $31,880 having been received through the sale of seats. Jeffries will receive $14,346 and Fitzsimmons will add $9,564 to his bank account.

The share of the San Francisco Athletic club is $7,970. Out of this it must pay the expenses of the fight, including $500 for the referee. Jeffries' manager, Delaney, referring to the champion's future plans, said: "We will consider the challenge of Corbett and determine whether or not it is reasonable. I don't know what his proposition is. If he means business we will meet him and will take care of him. Jeffries is young and strong and has no intention of quitting the ring."

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

San Francisco, July 26.—It was 10:05 last night when Fitzsimmons stepped into the ring, carrying his gloves and dressed in a long, light blue bath robe. Following him were Clark Ball, Hank Griffin, George Dawson and a bottleholder. Jeffries stepped into the ring at 10:06, dressed in a long overcoat, pants, a sweater and a Panama hat. About him were Billy Delaney, Joe Egan, Joe Kennedy and George Miller. Jeffries walked up and inspected Fitzsimmons' bandages, which he wore on both hands, passing them without comment. Jeffries wore no bandages. Both men were given a warm reception.

Fitz first took the northwest corner, but a moment later moved to the northeast and finally the southeast corner. The champion took the northwest. Fitzsimmons took his stool and sat quietly, chewing gum. He looked well, slightly older than when he last fought in San Francisco, but much the same otherwise. Jeffries looked confident and sat in his corner chewing gum while the little preliminary announcements were being made.

Jeffries' cheek was opened with a left hook and more blood flowed. The champion rushed, swinging left and right. They were blocked, but another left caught Bob hard in the stomach. Bob jabbed left to face twice. Jeffries looked worried. Fitzsimmons was cool and got out of the way. Jeffries' face was covered with blood at the end of the round from his nose and a gash over the right eye. Delaney busied himself over him between rounds.

Round 4.—Jeffries looked enraged as he crouched and clinched his lips. He was very careful and kept clear of Fitzsimmons' left jabs. Bob blocked two swings for the head and got out of reach of another. A moment later they came together and exchanged lefts on the face. Fitzsimmons put a short right hook on the head and Jeffries landed a left on the chest. Fitzsimmons put Jeffries' head back with a left jab and started the blood. Jeffries got another right on the head, but came in with two left hooks, one for the head and another for the body. Fitzsimmons was going away, however, and the force was broken. Bob landed a stiff left on the body, but got a right on the head. Fitzsimmons then took a turn at forcing, putting his left on the face twice and compelling Jeffries to duck away. Jeffries looked worried as he listened to Delaney's instructions at the end of the round.

was brown as a berry, showing the effect of hard work.

Fitzsimmons was introduced first and was given quite as hearty a greeting as that which was given the champion a moment later. Bob doffed his dressing gown, showing up in splendid shape. He wore short lavender tights and a belt of the American flag. Jeffries wore black tights and a belt of the American flag.

Eddie Graney, the referee, was attired in the conventional evening dress.

The men were photographed with hands clasped in the center of the ring.

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

Round 1.—They came quickly to the center, Jeffries in a half crouching attitude, and both feinting rapidly. Jeffries followed Bob around, feinting with his left and looking for an opening. Fitzsimmons was the first to lead. He sent a short right jab to the jaw and another a moment later. Jeffries crouched and rushed, but Fitzsimmons neatly sidestepped out of the way. Jeffries rushed again and Fitzsimmons smothered his left for the body. Both of them did a lot of feinting, Jeffries finally trying his left for the face, but it fell short. He forced his man into the corner, but missed a hard left swing. Then Fitzsimmons tried for the face, landing lightly. Jeffries sent in a hard left on the body and Bob countered on the head without damage. Jeffries continued to force his man and when the gong sounded corners he was on the aggressive. When the champion took his corner his nose was bleeding slightly from one of Fitzsimmons' jabs. He looked confident, however, and sat watching Fitzsimmons during the minute's rest.

Round 2.—Jeffries went right after Fitzsimmons, trying his left for the head and falling short. Fitzsimmons jabbed his left to the neck and Jeffries smiled and forced him to the corner. Bob quickly sidestepped out of the way. Fitzsimmons tried a right for the head, but was quickly and neatly blocked. Fitzsimmons broke ground before Jeffries' left, but finally tried a left for the head. It was light, however, and the champion caught it on the shoulder. They exchanged lefts, Bob putting a stiff left on the face. Jeffries crouched lower and sent Fitzsimmons back again on the ropes with a left on the body. Fitzsimmons put two left hooks on the face and got out of the way of the champion's left. Jeffries went after him with a stiff left on the head, but got a left jab on the nose that brought blood in a stream. At the close of the round Jeffries was somewhat worried, but took matters coolly during the minute's rest. His nose was bleeding freely. Fitzsimmons, on the other hand, was as cool as a cucumber and was not in the least winded.

Round 3.—Jeffries came up, forcing matters. His bloody nose annoyed him a little. He changed his tactics for a moment and stood up straight. Two left leads were blocked by Fitzsimmons and a left on Jeffries' sore nose was landed by him. Jeffries tried another left, but was stopped with a left jab on the face. In a clinch Jeffries pushed Fitzsimmons back. Fitzsimmons put a stiff one on the nose and Jeffries bled freely. Jeffries' cheek was opened with a left hook and more blood flowed. The champion rushed, swinging left and right. They were blocked, but another left caught Bob hard in the stomach. Bob jabbed left to face twice. Jeffries looked worried. Fitzsimmons was cool and got out of the way. Jeffries' face was covered with blood at the end of the round from his nose and a gash over the right eye. Delaney busied himself over him between rounds.

Round 4.—Jeffries looked enraged as he crouched and clinched his lips. He was very careful and kept clear of Fitzsimmons' left jabs. Bob blocked two swings for the head and got out of reach of another. A moment later they came together and exchanged lefts on the face. Fitzsimmons put a short right hook on the head and Jeffries landed a left on the chest. Fitzsimmons put Jeffries' head back with a left jab and started the blood. Jeffries got another right on the head, but came in with two left hooks, one for the head and another for the body. Fitzsimmons was going away, however, and the force was broken. Bob landed a stiff left on the body, but got a right on the head. Fitzsimmons then took a turn at forcing, putting his left on the face twice and compelling Jeffries to duck away. Jeffries looked worried as he listened to Delaney's instructions at the end of the round.

was brown as a berry, showing the effect of hard work. Fitzsimmons was introduced first and was given quite as hearty a greeting as that which was given the champion a moment later. Bob doffed his dressing gown, showing up in splendid shape. He wore short lavender tights and a belt of the American flag. Jeffries wore black tights and a belt of the American flag. Eddie Graney, the referee, was attired in the conventional evening dress. The men were photographed with hands clasped in the center of the ring. At 10:19 p. m. Graney delivered his instructions to the men, who took their corners at 10:25. While Jeffries fixed his belt, Bob tested the ring by jumping around the floor.

At 10:19 p. m. Graney delivered his instructions to the men, who took their corners at 10:25. While Jeffries fixed his belt, Bob tested the ring by jumping around the floor.

Round 6.—Jeffries came up and crouched low. He missed his first attempt with a left for the head. He rushed, but Fitzsimmons blocked every blow and got out of the way. Fitzsimmons put a right on Jeffries' head, one on the body and another on the nose. Jeffries broke ground and ducked out of the way. They exchanged lefts on the head, Fitzsimmons' being the most damaging. Jeffries rushed again and again, but he was smothered and took three lefts and a right on the face. Jeffries rushed Fitzsimmons to the ropes, but got a right and left on the face, which started the blood afresh. Fitzsimmons showed remarkable cleverness in getting away from rushes. His left jabs were cutting, and just as the gong sounded he put another on Jeffries' sore mouth and nose.

clincher repeatedly. Fitzsimmons put a terrific right on the jaw and a moment later a left on the face. Jeffries cut Fitz' right cheek with a left. They fought rapidly, Fitzsimmons cutting Jeffries' face with his left and putting his right on the head. Jeffries was bleeding freely and was tired. Just before the close of the round Fitzsimmons put a right over Jeffries' left eye, cutting it and bringing blood. Jeff was not winded, but was bleeding from the nose, left eye and right cheek. The only mark on Fitzsimmons was a slight abrasion of the right cheek.

Round 6.—Jeffries came up and crouched low. He missed his first attempt with a left for the head. He rushed, but Fitzsimmons blocked every blow and got out of the way. Jeffries' nose was broken. San Francisco, Cal., July 26.—Upon an examination being made by a surgeon after his fight with Fitzsimmons last night, it was found that Jeffries' nose was broken. The champion was not aware of the injury until the excitement of the battle had worn off. A doctor was then called and he pronounced the small bones of the nose broken. Jeffries believes the injury was received in the second or third round from one of Fitzsimmons' left jabs on the bridge of the nose. The champion declared he felt no pain from the injury and would soon be in good shape again. He spent the night at the baths.

When Fitzsimmons had been counted out and he had congratulated Jeffries, he walked to the side of the ring and flinging one of the gloves he had drawn from his hand to the right and the other to the left, among the spectators, he declared in a loud voice that he had fought his last fight.

OPINIONS DIFFER. San Francisco, July 26.—There is a wide difference of opinion in this city as to the character of last night's fight between Jeffries and Fitzsimmons. The charge that the fight was a fake and that it had been prearranged for Fitzsimmons to go out in the eighth round does not meet with general belief, although there is no doubt that Mayor Schmitz was warned that the fight was fixed to end in the eighth round.

SUMMER KITCHEN AFIRE.

Ten dollars is the amount of damage occasioned by a slight fire at the residence of L. F. Schroeder, 536 Lasselle street, on Saturday morning. A summer kitchen caught fire from a stove, but the department made short work of the fire.

TO MEET IN INDIANAPOLIS. Philadelphia, July 26.—It was announced here today that the third annual encampment of the Spanish-American War Veterans will be held in Indianapolis on September 22, 23 and 24. President Roosevelt has written that he expects to attend the encampment on September 23.

MAY IMPEACH HIM

MINERS AFTER THE SCALP OF

CONTEMPLATE SUCH COURSE

DEPENDS ON DISSOLUTION OF INJUNCTIONS.

NO APPEAL TO PRESIDENT

MAY BE ASKED TO PARDON ANY MINERS SENT TO JAIL.

Indianapolis, July 26.—The United Mine Workers may try to obtain the impeachment of Federal Judge Jackson, of West Virginia, who restrained them from holding meetings to induce men to quit work and imprisoned a number of the organizers for violating an injunction. The plan of action is not definitely outlined, but it is probable that the impeachment proceedings will be begun soon, if Judge Jackson, after a final hearing, refuses to dissolve the injunction.

Secretary Wilson admitted today that the miners contemplate this course and that a complete transcript of the case, including the complaints of Judge Jackson's decision, will be prepared for submission to President Roosevelt and the senate. The miners also intend to give to the public the evidence in the case.

Wilson says that the miners will not ask President Roosevelt to interfere with the injunction.

As he says, they realize that the president is without power as to injunctions, but if the habeas corpus proceedings fail to release the organizers, the president will be asked to pardon them. The habeas corpus proceedings will be begun as soon as the papers can be made out.

WILL HELP FIREMEN.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 26.—President Mitchell was kept busy receiving committees at strike headquarters today. A committee from the stationary firemen spent some time with him. It seems the Indianapolis convention made no provision for the firemen, but it is understood that they will receive the same relief as the miners. Plans mapped out by some of the local assemblies of the United Mine Workers called forth protests. A committee from Nanticoke explained to Mr. Mitchell that the strikers with large families should receive the first consideration and that the relief given them should be greater than that given to men with small families.

The collieries of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company are well equipped now with steam men and it is possible that an attempt may be made to operate one of the collieries next week. General Superintendent Richards attended a conference with President Baer at Philadelphia yesterday, but as yet Mr. Richards has issued no orders to begin preparations for the operation of any of the mines of his company.

PRESIDENT GIVES APPROVAL

PASSES ON FINDINGS IN THE GLENN COURT MARTIAL.

Disapproves Findings in the Case of Lieutenant Cook, Who Was Acquitted of Grave Charge.

Washington, July 26.—The president has returned to the war department the cases of Major Edwin S. Glenn, Fifth infantry; First Lieut. Julian P. Gaujot, Tenth cavalry, and Lieut. Norman G. Cook, Philippine scouts.

Glenn was found guilty by the court and sentenced to be suspended for one month and to forfeit $50 of his pay; Gaujot was found guilty and sentenced to suspension for three months and to forfeit $50 per month during that period; Cook was acquitted.

The president approves the findings in the case of Major Glenn and Lieutenant Gaujot and disapproves the action of the court in the case of Lieutenant Cook. He makes no comment on the cases whatever beyond the approval in the two cases and disapproval in the one.

Glenn was tried by court martial for administering the water cure to the president of Igbaras, and Gaujot for administering the cure to three natives. Lieutenant Cook was tried on the charge of ordering three natives to be shot by the Macabebe scouts.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1902.

Mr. Bryan is camping in Maine, but that state will probably be bent perditionward this fall, as it has been most of the time since the strenuous days of Governor Kent.

Mr. Bryan's speech at Nantasket ought to make a good impression on the democrats of the east. It must have been a different sort of utterance from that which was looked for.

Former President Cleveland, who owns a considerable block of Indianapolis gas company stock, complains that his investment pays him too small dividends. Patrons of Mr. Cleveland's corporation have done a good deal of complaining, too. Only it was because the company furnished too little gas.

Winton Churchill, the American author, is going to enter politics in New Hampshire, and will be a candidate for the legislature. Can it be that our own Booth Tarkington's scheme to have the states give prizes and pensions and other public perquisites to authors is backed by a country-wide conspiracy? There is terror in the thought. Must the cry be raised "Down with 'them literary fallers'?"

Major Glenn, who was court-martialed and penalized for administering the water cure in the Philippines, justifies his action on the ground that it was the only way to obtain information of plots and conspiracies against the Americans, and adds to this the information that every native Filipino is an enemy of the United States and always will be. This is a very cheerful prospect. Assimilation of the Filipino would be a mighty easy thing if he would only hold still and permit it to be done. Like the invalid with a weak stomach who swallowed an oyster, we know it would be good for us, if the morsel would only stay down. But our Philippine oyster won't, according to Major Glenn, who ought to know.

Senator Fairbanks is much amused by a report emanating from New York that he will retire from politics at the close of his present senatorial term, and the Indianapolis Journal prints an authoritative denial. We can easily believe Senator Fairbanks has no such intention. But Mr. Fairbanks may have to yield to "circumstances over which he has no control." While there is very distinct prospect that the next Indiana legislature will be republican on joint ballot, a prospect much heightened by the number of hold-over senators, this acrobatic state of Indiana has done some very astonishing ground and lofty tumbling at election time, and the outlook for a political somersault is regarded as a little better this year than in any campaign since 1892, at which time, by the by, it did not look that way a bit prior to the voting. But the rumor that Mr. Fairbanks purposes to retire is a bit amusing.

Mr. Bryan's speech at the first banquet of the New England Democratic league at Nantasket was a strong, frank and reasonable utterance. Mr. Bryan spoke on "The Basis of Harmony," and the sentiment that runs through the whole course of his speech is quite different from the sentiment of some of his other recent public declarations. He lays down as essential that democrats to be harmonious must be in agreement upon the fundamental principles of democracy, and that difference of views upon mere issues of the time cannot operate to keep any real democrat from support of the party. In Mr. Bryan's view the real political conflict is between the democratic party and the forces of depredatory wealth. Those who have been out of the party, but now in sympathy with its antagonism of powerful trusts and corporations, he welcomes back with no word of blame for their desertion. Those who are not in sympathy with the party's attitude he counsels to remain outside the lines. Mr. Bryan's address ought to have, and we believe will have, a most agreeable effect in the east, and in the west, too, for the matter of that. It is a forceful, patriotic and candid statement of the democratic situation, and so striking in no feature as his acknowledgment by not referring to it that the 16 to 1 issue has no present place among the issues upon which the party next will battle.

The farmer who has his new crop of oats thrashed and ready for market is in shape to do a little strutting with money in his inside pocket. But he had better hurry to market with his grain. The July shortage will not last much longer.

Senator Foraker says Roosevelt will be the republican nominee in 1904. No disinterested person is disposed to deny it. At the same time there is no call for Senator Foraker to allude to a "few flickering flames that some ambitious partisans are trying to fan into a blaze." Marcus A. Hanna is from Ohio. Has Foraker no state pride?

Captain Putnam Bradlee Strong has turned up in London, avowing that he did not steal May Yohe's diamonds and that he wants to retire from the public gaze and cleanse himself from the filth of his folly. No one will offer him hindrance and if the miscellaneous May can be persuaded or compelled to step back in the shadows for indefinite time none will be stricken with regret. She can no longer plead youth in extenuation of her giddiness.

The saloonkeeper who was found guilty of selling to a minor and fined for his offense got what he deserved. But how about many other saloonkeepers who have done and will continue to do the same thing? The violations of this class are numerous. What is the prosecutor going to do about them? Will he investigate and attempt to eradicate the evil, as it is his duty to do, or will he "lay down" his stuffed club?

The treasurer of Marshall county has paid into the county strong box over $700 of accrued interest on county funds in his custody. When Treasurer O'Keefe took office he announced his conviction that public office is a public trust and pledged himself to give the county the benefit of such interest as county funds might earn. He has begun to fulfill that pledge. This is an innovation pleasant to look upon, but is not likely to be extensively emulated by other county treasurers. Mr. O'Keefe says that "two percent of all the public money in the possession of the officials of the state of Indiana will amount to $300,000 a year. This money should be saved to the public." So it would and so it should.

United States Judge Jackson's course in the contempt cases in West Virginia must be recorded as about the most extreme and drastic of which there is any record in the history of federal courts. There is warrant, of course, for his injunction restraining strikers from interfering with mining property and offering forcible resistance to miners who are willing to work, but he goes to the point of invading the rights of citizenship and suppressing liberty of speech in enjoining certain strike leaders from using the moral suasion of argument to induce miners to refrain from work. The principle upon which he acts has been repeatedly overthrown in recent years and the appeal of the miners to a higher jurisdiction doubtless will have similar result.

Colonel Groesbeck, just returned from the Philippines, says the water cure is humane and in all respects to be commended. Major Glenn, who has just been convicted on charges of administering the water cure and permitting it to be done, is sentenced to one month's suspension from duty and to pay a fine of $50. Secretary Root approves the findings of the court-martial. From this it would appear that Colonel Groesbeck is likely to discover there is both latitude and longitude between the views he holds himself and those prevailing in the war department at Washington. Colonel Groesbeck's attack of jawitis seems likely to get him upon the carpet in the war department.

The prospect of a republican onslaught on the trusts has not yet seriously disturbed the values of trust securities.

THE CAUSE OF THE WAR.

There are not a few in number who have always thought the Anglo-Boer war was brought on by very trivial causes, and now comes confirmation of this view. It is said that the late Cecil Rhodes was treated with impoliteness by President Kruger the last time the Colossus had an interview with the "old lion of South Africa." Mr. Rhodes had journeyed to Pretoria to confer with President Kruger upon issues involved in the difficulties leading to the war. He met Oom Paul in the street on his way to church with his bible under his arm. Mr. Rhodes began a statement of his mission, but was cut off short by Mr. Kruger, who vowed he "must go to church." Mr. Rhodes was angered and never undertook to resume the conference.

If President Kruger had heard Mr. Rhodes out, or if Mr. Rhodes had bottled his wrath and renewed the interview when Mr. Kruger was returning from church, perhaps the war would have been averted. This distracting possibility recalls a legend.

Long ago there reigned two monarchs whose kingdoms adjoined. Both were pretty wise and fairly amiable as kings went in that day and had contrived to get along, not without some quarreling and an occasional mix-up, to be sure, but without actual war. On the whole they lived in very neighborly relations and each was indebted to the other for many kindnesses. One day King Ping had an idea and dispatched a courier in mighty haste with this message to King Pong: "Send me at once a blue pig with a green tail, or—" King Pong heard the courier no further. "King Ping says that to me, does he?" said King Pong to himself and likewise to the courier. "Well," he continued, "you go back to your royal master and deliver to his majesty my reply." The courier hastened back. King Ping hurriedly tore open the billet and read: "Sire: I have no blue pig with a green tail, and if I had—" King Ping read no more of the message. Tearing it into fragments, he exclaimed: "He defies me, does he! We shall see." And he called his army together and began his march into King Pong's dominions. King Pong heard of his coming and marshaled his army. They fought a great battle in which each suffered fearfully and neither gained advantage. They drew off for a breathing spell and then were at it again. So it went on. The war was long and stubbornly fought. Each doughty monarch fought down to the last able-bodied man in his kingdom and to the bottom of his strong box. Finally, when the resources of both were exhausted and neither side had gained any advantage, King Ping and King Pong each thought of asking for a truce with a view to peace. Whereat the fighting was stopped and King Ping and King Pong met midway between the remnants of their respective armies and began to talk of the causes of the war. "Why did you march against me with your army?" asked King Pong. "Why did you send an impudent message of defiance to my request for a simple favor?" rejoined King Ping. "I never," said King Pong. "You demanded of me a blue pig with a green tail or—" "If you did not have one of that kind any other color would do," broke in King Ping, giving the closing words of his request. "And you said you had no such pig," went on King Ping, "and if you had—" "I would be very glad to send it to you," said King Pong, repeating the closing words of his message of reply. "Then we both meant well," said King Pong. "We surely did," replied King Ping. "And the war was all a mistake and the blood we have shed and the treasure we have wasted was useless and unnecessary," said King Pong. "We both went off half-cocked," frankly declared King Ping. "Let's shake and dismiss our armies," said King Pong. And forthwith they did.

The National Federation of Millers is whetting a knife with which it hopes to lift the scalp of one David Bremner Henderson, representative in congress from the Third Iowa district and speaker of the national house of representatives. The particular grievance is that as said speaker Mr. Henderson caused defeat of the London dock charge clause in a bill designed to relieve American shippers from certain extortions. As Colonel Henderson has solacing margin of about twelve thousand votes to go on in the Third Iowa district he may not take this matter much to heart nor often to his pillow.

Those ladrones in Luzon seem to have heard of one Mr. Tracy. Anyway, they broke through the cordon in Cavite just when the grand roundup seemed to promise a good bag of game.

Every legal means should be invoked to put out of business the saloonkeeper who sells liquor to a boy. The law is ample, but the means of getting it enforced seem to be shockingly incapable or warped badly to the wrong side of the issue.

M. Santos-Dumont says with $1,000,000 he can construct an airship that will cross the Atlantic ocean in two days. M. Santos-Dumont's successes in aerial navigation make a tolerably good bolster for his claim, and with his genius and willingness united on the ground there does not seem to be wanting to the combination any factor save the million. If John W. Gates could only be convinced the Brazilian sky-sailor is bluffing it is probable the money would also be in sight.

Dispatches from Tacoma say Outlaw Tracy recently appeared at a lumber camp, dined with the lumbermen and took his departure without putting another notch in his trusty rifle. The same dispatch says he was not wounded, but was fresh and rested. Should think so! Tracy is nothing if not fresh, and as to being rested, there is no reason why he should not be. The fellows in the hue and cry have been doing most of the running and doubtless are tired. At all events, it is reported that pursuit of Tracy for the time has ceased.

Senator Pettigrew says Mr. Bryan will play a strong hand in fixing the policy of the democratic party in the next campaign, else Mr. Bryan will be found in the new political party which the former Dakota senator and others are about to launch. Mr. Mr. Bryan's friends, and the host numbers millions, will not believe, even upon the word of Senator Pettigrew, that the Nebraska leader has purpose to pursue any such rule or ruin game as that. Mr. Bryan has in two campaigns had the most loyal support of the democratic masses and there is not in the country today any man in any political party who has so strong a hold on so large a personal and devoted following as Mr. Bryan. But they are attached to Mr. Bryan by ties of democracy. If Mr. Bryan ceases to be a democrat, he will in the same moment cease to be the leader he now is. There may be differences as to party policy, as to making of issues, as to choice of candidates, as to qualifications for leadership, as to tests of loyalty, and all that, but in the masses of the party there is little difference as to Mr. Bryan. He is admired and trusted for his honesty, courage and ability. But not so many are in accord with Mr. Bryan's views as formerly, though he has suffered no loss of esteem or affection. Mr. Bryan will speak in Boston tomorrow and doubtless will take occasion to define more distinctly his notion of what is expedient.

President Schwab, of the steel trust, has recovered from his "serious illness" as suddenly as he was stricken. Perhaps he was curious to know what kind of a flurry he might cause.

Judge Jackson asserts that in talking of beginning impeachment proceedings against him the mine workers are merely bluffing and seeking to intimidate him. On the other hand the mine workers declare they are in terrible earnest and will push the contest. As the matter now stands in order to "make good" Judge Jackson will have to send a few more strikers to jail for contempt and the miners will have to give the judge an immediate jar of some sort.

Near Bloomington, which city is the seat of one of Indiana's chief institutions of learning and culture, whitecapping has become a common nocturnal pursuit. Within a few weeks four outrages of the sort have been committed, the last victim of this species of outlawry being a woman who was most brutally whipped. Between the punishments inflicted by whitecappers and the capital penalty administered by mobs of lynchers there is only a difference of degree. Both are forms of lawlessness that disgrace the state and cast undying odium on the communities where they are practiced. Of the authorities which permit these outrages nothing can be said that fits the case.

The cost of producing anthracite coal ready for the market cuts neither ice nor price with the trust that controls the output. Anthracite has been given several boosts since the strike began, though sales have been of surplus stocks mined at the same cost as the coal which was sold at the lower figures which prevailed before the strike began. The strike may go on or may end, but the probability is extreme that the price to consumers will not drop materially during the present season. In any event, the operators must make up what they have lost by the strike and a bit of toll added for the annoyance.

The suicide of a Chicago millionaire business man, whose health and mind were shattered from overwork, is only another instance in proof that tremendous success is but too often purchased at tremendous cost.

A California desperado, after pumping cold lead into five men, one of whom died, took to the timber with the announcement that he would make Bandit Tracy look like Chinese small coin and those who liked might pursue. If he is really going to play Tracy, much time and incidentally considerable human life may be saved by giving him right of way.

Champion Jeffries swore and ex-Champion Fitzsimmons wept when together they discussed the charge that the recent fight was a fake. Each reiterated that the other was the best man he had ever met. But all this does not explain why Fitzsimmons should accept a couple of knock-out punches with his hands down after eight rounds all his own way, nor does it effectually dispose of the fact that the mayor of San Francisco had received days before the fight a letter stating that the fight would end just at the time and in the manner it did. Nothing has ever made the prize fight game respectable, though much has been done to make it nasty.

Judge Jackson, the federal judge in West Virginia who had come to be regarded as about "the limit" in the matter of injunctions against strikers, has been ruthlessly elbowed from his place of eminence by Judge Keller, also of the United States court in that state. Judge Keller has just issued a writ of injunction restraining friends of the miners' organization from giving food or other supplies to the striking miners in that state. Evidently the purpose of the injunction is to prevent the strikers receiving any benefit from the big defense fund now being raised by the national organization. If this injunction is held to be legal it means that the strikers will be absolutely starved into submission to the mine operators or forced to leave the state. It is hardly conceivable that such a drastic order of court can stand. It goes far beyond the operation of any principle of equity hitherto enunciated in this country and holds out in prospect such possibilities of judicial tyranny as to cause more than the miners to think it over. In effect, the order means that the striking miners have no right to live except they get their living under such conditions as the West Virginia operators choose to prescribe.

THE DEADLY SUBWAY BLAST.

New York, July 29.—As the result of a premature blast in the rapid transit subway on Park avenue at Forty-first street today, four men were seriously hurt, two of whom, it is thought, will die. This is the unlucky section of the tunnel in which a number of accidents have occurred. In the last previous one Major Ira Shaler, one of the contractors, received injuries which resulted in his death some days later.

YOUNG FARMER LOSES LIFE

PATRICK MALONEY DROWNED AT CHURUBUSCO.

Was Fishing and Overturned the Boat.—Leaves Sorrowing Bride of Two Months.

(Special to The Sentinel.) Churubusco, Ind., July 29.—Patrick Maloney, 27 years of age and one of the best known young men of this place, was drowned in Blue Lake at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening. The unfortunate man was a son of John Maloney, a pioneer farmer.

Young Maloney was engaged in fishing at the lake and in reaching out of his boat lost his balance. The boat was overturned in deep water. Maloney came to the surface twice and made frantic efforts to clutch the side of the boat, but failed and sank to his death.

But two months ago Mr. Maloney was united in marriage to the only daughter of J. W. Nickey, of this place. He was a brother of James Maloney and a nephew of Captain Frank Wilkinson and John Wilkinson, of Fort Wayne.

Though search for the body began immediately after the accident, the remains were not recovered until 11 o'clock Monday night. The funeral services will be held from the Catholic church at Ege, Noble county, Wednesday morning.

BLUES WERE DEFEATED.

The Blues were defeated at Ossian Saturday by the Invincibles, by a score of 10 to 4. The Blues played indifferent ball and in consequence of having defeated them, the Invincibles want to try something harder from Fort Wayne. The game was witnessed by a large crowd and the Blues were favorites in the betting at 2 to 1 odds. The batteries were Smith and Harrod, Wagner and Metts. The Blues could not solve Wagner, while after the second inning Smith was easy.

Judge Robert S. Taylor and family will leave Thursday for a stay at Mackinac Island.

Rev. J. Webster Bailey left last evening for a visit in the east.

HIRSCHFELDER'S ASSAILANT IS HELD UNDER BOND.

—The Police News.

The Hirschfelder assault affair, which occurred on East Washington street, last Wednesday night is gradually unravelling itself. Last Friday James Connell (not O'Connell) was arrested for making the assault, which has kept Mr. Hirschfelder out of business for several days. Connell is a Pennsylvania machinist and boards on West Jefferson street. He is charged with the assault upon Hirschfelder and upon arraignment next morning after being locked up all night, asked for a continuance, which was granted and the evidence, if there will be any, will be heard by Judge Drebbel on Thursday next. He was placed under a bond of $200, which was furnished, Peter Eggemann becoming his surety. The facts surrounding the assault have been jealously guarded by all the parties interested and while Hirschfelder was at the hospital and the actual status of his condition was not known, the matter was clouded in mystery. Since the victim of the assault recovered sufficiently to walk home and himself refused to talk about the affair, the cloud has lifted and facts are obtainable. One of the facts is in embryo, but it is safe to predict that it will hatch out all right and will produce a plea of guilty to the charge of assault and battery, on the part of Connell at the hearing next Thursday, and that that will end the matter. Connell has admitted that he hit Hirschfelder, but claims that he was provoked to do it. Hirschfelder and his uncle, Frank Lauer, living on Maumee avenue, were out last Wednesday night and among other places were at Ankenbruck & Potthoff's grocery, on East Washington street, shortly before the trouble occurred. According to one story Hirschfelder and his companion met the crowd in which Connell was, some words were passed and the result was a fistfight. Hirschfelder was struck on the breast and fell backwards, striking his head on the curb and after that there was apparently nothing doing in his memory. Connell's statement is much to that effect and while he admits that he had been drinking some during the evening, he insists that he would not have struck Hirschfelder had he not been provoked and that at that he struck him on the breast and did not anticipate that he would fall over.

FARMER HOLBROOK FINED.

Carl H. Holbrook, a farmer living near LaOtto, sampled a few lines of justice on Saturday and later arranged to liquidate by producing a bondsman. Mr. Holbrook drove to town Friday, accompanied by his wife, and later drove in a few solid spikes of wild liquor. Toward evening he struck the Calhoun street boulevard at the corner of Wayne street and struck Dr. Drayer's buggy, occupied by his office boy. A wheel was torn from the doctor's buggy, but Mr. Holbrook drove on, unconscious of the damage he had done. Half an hour after he was found on Columbia street, still in his buggy, but fast asleep. That ended his excursion for the day. His wife dropped around later on and took charge of the buggy and drove home after admonishing the officers to take good care of her erratic spouse. Mr. Holbrook's fine was $1 and costs and he arranged to pay for the repairing of Dr. Drayer's vehicle.

REPUTED SUICIDE IDEA.

Officer Thomma was called to the New York house last week to investigate a supposed case of attempted suicide. The prospective victim of self destruction was Cora Anderson, who has been boarding at the establishment for several weeks and who has been ill for a few days. Escaping gas was detected in the house and was traced to the room occupied by Mrs. Anderson. That lady, when awakened, was grateful for her escape, but very indignant at the insinuation that she had attempted suicide. She explained the occurrence by stating that the gas connection between the service pipe and a small stove she had in her room had become disconnected and that she had not detected the odor of the escaping gas when she retired. She was thoroughly recovered this morning.

CHAS. STANFORD HEARD FROM.

Jeremiah Stanford, for many years employed in the tank department of the Pittsburg shops, is in receipt of a letter from his son, Charles Stanford, now a member of H troop, Fifteenth cavalry, in the Philippines. The young man has been in that country fifteen months and writes a very cheerful letter concerning the situation there. He says he is enjoying good health and he sends his regards to all his friends. Enclosed in the letter was a clipping from a Manila paper giving some whole-some information to young men, which Charles heartily endorsed and requested published in The Sentinel. Unfortunately, the reporter lost the slip and cannot comply with the young man's request. Charles Stanford when in this city was employed at the Fort Wayne spoke factory and later in the Berghoff brewery.

LIGHTNING WRECKS A BARN.

Secretary Kelsey, of the Farmers' Insurance company, was notified today that the barn of John G. Huffman, in Monroe township, had been struck by lightning Wednesday night and badly damaged, though no fire resulted.

The Allen county company had $500 insurance on the barn of Charles Knowlton, which burned near Roanoke last week.

REQUIEM MASS FOR MACKAY

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE HELD IN LONDON.

Many American and English Friends of the Late Millionaire in Attendance.

London, July 29.—Many American and English friends of the family were present today at a requiem mass said in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, Coadun Square, for the repose of the soul of John W. Mackay. The members of the family present were Clarence Mackay, the Princess Colonna, with her young son, and the daughter and two sons of the Countess Telfner. Mrs. Mackay, who is still prostrated, remained at home with her mother, Mrs. Hungerford. The Countess Telfner is quite ill at the Walsingham hotel.

Mr. Mackay's body was taken last evening to Notting Hill convent, where it will remain until taken to America in September or October, when Mrs. Mackay will accompany it.

A STRAIGHT OUT TICKET.

Topeka, Kan., July 28.—Kansas straight out populists are to put a full state ticket in the field against the recently named populist-democratic fusion ticket. A call for a mass convention to meet in Topeka on August 21, was issued today by J. H. Lathrop and N. Robbins, of Topeka, who represent the straight out element of the populist party that nominated Wharton Baker, of Philadelphia, two years ago.

PINE LAKE ASSEMBLY OPENS.

The Pine Lake assembly opened today, the initial attraction being the appearance of Miss Anna Philley and Miss Florence McMillan, who gave a program of recitations. Quite a number of Baptists from this city are in attendance at the assembly. The annual business meeting of the assembly will be held on Friday.

LOST FOUR FINGERS.

George Appgey, of the Baes foundry, lost all of the fingers on his left hand Saturday by getting the member in the gearing of a hoisting machine. The digits were crushed into a pulp and the attending surgeon had to amputate them between the knuckle and second joint. Appgey lives on Lafayette street, where he was taken after the accident.

BURIED IN COLLEGE CAMPUS.

Dr. N. U. Walker, D. D., of Wells-ville, Ohio, president of the board of trustees of Taylor university, was in the city today on route home from Upland, where yesterday he attended the funeral services for Dr. T. C. Reade, late president of Taylor university. Dr. Walker says the service was very largely attended, not only by the late Dr. Reade's personal friends, but by many former students of the university. The remains were interred in the college campus at Upland.

HAVE WRONG MEN

JULIAN AND REILLY NOT TO GO TO CANADA.

EXTRADITION CASE DECIDED

BLUFFTON MEN ARE NOT THE CANADIAN CRIMINALS.

CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY

PERFECT ALIBI ATTESTS THEIR INNOCENCE.

John Julian, arrested at Bluffton, and John Reilly, taken into custody at Convey, Ohio, are not "William Acker" and "Benjamin Reilly," wanted in Canada upon charges of having committed a series of robberies. This is the decision of Commissioner Logan in the famous extradition case, delivered in the federal court in this city this afternoon. Commissioner Logan holds that the accusation of Julian and Reilly by the officials of the Canadian government, as well as their identification by witnesses brought to this city by the dominion authorities, was simply a case of mistaken identity; that the Canadian officials arrested the wrong men, and that the two men whose extradition has been desired by the Canadian government have shown conclusively that they could have had no connection with the crime.

The decision was rendered at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Colonel Murray, the Canadian inspector of criminal investigation, was not present. Reilly and Julian were brought into court and were seated near Attorney Carl L. Smith, who represented them. Col. R. S. Robertson appeared for the Canadian government.

Julian and Reilly, free men once more, arose with a gratified expression of countenance as Commissioner Logan concluded his decision. Julian said but little, but stepped across and shook the hand of the commissioner. Reilly's countenance broke into a wide smile. He grasped the hands of a few around him, and both quickly left the court room. The men have been under arrest nineteen days.

COVERED MUCH GROUND.

The written decision handed down by Commissioner Logan was a voluminous one, and considerable time was required for its delivery. The commissioner in opening set forth the statutes under which the action for the extradition of Acker and Reilly was brought. Following this was cited the special authority granted by Judge Baker to the commissioner to hear the case, and next was an exhaustive resume of the testimony adduced.

Commissioner Logan next ruled upon a point of law raised by the attorneys for the Canadian government, touching upon the right of the accused men to introduce evidence tending to establish an alibi at a preliminary hearing. The point was decided affirmatively, the court holding that the accused may properly submit at a preliminary hearing all testimony admissible at a formal trial of his case.

Judge Logan reviewed the evidence at much length. He cited the burglarizing of the house of George Jack, in Canada on September 23 and December 24, 1900; that one of the violators was known by the family as William Acker; he was short and heavy; his companion was tall and slender. Acker was recognized by his wife and two daughters as a man who had lived near them for nearly two years. He called attention to the fact that the man recognized by the Jacks was recognized as their neighbor, but that no member of the Jacks family had been in court here to testify that the defendants on trial are the same men who broke in to their house. He noted also the testimony introduced by the defendants to show that John Julian, as he is known in Bluffton, had been a resident of that city during the same period of time that William Acker was living a close neighbor to the Jacks in Canada. The evidence of various citizens of Bluffton was cited in support of the finding that Julian had established beyond question the fact that at the very time William Acker is charged with having committed crime in Canada, he (Julian) was in Bluffton.

Continuing, the commissioner said: "Mrs. Frances Julian, the wife of the defendant, corroborates his testimony in every particular; their son to the same effect. Mrs. Julian's testimony was particularly impressive. Her attitude, her bearing, her manner of testifying and her general appearance impressed me as a woman of veracity and of high and lofty purposes."

As to Reilly, the court said in part: "Counsel have established the fact to our mind that John Reilly is a citizen of Bluffton and has been a citizen there for nine years; that from September to the last of December, 1900, he was seen about the city of Bluffton by many people; he was never known to be gone more than a day or two at a time."

"The government is proceeding upon the theory that these defendants have been sitting back and forth from Bluffton to Ontario so rapidly that they have not been missed at either place. If these parties are the same I must find them that two homes have been maintained by each of them. While Reilly was living in his two dollar and a half residence in Bluffton with his wife, he was maintaining another home, with a woman and a child in the town of Ridgetown, Ontario, 200 miles away; if these parties are the same, then while John Julian, or Acker, was living in Bluffton with his wife and two sons, he was living two years of that time a close neighbor to George Jack and his family in the Province of Ontario."

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

"Therefore, giving full credence to all the testimony that has been given, we are irresistibly driven to the conclusion that William Acker, of Ontario, is not John Julian, of Bluffton; that Benjamin Reilly, of Ridgetown, is not John Reilly, of Bluffton. To decide otherwise, it appears to me, would be a perversion of the facts and grossly inconsistent with the evidence."

"My solution, therefore, is this: The government's witnesses are mistaken about John Julian being the William Acker and John Reilly being the Benjamin Reilly that they claim to have seen in Ontario. I have no doubt they saw the real William Acker and the real Benjamin Reilly there, but I do not believe they saw these defendants there. If the government's witnesses are mistaken in their identity of these two men, then we can readily understand how it is possible that William Acker and Benjamin Reilly robbed the home of George Jack in September and December, 1900, Reilly being a resident of Ridgetown, and Acker a neighbor of Jack, while at the same time John Julian and John Reilly were residents of Bluffton, during a period covering the same identical time. The identity of men is not always free from difficulty; in fact, the law books are full of cases of mistaken identity. Courts have this question to contend with everywhere."

HAS MADE NO CASE.

"Viewing the evidence in its entirety, I am thoroughly convinced that there is not even a probable case made out by the government against these defendants. I might say that the evidence takes me further than that, for it has convinced me beyond all reasonable doubt that these defendants are not guilty of the charges made against them in these several actions. If I had been convinced that the evidence had established a probable cause of action against them I would have yielded to my duty and acted accordingly, believing otherwise, it is a pleasure now to be able to extend to them their liberty."

"The judgment of the court, therefore, will be that the three separate actions heretofore pending, brought in the name of his majesty, the king of Great Britain, against William Acker and Benjamin Reilly, here called John Julian and John Reilly, are hereby dismissed and the defendants are discharged from the further custody of this court."

Chicago, July 29.—All grains were subjected to strong bearish pressure at the opening today. Fine weather, heavy grain movement and a great improvement in grading due to the better weather induced plentiful offerings. September wheat underwent a gradual depression, influenced by general selling of small lots and indications of a large primary movement. It opened $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and declined to 70 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. The general feeling on the floor was that the depression was the natural reflex of the bumper crop. July opened $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 73 to 73 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and held near the lower figure. Local receipts were 532 cars, 28 of contract grade. Of these 525 were new crop—Minneapolis and Duluth reported 256 cars, making a total for the three points of 788 cars against 712 last week and 705 a year ago.

Weakness in what was augmented by heavy primary receipts and July went down to 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and Sept. to 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Sept. closed weak $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and July easy, $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ off at 73 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. July corn was offered freely at the start of trade without any takers at the opening. The price broke 1 to 2¢ at 60 to 59¢ and declined to 58. Sept. opened $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ lower at 58 to 57 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ in sympathy with the July break and on heavy receipts and excellent weather. With July manipulation out of the way, apparently, the crowd was inclined to allow inflation prices to seek a level which they considered more natural when compared to the big crop expected. Sept. turned very weak and plunged to 56 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ in twenty minutes. Receipts were 334 cars, 94 of contract grade.

Corn continued under pressure of heavy offerings. The close was weak, July 4¢ down at 57¢ and September 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ lower at 56¢. The shorts had the comforting news that 300,000 bushels of contract oats were on hand at the opening. The promised big movement to this market was realized and 658 cars, 172 of contract grade and 516 of the new crop arrived. This broke July (new) prices 3¢ on the first sale at 55¢. Business in July was almost nothing early.

After stopping to 55¢ July oats found a demand and the price was hoisted to a strong close 2¢ up at 57¢. September continued weak closing $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 52¢.

Sept., however, felt the influence of fine weather, big receipts and improved grading. That option opened $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ lower at 32 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and dipped to 32 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

Provisions were quiet early. Hogs at the yards were firm and influenced fair support by packers in the provisions pit. Sept. pork opened unchanged to 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at \$17.02 $\frac{1}{2}$ to \$17.15 and steadied near \$17.07 $\frac{1}{2}$. September lard started 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 5¢ up at \$10.75 to \$10.77 $\frac{1}{2}$ and Sept. ribs opened 5¢ to 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at \$10.40 to \$10.47 $\frac{1}{2}$ and dipped back to \$10.37 $\frac{1}{2}$. The corn weakness tended to check advances.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows: Wheat—July, 73 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; Sept., 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; Dec., 69 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Corn—July, 57¢; Sept., 56¢; Dec., 43 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 41 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Oats—July, 40¢; new, 60¢; Aug., new, 34¢; Sept., 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; new, 32¢; Dec., 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; new, 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Pork—July, \$16.80; Sept., \$16.30; Oct., \$16.85; Jan., \$15.67 $\frac{1}{2}$. Lard—July, \$10.55; Sept., \$10.67 $\frac{1}{2}$; Oct., \$10.17 $\frac{1}{2}$; Nov., \$9.55; Dec., \$8.85; Jan., \$8.57 $\frac{1}{2}$; May, \$8.42 $\frac{1}{2}$. DEATH'S RECORD OF THE DAY

MRS. ELIZABETH PARDOE DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS. Francis J. Smith Succumbs to Tuberculosis—Other Deaths and Funeral Notices.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pardoe, wife of Samuel D. Pardoe, of 2901 John street, died at 10 o'clock this morning, after an extended illness from dysentery. Mrs. Pardoe had been a resident of Fort Wayne about ten years.

Surviving are the husband, a daughter, two step-daughters, a sister and a brother. The bereaved husband has recently been connected with the management of an orange grove in Florida.

SMITH. Francis Joseph Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, of 1129 East Lewis street, died at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the home of his parents. Death was due to tuberculosis.

Mr. Smith was unmarried. He was a printer by occupation and followed that trade until failing health compelled him to retire. His age was 27 years, 2 months and 17 days.

LOHMAN. Mary Lohman, 10 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lohman, 2007 Smith street, died at noon today. The little girl had been suffering from diphtheria and was believed to be convalescent, but in her exhausted condition other complications ensued and death resulted.

KUELBACH. William H. Kuelbach died at 11 o'clock Monday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kuelbach, 2024 East Washington street, after an extended illness from tuberculosis. The young man was 17 years of age and had many friends. He was a member of St. Aloysius' society of St. Mary's Catholic church. The bereaved father is a foreman at the Berghoff brewery.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 8:30 from the residence and at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's Catholic church.

FRUECHTENICHT. Elmer, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Fruechtenicht, of 708 Walnut street, died this morning from cholera infantum, at the age of 1 year, 3 months and 3 days.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Concordia.

BIXLER. Nelson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Bixler, 524 Ewing street, died this morning from cholera infantum at the age of nine months and five days.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Lindenwood.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, July 29.—All grains were subjected to strong bearish pressure at the opening today. Fine weather, heavy grain movement and a great improvement in grading due to the better weather induced plentiful offerings. September wheat underwent a gradual depression, influenced by general selling of small lots and indications of a large primary movement. It opened $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and declined to 70 $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. The general feeling on the floor was that the depression was the natural reflex of the bumper crop. July opened $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 73 to 73 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and held near the lower figure. Local receipts were 532 cars, 28 of contract grade. Of these 525 were new crop—Minneapolis and Duluth reported 256 cars, making a total for the three points of 788 cars against 712 last week and 705 a year ago.

Weakness in what was augmented by heavy primary receipts and July went down to 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and Sept. to 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Sept. closed weak $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and July easy, $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ off at 73 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. July corn was offered freely at the start of trade without any takers at the opening. The price broke 1 to 2¢ at 60 to 59¢ and declined to 58. Sept. opened $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ lower at 58 to 57 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ in sympathy with the July break and on heavy receipts and excellent weather. With July manipulation out of the way, apparently, the crowd was inclined to allow inflation prices to seek a level which they considered more natural when compared to the big crop expected. Sept. turned very weak and plunged to 56 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ in twenty minutes. Receipts were 334 cars, 94 of contract grade.

Corn continued under pressure of heavy offerings. The close was weak, July 4¢ down at 57¢ and September 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ lower at 56¢.

The shorts had the comforting news that 300,000 bushels of contract oats were on hand at the opening. The promised big movement to this market was realized and 658 cars, 172 of contract grade and 516 of the new crop arrived. This broke July (new) prices 3¢ on the first sale at 55¢. Business in July was almost nothing early.

After stopping to 55¢ July oats found a demand and the price was hoisted to a strong close 2¢ up at 57¢. September continued weak closing $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ down at 52¢.

Sept., however, felt the influence of fine weather, big receipts and improved grading. That option opened $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ lower at 32 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and dipped to 32 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢.

Provisions were quiet early. Hogs at the yards were firm and influenced fair support by packers in the provisions pit. Sept. pork opened unchanged to 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at \$17.02 $\frac{1}{2}$ to \$17.15 and steadied near \$17.07 $\frac{1}{2}$. September lard started 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to 5¢ up at \$10.75 to \$10.77 $\frac{1}{2}$ and Sept. ribs opened 5¢ to 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at \$10.40 to \$10.47 $\frac{1}{2}$ and dipped back to \$10.37 $\frac{1}{2}$. The corn weakness tended to check advances.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows: Wheat—July, 73 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; Sept., 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; Dec., 69 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 72 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Corn—July, 57¢; Sept., 56¢; Dec., 43 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 41 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Oats—July, 40¢; new, 60¢; Aug., new, 34¢; Sept., 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; new, 32¢; Dec., 28 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; new, 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢; May, 31 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Pork—July, \$16.80; Sept., \$16.30; Oct., \$16.85; Jan., \$15.67 $\frac{1}{2}$. Lard—July, \$10.55; Sept., \$10.67 $\frac{1}{2}$; Oct., \$10.17 $\frac{1}{2}$; Nov., \$9.55; Dec., \$8.85; Jan., \$8.57 $\frac{1}{2}$; May, \$8.42 $\frac{1}{2}$. Ribs—July, \$10.05; Sept., \$10.05; Jan., \$8.07 $\frac{1}{2}$; Oct., \$10.00. Flax—Cash N. W., \$1.53; S. W., \$1.40; Sept., \$1.35 to \$1.35 $\frac{1}{2}$; Oct., \$1.31. Rye—July, 54¢ to 57¢; Sept., 32 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Barley—Cash, 60¢ to 67¢. Timothy—Sept., \$4.00. Clover—Cash, \$8.25.

LARGE AUDIENCE PRESENT

SIDING ELDER DANIEL.

OTHER FEATURES OF THE IN-TERESTING PROGRAM.

A crowd numbering several hundred witnessed the laying of the corner stone of the new Methodist Episcopal church at the corner of Lafayette and Wayne streets, this afternoon and while the greater number were members of Berry street M. E. church, who will occupy the new church when it is finished, there was a large representation from the other M. E. churches of the city, together with many attracted to the scene out of curiosity.

The exercises began shortly after 2:30 o'clock with an introductory ad-gregation to have the contents of the corner stone of the old church at the corner of Harrison and Berry streets enclosed in the box, but as it would be necessary to tear away a portion of the walls of the old building to get at it, the idea was abandoned.

One of those who stood in the audience and watched the corner stone of dress by the pastor, Rev. J. K. Walts, followed by the singing of a hymn by the congregation, led by the choir of Berry street church. Rev. A. S. Preston, of Wayne street M. E. church, read a portion of the 132nd Psalm after which the choir rendered "Gloria." Rev. Jay C. Dorwin, of Simpson church, read from II Corinthians.

George W. Brackenridge, who has been a member of Berry street church since the thirties, gave some interesting reminiscences of the early history of the congregation. Mr. Brackenridge told of the struggles of the congregation in the first few years it was organized and traced its history from its organization to the present day.

Dr. C. B. Stemen, who has also been a member of the church for many years, gave an address on "The Spread of the Christian Church." Dr. Stemen talked chiefly of the growth of Christianity in the past half century, and quoted statistics in support of his words.

Following Dr. Stemen's address, the congregation sang "America," after which Rev. C. C. Cissel, of Goshen, formerly pastor of Berry street church, spoke briefly. At the conclusion of Rev. Cissel's address, the ponderous corner stone was hoisted into position. The stone was placed in position by Elder W. H. Daniel.

THE CORNER STONE.
The corner stone is a block weighing nearly a ton and was placed in position at the extreme northeast corner of the building by means of a derrick. On the Wayne street side is carved "1902," while the Lafayette street side bears the following inscription:

Organized :
1828.
Called Berry Street M. E. :
1851-1902.

A space two feet square had been hollowed out on the lower side of the stone for the sealed metal box containing a bible, Methodist Episcopal hymnal, book of discipline, year book of Berry street church, Sabbath school periodicals, list of officers and members of the church, Epworth league album and copies of the Fort Wayne daily papers. The box was placed in position and the corner stone was lowered into position over it.

It has been the desire of the con-

Mrs. Laura Trowbridge, who lives at the corner of Wayne and Lafayette streets, opposite the new building, was a member of the Sunday school class when the corner stone of the old building was laid, and took part in the exercises. The stone is situated within the foundation on the southwest corner of the old church, and is not exposed to view. It is the intention to secure the stone and contents when the old building is demolished.

BOLD ROBBERY COMMITTED

DAVID TAGTMEYER HOME IS LOOTED OF $300.

Family Was Sitting on Back Porch of Superior Street Residence at Time of Robbery.

Last night, between 8 and 9 o'clock, a peculiar robbery was perpetrated at the residence of David Tagtmeyer, the lumberman, living at 247 West Superior street. The plunder secured is valued at about $300 although among it is a check for $119, upon which payment has been stopped. Other things taken were a gold watch and four gold rings, one of them containing a diamond setting. The burglary or robbery was committed while the family was sitting on a rear porch and the plunder was all taken from a bedroom situated on the ground floor and within a few feet of where the members of the family, at home, were sitting. The fact was discovered by Louis Tagtmeyer, a son, who returned from a visit down town at about 9 o'clock and upon going into the first floor bedroom was amazed to see the floor littered with about everything that should have been in drawers and cupboards. The police department was notified and today Officer Coling is working on the case. There have been times taken from the same premises before and the fact that the thief displayed unusual knowledge of surroundings and familiarity with conditions, has made guessing at the culprit no very hard matter. Proving guilt is quite a different proposition.

FRAUD IS CHARGED

MRS. VICTORIA GIBSON, OF BUTLER, IS ARRESTED

SAY SHE FLEECED VICTIMS

WHO ANSWERED HER MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

WOMAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY

GIVES BOND OF $500 FOR HER APPEARANCE.

Charged with having used the mails for fraudulent purposes, Mrs. Victoria Gibson, whose home is at Butler, DeKalb county, was arraigned before United States Commissioner T. J. Logan in this city at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The case against Mrs. Gibson is based upon the result of recent investigations by the postoffice inspectors, developing, it is said, the discovery that the woman had, by the insertion of matrimonial advertisements in newspapers and subsequent correspondence, induced several victims to part with various sums of money. Mrs. Gibson asserts that she is not guilty.

District Attorney Lafollette appeared for the government, and Wilmer Leonard, attorney for Mrs. Gibson, announced that if his client were permitted to enter a plea of not guilty and then execute a bond for her appearance the formal preliminary hearing would be waived.

This was agreeable to the government officials and Commissioner Logan held the woman under bond of $500 to await the action of the federal grand jury. Mrs. Gibson signed the bond and was released.

Mrs. Gibson was arrested this morning by Deputy United States Marshal D. C. Rankin, of Lafayette, at her home in Butler, where she lives with her aged mother. She and her husband "Lon" Gibson, have been separated for several years, and the latter is now living at Newville.

When taken into custody today Mrs. Gibson burst forth into a paroxysm of anguish, weeping copiously, protesting her innocence and asserting that the disgrace of arrest would kill her, and that she would probably not live to pass through it. She said that she simply could not accompany the officer, but after a time quieted down and boarded the train for Fort Wayne in company with the deputy marshal without further protest. Postmaster Thomas Budd, of Butler, who was summoned as a witness in the case, came with them.

LONG UNDER SUSPICION.

The postoffice authorities who have been at work upon the case say the Gibson woman has long been suspected of using the mails as a means of securing money from unsuspecting persons matrimonially inclined who used advertisements in certain newspapers in order to secure life partners. An effort to secure a case against the woman some time ago failed, owing, it is said, to the fact that the prosecuting witness weakened and could not be found when wanted. Now, however, Col. Jack Foster, the post office inspector, has in his possession a number of letters and photographs which form the basis of the present charge against Mrs. Gibson. It is said the correspondence has yielded quite a handsome financial return, though the officers have no means of knowing how much money was received, save for the registered letters delivered and the money orders paid at the Butler postoffice.

WAS A KANSAS MAN.

The affidavit upon which the arrest was made today was filed by Assistant District Attorney Lafollette, and it charges that Mrs. Gibson has been using the mails to defraud; that in letters she would pretend to be in love with her correspondent, and that she would marry him if he would send her money to come to him. The case cited is that of one J. A. Knight, of Basil, Kan., whom she is accused of flim-flamming out of $50 in this manner, and it is alleged in the affidavit that at no time did the defendant have any intention of marrying the man with whom she was corresponding, but used this method of defrauding them out of money.

SHEDS NO NEW LIGHT.

Dr. W. W. Barnett, the coroner, today took the evidence of Mrs. Vernie Groves-Robinson and Miss Florence Wells, the Hartford city young ladies who were in the boat which capsized, resulting in the drowning of Will Mill above Robinson park Sunday. Neither were able to shed new light upon the circumstances. Both young ladies are yet at the hospital, but will perhaps be able to leave for their homes tomorrow. The mother of Mrs. Robinson visited her at the hospital yesterday. Dr. Barnett said today he had not yet definitely formulated his verdict in the case, but that the finding would probably be that Mill's death was the result of carelessness upon his own part and that of his companions.

YOUTHFUL THIEF ARRESTED

EARL McMANNERY TAKEN IN A LIVELY CHASE.

Just as police court had adjourned this morning Officer Spillner came in with a young man who gave his name as Earl McMannery and his residence as 634 Hamilton street, Toledo. He was found trying to sell a pair of good leather driving lines at Gouty's second-hand store on Calhoun street. When the officer approached him the young fellow, who is just about seventeen, made a run and was followed by the officer. Spillner is quite a sprinter and overtook his quarry after a lively chase of a block or two. McMannery admits to having stolen the lines, and said that he got them out of a barn back of a lime house on Calhoun street near the Nickel Plate depot. He was locked up and will be heard tomorrow. In his pocket was found a book bearing the address of "Mrs. Nestle, 1224 Scott avenue, Fort Wayne." The young fellow was alarmed about the discovery of the address, said it signified nothing, and he did not know anything about the address or the party referred to. He also vigorously denied having a pal. Meantime the police are investigating.

MADISON TOWNSHIP.

Last Saturday evening an ice cream social was held at the Jno. Howell residence for the benefit of the Boston M. E. church. The attendance was large and the proceeds were liberally expended.

Chas. Welsh and wife, of Fort Wayne, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Fry Sunday.

The Marquardt Lutheran congregation will give a basket picnic near the church on Saturday, Aug. 9. All are cordially invited to attend.

Last Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock a violent hailstorm passed through the central part of this township, doing much damage to crops along its path, which was one mile in width. In some portions corn was almost totally destroyed, while oats was cut off and felled to the ground by hundreds of bushels.

Next Sunday, Aug. 3, there will be a picnic held in H. Franke's grove under the auspices of the German Lutheran congregation. The proceeds will go for the benefit of missionary work. Their pastor, Rev. Deterick, will be the main speaker of the day. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Welland Seibert is the crack shot on shooting squirrels in this section. Farmers are cutting oats and the crop promises a fair yield.

George Frederick, the blacksmith of Maples, has purchased of Fred Dickey, of Fort Wayne, his fifty-eight-acre tract of land for a consideration of $3,200. Mr. Frederick, with his family, will move thereon in the near future.

Arabian peddlers seem to be numerous in this section of late, but they do not take well with the farmers.

WERE WED FIFTY YEARS AGO

GOLDEN WEDDING OF MR. AND MRS. R. B. PATTERSON.

Pleasantly Celebrated by a Gathering of Friends on Thursday Evening.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Patterson was delightfully celebrated Thursday evening at the residence of their son, MRS. ROBERT B. PATTERSON.

G. A. Patterson, 2707 Hoagland avenue, with whom the aged parents are making their home. Friends and relatives to the number of about thirty-five were present to offer congratulations and participate in the pleasures of the evening.

Mr. Patterson is 77 years of age and his wife ten years his junior. They were united in marriage at Williamsville, N. Y., in 1852. Both are natives of New York, and after their marriage they lived for several years at North Tonawanda, in that state. In 1857 they removed to Illinois, and two years later located at Grand, Mich., which was their home for twenty years. In 1879 they took up their residence in Fort Wayne.

Mr. Patterson was a sawyer by occupation, but in recent years has been living a retired life. The aged couple are the parents of four children, three of whom are yet living—Mrs. Thomas Tappenden, of Grand, Mich.; G. A. Patterson, a machinist at the Lake Erie railroad shops, and Mrs. Emma Patterson, of this city. There are eleven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Mrs. Patterson has been an invalid for some time and was able to leave her room on Thursday evening for the first time in four weeks. A number of hand-some presents were bestowed upon the aged couple, and refreshments were served.

The guests present included Mrs. Louis Gerke, Mrs. J. C. Hinton, Miss Sophia Gerke, Mr. and Mrs. P. P.

RAILING NOT DIVORCED.

Niles, Mich., July 29.—The Zimmerman family of this place is in possession of a letter from Mrs. Bessie Railing, of Fort Wayne, wife of Claud Railing, the young man under arrest here for bigamy, he having married Miss Florence Zimmerman. The letter from Mrs. Bessie Railing says that the statement that Railing made to the effect that she is divorced from him is not true. The trial will be held the 12th of August.

A GALAXY OF CIRCUS STARS.

It Is Impossible to Tell Who Is the Top-Liner With Wallace's Circus.

To ask the management of the Wallace Show to name its foremost feature or to request of a visitor to the circus to do so, is unreasonable. Such a question is about as sensible as the asking of a book-seller what is the best book he sells, or, who is the prettiest woman in the land. Every one would not answer the question in the same way.

There is this season with the Great Wallace Show the greatest array of circus talent ever assembled under canvas. It is a mighty conclave of acrobatic notables, any one of whom would be a top-liner on the program of the world's best theater, or a drawing card for inferior shows.

In a partial list would include the famous Calceinat, aerialist supreme; the Stick family, masters of the wheel; the Dellanews, the greatest exponents of statutory posing; the Silverton Trio, the high-wire artists; the Earl Sisters, the particular stars of acrobatic work; Mlle. Noranda French and her mysterious globe; the Vortex Sisters, the nymphs of the gyrating trapeze; Orrin Hollis, champion of bareback riders; Alex. Lowanda, the daring equestrian Apollo of the Arena; the Blue and the Gray March creation by twenty-four handsome women; the Wentzelle Cycle Whirl; Fred Jenks' troupe of comely skaters; the Kitamura Troupe of nine Japanese; the Livingston; the Alpine family, and scores of other names would have to be given should we give a complete list of those who have trunks in the dressing tent of the Wallace Circus, but what is the use of mentioning any more?

The public has faith in the pledges and promises of the Wallace Circus, because it has learned that show for one lives up to and gives beyond its advertised promises.

Just as sure as the Great Wallace Show is advertised to exhibit in Fort Wayne, Ind., on Monday, Aug. 11th, just so sure will Mr. Wallace find thousands of enthusiastic patrons and friends waiting to be entertained by them.

LEO ITEMS.

We have been having much rain here of late, which soaked the grain in the shocks and caused the farmers to feel very discouraged.

Mrs. Emanuel Klopfenstein is on the sick list. Dr. Hollinworth is the attending physician.

Mrs. Jerry Klopfenstein spent Tuesday with her parents near St. Joe.

Gratill town is booming. Quite an enjoyable crowd of young folks gathered at Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schlatter's to spend Sunday.

Some of the girls are again thinking of leap year, as they go to see their beaux on Sunday to save the boys a trip. If that is the latest style there may be still hope for some of our bashful boys.

The Leo school house is progressing nicely under the management of Trustee Klopfenstein.

CHAIN LINK FOR EARNING.

Master Emmet Farman, 14 years old and living at the corner of Lewis and Calhoun streets, called at the office of Dr. Chambers yesterday to have a link of a dog chain removed from his car. The link was of sixteenth-inch steel and from indications it had been imbedded in the lad's ear for some time. The boy refused to tell how the link got there, but its presence is thought to be due to some boyish prank.

STRENUOUS LIFE IN JERSEY.

POLITICS CAUSE OF RIOTS AND MURDER.

One Man Killed and Joe Goddard, the Pugilist, Fatally Injured

by a Bullet.

Camden, N. J., July 29.—The condition of Joe Goddard, the Philadelphia pugilist, who was shot last night during the republican primary elections, is reported by the physicians at Cooper hospital today as critical and there is little hope of his recovery.

Harry Miller, a local policeman, who was stabbed in the abdomen, is doing well and will probably recover. Isaac Fowler, a constable, who was stabbed at Pensauken, near Merchantville, was not seriously hurt.

The body of John Morrissey, of Philadelphia, who was shot and killed, is still at the morgue.

The riots which resulted in the murder of Morrissey and the wounding of Goddard and Miller were caused by the bitter feeling engendered through the contest for congress of Representative H. C. Loudenslager and J. Alpheus Vansant. Numerous fights occurred in this city and in Pensauken township, near Merchantville, between the adherents of the two candidates. Goddard was shot at the polls in Pensauken and Morrissey and Miller received their injuries in this city. Isaac Fowler, a constable of Pensauken, was stabbed during a melee at "Dog Corner," in Pensauken township.

Both sides claim a victory of the delegates, but the opinion prevails that Loudenslager will win. The result will not be known definitely until the convention meets at Woodbury tomorrow.

The first congressional district in which last night's primaries were held includes Camden, Gloucester and Salem counties. The total number of delegates is 304. Loudenslager today claims 51 delegates in Camden, 67 in Gloucester and 57 in Salem, a total of 193. Vansant claims 97 in Camden, 36 in Gloucester and 20 in Salem, a total of 153, which number is necessary to a choice.

HAD OTHER TROUBLES.

John Reilly, one of the men entangled in the extradition case, and who was discharged by the decision of Commissioner Logan Monday afternoon, beamed with a radiant smile when the verdict was announced, but one variety of trouble vanished only to give way to another. Mr. Reilly was suffering from some slight financial embarrassment, and he was so favorably impressed with the good judgment and discretion of the commissioner that he promptly opened negotiations with Mr. Logan for the loan of a dollar with which to get out of town. There was a hitch in the proceedings, and the undaunted Mr. Reilly next approached the opposing counsel, Col. Robertson, on a similar mission, giving as an explanation for his embarrassment the fact that he had paid all his money to his own lawyers. There was another failure to realize on expectations, and Mr. Reilly continued his quest in other quarters.

THE COURT NEWS.

County Commissioners Orif and Moudy, accompanied by Bridge Superintendent Wiley, went to Scipio township last Wednesday to inspect several bridges. They were taken there by Chaffeur Bostick in his four-seated machine and the commission they created while going through the country at an express-train gait will become a matter of history. Commissioner Moudy nailed his hat fast before they started. "They call me a blockhead, anyway," said he, "and I might as well prove it." Commissioner Orif glued a cheap cap to his topknot and Wiley wore nothing but a wet towel on his head.

Ralph McLain, who charged A. A. Martin with having assaulted him because he undertook to take possession of a saloon for which he had partially paid, has not prosecuted his case in Justice Bullermann's court, but has commenced replevin proceedings against Martin to recover $450. The sheriff served the papers today and Martin promptly gave bond and retained possession.

The Tri-State Building and Loan association has commenced suit against Julius J. Eme and half a dozen others to foreclose a mortgage; demand, $1,300.

The case of the state ex. rel. Nora Carpenter vs. David Baker has been appealed from Bullermann's to the circuit court. The action was on paternity charges made by the Carpenter girl against Baker, who is a well-to-do farmer and grandfather living in the southwestern part of the county.

Josephine Boehm sues Barnett M. Boehm for divorce and possession of certain personal property.

Sheriff Stout has returned from a day's visit to Lake George. He was accompanied on his return trip by Dr. J. L. Smith and family, of Hoagland, who have been occupying the sheriff's cottage for a week or more.

William B. Tilker sues H. B. Monning on a note, demanding $350.

Stoddard & Allen have commenced suit against the Huntington Manufacturing company, setting out a demand on contract for $500.

The prosecuting attorney has been advised of the depredations of chicken and turkey thieves in Eel River and other northwestern townships. No affidavits have yet been filed, but officers have been detailed to watch the localities complained of.

Mrs. Porter, of St. Joseph township, complains of Laura Drevett that the latter made scandalous remarks concerning her daughter and her "beau," the remarks being of sufficient consequence to constitute provocation. Justice Ashley, of St. Joseph township, is investigating the case.

About the biggest thing in the court house Monday was Col. A. A. Powell, who filed an application for divorce from Charlotte Powell. Col. Powell is about seven feet eleven or eleven feet seven or somewhere thereabout and is known in Fort Wayne as a traveling man for Church & Dwight, manufacturers of "Arm and Hammer" baking powder. Col. Powell formerly was a circus freak and traveled with Barnum and other big show people, but of recent years has been an advertising salesman, his extraordinary height attracting attention to him everywhere he went and consequently to his business. The affidavit which he files was drawn by Berghoff, Gilbert & Wood, and alleges that he was married on January 3 of the present year and that his wife deserted him on January 23. The complaint alleges simply that she is a non-resident of the state and does not state where the marriage occurred. Another material allegation in another affidavit is that the colonel has been a resident of Fort Wayne, Ind., for more than two years past. On the register of the Aveline hotel he writes his residence as New York. He registered at the Aveline on Saturday morning and paid his bill and left on Monday after filing his complaint. The notice to the defendant will be given by publication and if there is no one to contest residence, the colonel's affidavit that he has been a continuous resident of Fort Wayne for two years will probably stand good for anything that he wants. Mr. Berghoff on being interrogated said that he did not know where the marriage, now seeking to be annulled, was consummated, but thought it was somewhere in Kentucky.

Jesse Stuart, too, wants a divorce from Jennie Stuart, on grounds of abandonment, although the complaint shows some funny features. For instance, it states that the parties were married March 8, 1902, and lived together until about June 1, 1902, when they separated. It then goes on to state that the parties had not sustained conjugal relations since some time in 1900. This statement may be embarrassing when the parties undertake to explain what was transpiring in the meantime—that is, between 1900 and the date of the marriage in 1902. The attorneys will doubtless be able to explain it satisfactorily to the court if there is no contest.

On May 26 a marriage license was issued to Arch M. Bowman and Jessie Moore, and the affidavit to the record was made by Nancy Kegg. Today another application was made for a license, which involved Miss Moore as the bride. The clerk wondered. Then Miss Moore made an affidavit that the license of May 26 was procured without her endorsement and that she had never married the man Bowman and did not intend to. She is still willing to marry, but wants a new license. The legal life of a marriage license is ninety days and therefore the county clerk refused to issue another embracing either to the parties until the necessary affidavit was filed. The second license involving Miss Moore will probably be issued this afternoon.

Judge Aiken came home from the north today and the superior court was in session this afternoon, commencing at 1:30. There were many motions, appearances, cases called, defaulted, postponed and otherwise disposed of, but no judgments were reached for several hours. The only case awaiting actual hearing was the Dennis divorce case, which will be heard this afternoon.

The will of Ernest Heuer was admitted to probate this afternoon. The will was drafted in 1892 and leaves all the property of the decedent of any character and without reserve to his widow. She is also named as executrix without bond.

Henry Smead sues Jessie Smead for divorce, which is the only case placed upon the records today.

The county commissioners will be in session tomorrow morning to wind up some unimportant miscellaneous business before the commencement of the next term.

MAYOR JONES' HEALTH.

Toledo, Ohio, July 28.—Mayor Jones has finally disclosed his whereabouts, which have been carefully kept a secret for three weeks in order that he might have a chance to get a good rest. He is at Potosky, Mich., serving as farmer, gardener and section hand.

About a month ago Mr. Jones suffered an almost complete breakdown, and, rejecting all medical assistance, left the city for parts unknown. He went to Potosky, where he was joined by Professor Flynn, physical culture expert, and his son Paul. Yesterday morning a letter was read to his employees at Golden Rule park. He says in part:

"I am improving, gaining strength every day and gaining somewhat in weight. I am working. I occasionally help a farmer pitch a load of hay. I take a hand at railroad work with section men, and, best of all, I have a garden, where I can dig in the earth—the dear old earth that is at once our mother, our abiding place and our tomb. I am longing to see you all, probably August 10, when I can talk face to face and tell you more about it."

CASTRO TO TRY AGAIN.

Washington, July 26.—The navy department has received the following cablegram from Commander McLean, of the Cincinnati, the senior naval officer in Venezuelan waters, dated La Guaira, today:

"The president of Venezuela arrived today with flag on Restaurador. Was saluted by all the foreign men-of-war and by battery ashore. He has proceeded to Caracas, Venezuela, with troops by rail. Intends to march on revolutionary force from Aragua. Trains have been interrupted this morning by revolutionists. They were driven away by Venezuelan soldiers. The Venezuelan government holds Valencia."

IRISH QUESTION GROWS HOT

EMBITTERS CLOSING DAYS OF PARLIAMENT.

Nationalist Leaders Uncover Plot to Have Coercion Act Enforced in Green Isle

London, July 26.—The closing days of the session of parliament are witnessing heated discussions of the ever-recurring Irish question. This week was especially notable for the fierceness of the accusations and re-accusations bandied across the narrow forum of the house of commons. The resentment of the Irish members was stirred to an unusual degree by the discovery of alleged secret documents of the land trust, organized by the landlords for the avowed purpose of resisting threatening combinations of tenants and suppressing the boycotting and intimidation instigated by the United Irish League or otherwise.

The Irish leaders point out that Lord Clonbrooke and Lord Barrymore of Barrymore (better known as Arthur Hugh Smith-Barry), chairman of the National Union of Conservative associations, who are among the prime movers of the trust, signed the same week, as privy councillors, a proclamation from Dublin castle enforcing the coercion act over half of Ireland. All the trustees of the trust, the duke of Averbom, Lord Waterford, Lord Ashdown, Lord Clonbrooke, Lord Barrymore of Barrymore and two others are privy councillors. The trust has a long list of subscribers and ample funds for fighting the tenants and the league which is behind them.

"We shall not be surprised," said John Redmond, chairman of the United Irish League, to a representative of the Associated Press, "if O'Brien, Dillon, Davitt, myself and other leaders are arrested at Mr. Wyndham's instance within a fortnight. In fact, we are rather expecting to be arrested on charges of unlawful assemblage and intimidation. They have already brought injunctions and damage suits against the league and against us individually."

REFERS BOYCOTT TO UNIONS.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 26.—The Central Labor union has referred to the sixty trades unions interested the question as to continuing the boycott on the street railway company, the purpose being to show the unions in solid front against the company as at the start six months ago, and thus refute the daily published report that only a few agitators are now interested in the strike.

TO ABOLISH CHILD LABOR

FEDERATION OF LABOR WILL SEEK LEGISLATION

Executive Council Will Also Move to Have Contract Prison Labor Abolished.

San Francisco, July 26.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, in session here, has adopted a resolution supporting any legislation having for its purpose the abolition of child labor in states where such laws do not now exist.

Another resolution declares the intention of the council to press the enactment of laws abolishing prison labor wherever it comes into competition with free labor.

In the matter of the request of the International Association of Machinists, the Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and the Patternmakers' League for the revocation of the charter of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, the council decided to notify the latter body that unless by October 1. It concedes full trade jurisdiction to the organizations named in the matter of trade disputes, such as increase of wages, threatened reductions or changes of trade conditions or rules its charter would be revoked.

The application for the revocation of the charter of the National Union of Brewery Workmen was laid over for further consideration.

The council decided to instruct its representatives in Porto Rico, as well as those in this country, to do all in their power to assist the labor movement in Porto Rico against the opposition with which it is meeting at every turn.

The application of the solicitors of insurance companies for a charter was denied.

The application of the Order of Railway Clerks for a charter was unanimously granted.

A resolution was adopted favoring the majority rule as being the best means for the introduction of the initiative and referendum into national affairs.

A resolution was also adopted urging the workmen of Colorado to do all in their power to have the legislature of that state pass several amendments to the state constitution by which the cause of labor will be materially advanced.

TOO MANY TEACHERS.

Superintendent Young states that there is a surplus of teachers in Allen county and if the usual number pass the two examinations about thirty will be compelled to seek positions outside the county. There are a number of applications on file, but the trustees have made their arrangements for the coming term and no changes will be made.

BOLD BANDIT IS IN LIMBO

TRIED TO HOLD UP A BANK AT FORTVILLE.

Cashier Would Not Deliver and the Man is Later Captured by Posse of Citizens.

Greenfield, Ind., July 26.—Lying on a cot in his cell in the jail at this city and suffering from gunshot wounds inflicted by his captors, the lone robber who attempted to hold up the Fortville bank, at Fortville, during the noon hour yesterday, has confessed to a fellow prisoner that he was a plumber, his name is C. A. Hall and that his home is at Marion, Ohio. When questioned by the officers who brought him to this city for safekeeping, Hall said he was too sick to talk, but he afterward revealed his identity and said he had been employed at Indianapolis. Hall is suffering from a score of shot wounds, the most serious of which is over his right eye. His breast and legs were also peppered with shot. None of the wounds will prove fatal.

A few minutes past 11 o'clock yesterday Hall entered the Fortville bank while the cashier and clerks were at their luncheon, and approaching the cashier's window, asked Assistant Cashier Trittip, who was alone behind the counter, if he would change a 25-cent piece. Trittip turned to get the change and the would-be robber drew a long-barreled revolver, and pointing it at the startled man's head, with an oath demanded that the cashier give him $2,500. Trittip pointedly refused the demand and dodged behind the counter to seize a club that was lying on the floor. The robber fired one shot, which went wild of the mark, and without a moment's hesitancy Trittip started for the robber. Before Hall could shoot again several persons, attracted by the first shot, hastened toward the bank, and fearing capture, he ran out at the front door and made his escape to a strip of woods half a mile from the outskirts of the town.

A posse was hurriedly organized and Hall was soon surrounded. When he was called upon to surrender he opened fire with his big revolver. Fearing some members of the posse might be hit by one of the robber's bullets, John Bills, who was armed with a Winchester shotgun, fired point-blank at the fugitive. With a yell of pain the erstwhile desperado dropped his revolver and shouted that he was willing to give up.

CAPE TOWN GREETED DE WET.

Cape Town, July 29.—General De Wet proved that the could evade friends as successfully as he did enemies by arriving here unexpectedly yesterday afternoon and upsetting all the elaborate plans prepared for his reception. He strolled through the streets, casually nodding to acquaintances and occasionally to a former opponent. Arrangements were quickly made by Afrikaners to entertain the famous leader tonight at a semi-private dinner, tickets to which were 5 guineas ($26.25) premium. A striking contrast to De Wet's return was the scene Sunday when Generals Botha and Delarey attended church. The building was packed, mainly with women, and the service was scarcely concluded when their Cape Town admirers stormed the pew in which the generals sat. With difficulty they retreated to the vestry. The congregation followed and Generals Botha and Delarey were lifted to the vestry table. The pastor of the church warmly remonstrated, whereupon a number of these present seized the generals and carried them to carriages, where another demonstration ensued.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Cuthbert K. Davis and Jessie E. Moore. In this case the license was withheld yesterday, pending an affidavit, which was subsequently filed and the license being granted, the parties were immediately married by Justice Tancey.

William Dresler and Bernadina Lange.

FAIR IS INCORPORATED.

Indianapolis, July 28.—(Special.)—The Fort Wayne Fair association, capital stock $5,000, was incorporated today, with Charles McCulloch, Stephen B. Fleming, L. A. Centlivre, G. V. Kell, H. W. Tapp, H. A. Wiebke and others as directors.

IN NORTHERN INDIANA.

North Manchester has knocked out Sunday base ball.

William J. Walsworth died at Auburn Saturday at the age of 75.

Three valuable cows on the farm of Ed Smith, north of Warsaw, were killed by lightning Friday evening. Dr. Nelson D. Clouser, of Hartford City, the oldest physician in Blackford county, is dead at the age of 92 years.

David Haines, one of the oldest residents of Columbia City, died Friday evening. He was eighty-five years of age.

Mineral springs have been discovered at Lake Manitou, in Fulton county, and a sanitarium is to be erected.

Calvin Beagle, a pioneer resident of Oswego, Kosciusko county, died a few days ago at the age of ninety-two years.

I. B. Campbell, of Royal Center, picked up several small snakes after a rain, and he thinks they were rained down.

Citizens of Goshen are asking the school board to establish night school in several of the rooms at the central building.

The first wheat sown and harvested in Wabash county is said to have been the crop cultivated by Dexter Brooks, in 1836.

Rochester has the largest pickle receiving and salting plant in the state. It has just been put into operation by a Chicago firm.

Mrs. Maggie Clayton, of Laporte, jumped from her carriage because her horse was going too fast, and was probably fatally hurt.

Much wheat in Adams county, left standing in the shock, has rotted to the ground and is worthless. Excessive rains caused the damage.

Samuel Snavely, one of the oldest settlers in this section of the state, died a few days ago at his home near Lake Wawasee. Mr. Snavely was 90 years of age.

Mrs. Will Roop, east of Decatur, was vaccinated in February last. She has suffered constantly from its effects since that time and her arm may have to be amputated.

Two slight fires, which occurred at Bluffton on the closing night of the carnival, are believed to have been started by incendiaries who wanted an opportunity to burglarize homes. Emory Slusser and Isaac Fisher, both prominent farmers of Warren township, Huntington county, are missing from their homes, and friends are alarmed over their absence.

Just after he had eaten his dinner Saturday, and while taking a noon rest beneath a tree near his home, Albert Marine, of Hartford City, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

Dewitt Benedict, 44 years of age, was found dead in bed at the Elkhart county asylum Friday morning. Paris green on the beard of the dead man told the story of the method adopted.

Word has been received at Wawasee that 3,000,000 black bass of the finest kind will be placed there within the next sixty days. The fishermen are elated over this bit of good news.

Large barns owned by John H. Schreiber, Martin Lay and Lydia Graves, in Whitley county, were struck by lightning and destroyed Friday night. The residence of J. S. Zent, at Boone, was also damaged.

There is now a strong suspicion at Decatur that the recent disappearance of Oliver Reynolds and Miss Loser, presumed to be an elopement, may develop into a case of abduction. Indications are now said to point to the fact that Reynolds forced the girl to leave her home against her will.

The pleading of a child stopped a divorce trial at Kokomo on Wednesday. Mrs. Emma Rinard had filed suit against J. W. Rinard, a leading druggist, asking also $10,000 alimony. The child, Ralph Rinard, aged 11, was grief-stricken at the proposed separation and went from one to the other pleading tearfully for a reconciliation. He got the parents together finally, and as a result the estranged people "made up" and the suit was dismissed. The Rinards formerly resided at Bluffton.

Col. Isaac W. Brown, the "bird and bee man," addressed an assemblage of Indianapolis boys at Winona, incidentally referring to the grave of John M. Hamilton, near by. He pictured Hamilton as a famous Indian fighter, and before he finished the lads from the city were wrought up to the highest pitch of excitement.

Next day they visited the grave and pretty nearly wrecked the tombstones in securing souvenirs. Hamilton was famous in pioneer history, living among the Indians, and died 63 years ago. Authorities are much annoyed at the defacing of the stones at the famous grave.

The four-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Callahan, of Geneva, was smothered to death by sticky fly paper Saturday. The mother had rocked the little one to sleep, placed it upon the bed and laid a sheet of fly paper near to keep the flies away from the sleeping child. In some manner the infant rolled over on the fly paper, and when found a short time later was smothered. The fly paper completely covered the face, making it impossible for the babe to breathe.

Mrs. Fanny Ford, of Auburn, died Sunday, aged 74.

Geneva has begun the erection of a $6,000 U. B. church.

Rev. G. W. Henry has resigned the pastorate of the Christian church at Warsaw.

George Rumbaugh, a Noble county pioneer, died Monday at his home near Brimfield, aged 73 years.

Garrett smallpox patients are convalescent, and there is little danger of further spread of the disease.

Wells county is congratulating itself on the fact that for more than a week it has been free from smallpox.

Conrad Fravert, sr., a pioneer citizen of Washington township, Whitley county, died Monday at the age of 79 years. He had long been in feeble health.

Mrs. Jack M. Smith, near Warsaw, died Monday morning as the result of injuries sustained in a violent fall against a barbed-wire fence a few days previously.

It is believed that Dodge Wolverton, of Hartford City, who recently bombarded the home of his father-in-law and secured two of his children, has fled to Canada.

After about twenty-five years of active ministry in the Lutheran church, Rev. A. J. Douglas, of Columbia City, will retire. He has filled charges at several points in northeastern Indiana.

Fire Saturday evening totally destroyed the residence of John Cramer, near Decatur. It was caused by an overheated stove, and flames had gained such headway when discovered that nothing could be saved.

John Mann Tindall, of Chicago, fell from a Lake Shore train near Rolling Prairie Sunday night and his head was cut off. Tindall is the fifth victim to fall from trains in Laporte county within a year, and all met instant death.

D. E. Neff, of Argos, attempted suicide Monday by slashing his throat with a pocket knife. He didn't go deep enough to reach the jugular vein, and will recover. Neff was disappointed in love affairs, and had been drinking heavily.

Jacob Blass, aged 25, and Reginald Garver, 12, who live near Bristol, Elkhart county, were set upon by three negroes as they were returning late at night from Mishawaka, where they had sold a load of berries. Both were fearfully beaten and Blass was robbed of $75.

Goshen suffered seriously Sunday from an electrical storm which swept over that region, wrecking shade trees, awnings, signs, chimneys and factory smoke-stacks. In the country crops were leveled and orchards demolished. It was the most severe storm in years.

Will Potter, of Wabash, recently became a convert of the doctrine expounded by Dowie, of Zion City, and resigned his position to go to Zion, where employment was promised. Potter has remained a month in his new home and is so disgusted with Dowie and his creed that he has asked for his old place at Wabash.

When Private Roy Dille's battalion, from Manila to Buffalo, passed through Elkhart last August, Dille threw a Krag cartridge from the train, wrapped in paper bearing his address. Ruby Oliver, a pretty young woman, found it. Correspondence ensued, Dille came a few days ago to claim his bride, and the wedding will occur shortly.

MISS LAURA HOWARD, President South End Ladies' Golf Club, Chicago, Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After the Best Doctors Had Failed to Help Her.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I can thank you for perfect health to-day. Life looked so dark to me a year or two ago. I had constant pains, my limbs swelled, I had dizzy spells, and never know one day how I would feel the next. I was nervous and had no appetite, neither could I sleep soundly nights. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, used in conjunction with your Sanative Wash, did more for me than all the medicines and the skill of the doctors. For eight months I have enjoyed perfect health. I verily believe that most of the doctors are guessing and experimenting when they try to cure a woman with an assortment of complications, such as mine; but you do not guess. How I wish all suffering women could only know of your remedy; there would be less suffering I know."—LAURA HOWARD, 113 Newberry Ave., Chicago, Ill. $5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are ill to write her for advice. Address Lynn, Mass., giving full particulars.

Congressman James M. Robison spent Sunday with his brothers, J. B. and W. M. Robison, of Pleasant township.

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Shryock will go to Niagara this week, where the doctor will attend the national convention of dentists.

New cases of scarlet fever have been reported from 207 West Washington, 322 West Jefferson and 610 Brackenridge streets.

Mr. Joe Howard and Mr. George Sommers, of Van Wert, Ohio, are in this city under the treatment of Dr. Thain for asthma and lung trouble.

Louis Rempis, employed in the Riedmiller livery barn, fell out of a carriage Sunday while driving on Hoagland avenue and was painfully injured.

Judge Edward O'Rourke's cottage at Rome City has been completed and is nearly ready for occupation. The cottage is of stone and is situated on Gem island.

A reunion of the family of Nathaniel H. Miller was held at his home in Jefferson township last Friday and was attended by about forty of his descendants. N. H. Miller, of this city, one of the grand-children, was unable to be present.

Messrs. Fred Pohlmeier and Gus Stallut gave a "bus party" to the Hansen farm Sunday, the guests numbering about thirty. A portion of the day was devoted to picnicking in the Hansen grove. The young people assembled at the home of William Kayser, on Broadway.

John Luedke has been taken to his home from St. Joseph hospital, where he has been under treatment for several weeks for injuries received by being struck by a car near the I. S. F. M. Y. For a time it was thought the injured man would die. Luedke is janitor at the St. Joe Athletic club.

A letter from William Wehrs, jr., written at Chicago, states that he and his traveling mate, Otto Reese, will leave this evening for Denver, Col., where they will spend a few days and then move on to the Pacific coast. The young men are employees of the Fort Wayne Electric company and are out on a three months' leave of absence.

There will be an all-day picnic for the children of Grace Reformed church and Sunday school at Swinney park Wednesday of this week. There will be a basket dinner and a stand where ice cream, candy and the like will be sold. There will be conveyances at the church at 8:30 in the morning to take the children to the park. A general invitation is extended.

Sandusky, Ohio, Register: "Col. J. H. Jack, of Lafayette, Ind., and Mrs. Louise J. Woods, of Fort Wayne, Ind., brother and sister, are visiting in the city, having journeyed here to look after their parents' tombs in Oakland cemetery, eldest son and daughter of Lieut. E. G. Jack, of company D, Tenth Ohio cavalry, in the civil war. They entered business soon after the war in Indiana, but still retain a warm spot for their childhood home and enjoy periodical visits to the old stamping ground."

Earle, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Arlin, of 526 Holman street, was seriously injured Saturday evening while playing "duck-on-the-rock" with some companions. A stone thrown at the duck glanced and struck the lad on the head, cutting a gash in which Dr. Schneider was compelled to take a number of stitches. Theodore Dornte, one of the lads who was in the game, with much presence of mind, bound the injured boy's head and staunch the flow of blood until the physician arrived.

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

HELD AS HOSTAGE

SULTAN OF BINADAYAN IS ARRESTED.

MUST DELIVER BAD MOROS

ONE WHO AMBUSHED AMERICANS IS PRODUCED.

THE HICKMAN COURT MARTIAL

A WATER CURIST BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN ACQUITTED.

Manila, July 24.—Capt. John J. Pershing, of the Fifteenth cavalry, who is in command of the Lano (Mindanao) expedition, has arrested the sultan of Binadayan as a hostage for the delivery to him of the Moros who on June 22 attacked two Americans. The sultan offered to produce the dead body of a relative of the Moro leader and to surrender ten slaves; but Captain Pershing refused to entertain the suggestion. The sultan then ordered his followers to produce the guilty Moros.

On Tuesday one of the guilty men was brought into the camp of the Americans. He was horribly mutilated. Before dying he confessed having participated in the ambush of the Americans. Tongul, the leader of the attack, has fortified his house and defies the sultan of Binadayan's followers to capture him.

HICKMAN COURT MARTIAL.

Manila, July 24.—The court martial of Lieut. Edwin A. Hickman, of the First cavalry, on the charges of having ducked in a pond two natives or Tayabas because they refused to guide him to the stronghold of the insurgent leader, Caballes, and with having ducked a third native, who died from the maltreatment, has been concluded after two brief sittings, and Lieutenant Hickman is believed to have been acquitted.

The defense admitted all of the specifications in the first charge, taking exception only to the word "unlawful," and pleaded justification under general order 100 and the conditions prevailing in Tayabas province. The defense also produced a telegraphic order from General Chaffee, urging the location of Caballes, regardless of the measures necessary to do so. The defense disclaimed any desire to shift the responsibility and said the telegram produced showed the urgent necessity for locating Caballes.

Lieutenant Hickman testified regarding the charge that he had caused the death of a third native and said that witnesses at the Gardner inquiry testified that this man died from injuries, that he was not ducked and that he was not molested. The prosecution disregarded the latter charge as unworthy of credence. Colonel Smith, who was a witness for the defense, testified that Major Gardner was responsible for the charges against Lieutenant Hickman and said Major Gardner had sought for testimony to be brought against the lieutenant.

DETAILS ARE UNKNOWN.

The bodies of four school teachers who had been missing since June 10 have been found in the mountains near Cebu, Island of Cebu, where their captors had murdered them.

The police killed the leader of the band of murderers and captured eight other alleged participants in the crime. One of them escaped. Neither the circumstances surrounding the death of the teachers nor the date of the murders is known. The bodies were taken into Cebu and buried.

SHE WANTED A JOB.

Mildred Field, the Illinois heiress who was arrested at Frankfort Tuesday on a charge of having forged the name of Attorney J. J. M. LaFollette, of Indianapolis, to a check for $25, formerly resided at Portland, and in May last wrote C. W. Orr, of this city, asking for a position with the Aetna Life Insurance company, whose northern Indiana business is managed by Mr. Orr. The penmanship shows culture and refinement, but Miss Field wanted a place in a big town, preferably Muncie or Marion, and stated that she had always been accustomed to city life. She also neglected to supply acceptable references, and the negotiations for a position ended suddenly. Attorney LaFollette, whose name she is accused of signing to the spurious check, has been in the city this week on business in the federal court. He is an assistant district attorney for Indiana, and is well known in Fort Wayne.

RAILING GIVE WAY.

Alton Keller, twelve years old and living at 2603 Shawnee avenue, fell from a footbridge in South Wayne last Thursday and received internal injuries that may prove serious. The boy was leaning against a railing when it gave way, and he was precipitated to the ground beneath, a distance of nearly ten feet. No bones were broken and the lad did not suffer any abrasions, but Dr. B. V. Sweringen, who was called, believes the boy sustained internal injuries.

NORTON-MADDUX.

Miss Florence E. Maddux and Frederick E. Norton were quietly married Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. at the United Brethren parsonage by Rev. J. W. Lake. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Maddux and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Norton, of 731 Putnam street, and is a painter by trade. Mr. and Mrs. Norton will be at home for the present at the home of the groom's parents.

THEY CLASH WITH UNCLE SAM

AUBURN QUARTET IS HELD TO FEDERAL GRAND JURY.

E. K. Marsh, W. L. Watt, L. E. Clark and John Blaney, all of Auburn, were given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Logan in Fort Wayne before noon Thursday on a charge of robbing the Altona postoffice. Upon a plea of guilty the quartet was held under bonds of $500 each to await the action of the federal grand jury. They were unable to give the bond, and were taken to Indianapolis and lodged in jail.

The men were arrested at LaOtto Tuesday evening on a charge of having burglarized the store of Thomas Maggart, at Altona, a little village one mile west of Garrett. About $5 in pennies and considerable merchandise was taken. Maggart is postmaster at Altona, and the postoffice occupies the front portion of his store room. Under the United States statute it is not necessary to show that postoffice property has been stolen in these cases. The mere breaking into a building where a postoffice is located constitutes an offense against the United States government, and the Delalb county officers, who were proceeding under the state law, surrendered their prisoners to the federal officials.

The prisoners were brought to the city by Deputy United States Marshals Rankin and Boyd, who had been summoned to Indianapolis. All are young men, Watt, the eldest, being 28, Marsh 18, Clark 18 and Blaney 20. The young men admitted to the commissioner that they broke into the store and Postmaster Maggart gave testimony as to the condition in which things were left. Others who were present to give evidence were Marshal J. M. Fresse, Deputies Joseph Leeson and A. C. Pell, and Attorney L. J. Gengler, of Garrett.

LEAGUERS AT AUBURN.

The convention of the Fort Wayne district Epworth league closed at Auburn Thursday after one of the largest and most successful conventions ever held in this district. The following officers were elected:

President—Miss Cora Hood, Ossian.
First Vice President—Miss Alta Hines, Fort Wayne.
Second Vice President—Miss Jessie Brouse, Fort Wayne.
Third Vice President—Miss Mary Scheer, Geneva.
Fourth Vice President—Miss Lulu Hood, Waterloo.
Secretary—F. L. Biel, Bluffton.
Treasurer—Shirley R. Teegarden, Auburn.

Superintendent of Junior Department—Mrs. L. E. Rock, Fort Wayne. The attendance was unusually large, 147 delegates being present, in addition to a large number of visitors. A splendid program of addresses was given and the reports of delegates were most encouraging. The following delegates from this city were in attendance: Rev. W. H. Daniel, Alta Hines, Blanche Blackburn, Rev. J. C. Dorwin, Rev. J. K. Walts, Elizabeth B. Walts, Gertrude Rock, Mrs. Nellie Vought, Grace Patrick, C. A. Byrt, Emma B. Daniel, Edith M. Zook, Gertrude Zook, Nina C. Dorwin, Mrs. J. K. Walts, Elizabeth Hiron, Blanche Metz, Jessie House, Jennie Patterson.

ROBBUCK-M'ILLAN.

The marriage of Miss Edith M. McMillan and Asa Robbuck was solemnized Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. McMillan, of 2039 Hanna street, Rev. M. C. Cooper officiating. The attendants were Miss May Hall and Chauncey Robbuck, and the invited guests numbered about seventy-five. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Robbuck will for the present reside with the bride's parents. Mr. Robbuck is a stationary engineer in the employ of the Pennsylvania company.

HAS FRACTURED RIB.

I. E. Allen, employed as a carpenter for the Wabash railway, is at his home, 520 East Lewis street, suffering from a fractured rib. While at work upon the construction of a water tank Mr. Allen slipped off a plank and in falling sustained the fracture.

TWO HEROES HERE

GENERAL FITZHUGH LEE AND CAPTAIN R. P. HOBSON.

BOTH IN FORT WAYNE TODAY

WERE GUESTS AT WAYNE HOTEL, BUT DID NOT MEET.

EACH ON A LECTURING TOUR

WERE CONSPICUOUS FIGURES DURING RECENT WAR.

(From Thursday's Daily.)
Close together upon the register at the Wayne hotel today are the signatures: "Fitzhugh Lee, Charlottesville, Va.," and "R. P. Hobson, Greensboro, Ala." It isn't often that two American notables of such eminence and distinction are guests at a GENERAL FITZHUGH LEE.

Fort Wayne hotel at one and the same time.

The fame of both the sturdy old warrior, who was consul general at Havana during the troublous times preceding the Spanish-American war and later major general of the United States army, as well as the dashing young naval officer who sank the Merrimac in the harbor at Santiago during the siege of that city, are yet fresh in the minds of the people. The fact that General Lee and Captain Hobson were guests at the hotel at the same time was quite accidental, and they did not meet here.

General Lee, who is delivering the principal address at Winona today, arrived in the city at midnight en route to Warsaw. He was driven at once to the Wayne hotel and retired immediately. Captain Hobson came in on the Wabash at 6 o'clock this morning, breakfasted at the Wayne and left at 8:50 o'clock for Rome City, where he lectures before the Island Park assembly. General Lee had not yet arisen when Captain Hobson was compelled to leave to catch his train, but he left his card for the veteran southern fighter. General Lee was recognized by quite a number of people about the hotel and greeted them pleasantly, but to the newspaper men stated that he had nothing to say that would be of interest to the public. Captain Hobson reached the Pennsylvania depot some time before the departure of his train and occupied the time in walking up and down the platform. Scarcely any in the early morning crowd about the depot recognized the intrepid young southerner, whose manner was quiet and reserved. General Lee left at 10:30 for Winona, and will go from there to Chicago. Captain Hobson returns to Fort Wayne this evening at 6:50 and will leave shortly after for St. Louis.

INCREASES CAPITAL STOCK.

Indianapolis, July 24.—Special.—The Wayne Building and Loan association, of Fort Wayne, today filed notice with the secretary of state of an increase of capital stock from $200,000 to $500,000.

SELLS BLUE LAKE LANDING.

Frank P. Closs was in the city yesterday completing negotiations for the sale of "Blue Lake Landing," a summer hotel which Mr. Closs purchased at the opening of the season. The hotel will pass under the control of the new owner next week and Mr. and Mrs. Closs will spend a month at Blue lake camping before returning to this city to reside. Mr. Closs was in the electric works before purchasing the hotel at Blue lake.

BRUCE-RYAN.

Miss Anna Ryan and Charles F. Bruce were married at St. Patrick's Catholic church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Henry, of St. Patrick's parish, Cincinnati, who came to Fort Wayne specially to officiate at the marriage. A wedding breakfast was served afterward at the bride's home. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce left later for a visit at the groom's home in Kentucky.

SALOONKEEPER HUNT FINED

CONVICTED OF SELLING TO A MINOR.

Case Was Vigorously Fought—Effort to Found Alibi Fails—Bar-tender to be Tried.

(From Thursday's Daily.)
Charles E. Hunt, the Calhoun street saloonkeeper, had another inning at police court today, which resulted in his being fined $20 and costs, amounting in all to $33, for selling liquor to minors. He prayed for an appeal and bond was fixed in the sum of $100.

The case tried today was one of the Blair cases and the affidavit alleged that the offense was committed on July 3rd. The case was called yesterday morning, but was continued immediately after young Edward Blair had been sworn, Attorney Thomas, representing the defendant, stating that he was prepared to defend the case of July 19, but was not prepared to defend the new case, as he knew nothing of the surrounding circumstances. This morning Blair was put on the stand again and testified that he was not quite 16 and that he bought three pints of beer from the defendant, Hunt, on the evening of July 3, paying him 15 cents therefor, and that Hunt had told him to "keep his mouth shut." He was in company of Earl Arnold and another boy at the time and while admitting that he had taken a number of beers during the evening, said that Hunt's was the first place that he stopped at and that he thought it was about 8 o'clock in the evening, but might have been as early as 7; he was certain it was not 9. He said he did not know Hunt at the time and had never been in his place before, but was certain that the man appearing as the defendant, Hunt, was the man who sold him the beer. He has been in Hunt's place since and his identification of the man came with later intimacy, although as a matter of fact he did not know Hunt in the sense of an acquaintance. Blair's testimony was corroborated by Arnold and another boy, so far as it related to the purchase of the beer at Hunt's place was concerned, although the other witnesses could not testify as to the identity of the particular individual who sold the beer, since they had remained on the outside while Blair was getting the beverage. Blair gave his testimony in a straightforward and apparently honest manner and that he was telling the truth was evidenced by the fact that during the cross-examination he never deviated from the main proposition, although he was uncertain concerning some minor details. On cross-examination the counsel for the defendant endeavored to confuse the witness and tried to convey the impression that young Blair had once been sent to the reform school in Ohio; this attempt, however, fell flat and seeing that a mistake had been made, counsel dropped the examination along those lines.

For the defense Hunt introduced his wife and daughter, the latter a miss of about 15. They testified that Hunt had left the house at about 12:30 on July 3 and had not returned until about 9:15 of the same evening and that therefore he could not have made the sale. Judge Dreibeiss, in finding judgment, spoke at some length. He reviewed some rules of evidence and said that it was within the province of the court to consider the interest of the witnesses, without reflecting upon their credibility. That the evidence was that Blair was intoxicated on the evening of July 3 and that he must have got liquor somewhere; that he got it in Hunt's saloon there was no doubt in the mind of the court and that two altogether disinterested witnesses had testified to that effect; that Mrs. Hunt and daughter did not testify that anyone else in the saloon had or had not sold the boy beer, but simply that they did not see Hunt sell it and that it would have been impossible for him to have sold it since he was not there at the hour named. These witnesses might be mistaken as to fact and giving the other witnesses the preference did not imply perjury, as the counsel for defense attempted to show. The court was convinced that the state had made a case and that the defendant was guilty as charged and he assessed a fine of $20 and costs. Three witnesses claimed fees, which made the total $33. Attorney Thomas then prayed for an appeal and the court fixed the bond at $100.

OTHER CASE DISMISSED.

The case against Hunt charging him with selling to the same boy on July 19, was dismissed, on motion of the prosecutor, who stated that he had discovered that the beer was bought at Hunt's, but not sold by Hunt; that it was sold by Rufus Karns, the bartender, against whom an affidavit was filed and who had been arrested and was then in court. The Karns case was then called, but Mr. Thomas, also attorney in that case, said he was not ready for trial, inasmuch as he had not been advised of the arrest until but a few minutes before. The case was accordingly continued until tomorrow morning. Meantime, other cases against Hunt are pending at Bullermann's court.

DROWNED IN THE MAUMEE

CHARLES YARRINGTON GOES DOWN TO DEATH.

Told Bystanders He Could Not Swim, But That "Now is a Good Time to Learn."

Charles Yarrington, 16 years of age, the adopted son of William Yarrington, a prominent Maumee township farmer, met death by drowning in the Maumee river at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at a point near the State Line bridge, in the extreme eastern part of the county, twenty-five miles from Fort Wayne.

It was about 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening when Ira Applegate and Walter Stevenson, two young men of the neighborhood, took their horses to the river at the north end of the State Line bridge to wash the animals. They had nearly finished this task when young Yarrington, in company with two young ladies, came riding horseback across the bridge. The young ladies proceeded northward, but Yarrington turned toward the river bank, where Applegate and Stevenson were washing their horses. As he did so one of the young ladies laughingly cautioned him not to get drowned.

Yarrington spoke to the others there and then swam his horse several times to and from a small island in the center of the river at that point. The water is quite deep and the current is pretty rapid, and Applegate and Stevenson cautioned the lad against getting his horse into the swift current lest he be carried away. After several trips on the horse's back to the island, Yarrington, in response to a question, stated that he could not swim, but remarked: "Now is a good time to learn."

Leaving the horse upon the river bank the young fellow plunged into the water without removing his clothing. He splashed about for a time, rising and sinking, but did not call for help, and the young fellows watching him thought Yarrington had been merely shamming in pretending to be unable to swim. They stood for a time laughing at his supposed antics, but finally noticed that he was remaining under water too long. Only the top of Yarrington's head was visible, and as neither Applegate nor Stevenson could swim sufficiently to attempt a rescue in that manner they hastily procured long poles and attempted to reach them out to where Yarrington could clutch them. They were unable to attract the attention of the unfortunate young fellow and in a few moments he sank to his death.

Assistance was hurriedly procured, and the body was recovered less than an hour later. It lay in about twelve feet of water, almost at the point where the lad was seen to go down. Officers in this city were notified, and Coroner Barnett and Deputy Sheriff Smith left at 10 o'clock for the scene. An investigation of the occurrence was made.

STORMS CAUSE DAMS TO BREAK.

Irwin, Pa., July 25.—Not a manufacturing establishment in town was running today as a result of last night's storm. The breaking of the two dams flooded the entire western part of Irwin and at Coal Hollow, houses, bridges and railroad sidings were washed away. The big Westmoreland car shops were damaged to the extent of thousands of dollars. In the country many coal shafts are flooded and dozens of bridges have been destroyed. The hail cut all the oats and corn to the ground and everything in the nature of vegetation is destroyed. Near Washington the creek overflowed its banks and a passenger train bound for Waynesburg, with 100 passengers, was held up nearly all night.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 24.—A severe electrical storm passed north of the city last night, instantly killing E. Wilson, a farmer, and his son, destroying a number of barns, a church and causing other damage.

KILLED IN WRECK

FRIGHTFUL COLLISION NEAR XENIA, OHIO.

FOUR KILLED AND MANY HURT

PENNSYLVANIA LIMITED HITS RUNAWAY COAL CAR.

PASSENGER TRAIN DERAILED

BODY OF ENGINEER REDUCED TO ASHES.

Xenia, Ohio, July 25.—A wreck occurred at 10:30 last night at Treble station, three miles from here, when train No. 2, the Pennsylvania limited from St. Louis to New York, was met by a wild coal car at the foot of a heavy grade.

Following is a corrected list of the dead and injured at 11 a. m.:

DEAD.
William Clark, engineer, formerly of Xenia, now of Columbus; trunk of body and one leg found; leaves wife and three children.

Patrick Dwyer, fireman, residence Cincinnati.
M. M. Peters, mail clerk, residence Cincinnati.
E. F. M. McKeown, mail clerk, Greenfield, Ind.; body not recovered.

THE INJURED.
Joseph Converse, aged 27, Elmira, N. Y.; scalp wound, not serious.
Bessie Donovan, 18, Irwin, Pa.; cut about head; not serious.
William G. Forsythe, Indianapolis, Ind.; mail clerk; dangerously hurt.
W. A. Gifford, Woodstock, mail clerk; cut about head and arms; dangerously hurt.
James McFadden, Indianapolis; nose fractured; not serious. He had a ticket for Ireland and was able to proceed.

Mollie Collins, Louisville, Ky., head cut not serious.
MANY SLIGHTLY HURT.
The story of a woman and child having been burned to death is not confirmed and discredited. Ten or twelve people who are not included in the above list were slightly injured. Besides the postal and express cars the train consisted of a day coach and several sleepers.

In some manner the coal car, loaded, had been loosened from its couplings and started down a three mile grade, gaining velocity as it went. At the bottom of the grade it crashed into the engine of the passenger train. The coal car was smashed to splinters and the passenger engine demolished, while the postal and express cars were piled on top of it in a promiscuous heap. Almost simultaneous with the first crash the gas tanks under the cars exploded and set fire to the ruins.

Instantly cries could be heard from the mass of wreckage. Passengers who had themselves suffered injuries forgot their pain in witnessing the suffering of the women and the men who were slowly burning to death, but whom, on account of their own injuries, they were unable to rescue.

An engine from Xenia was hurried to the scene and two Pullmans that remained safely on the track were hauled to a place of safety, serving for the time being as a refuge for the less seriously wounded.

Most of the passengers were ticketed through from St. Louis or far western points to New York.

The badly injured were taken to Xenia, where private houses were opened for their accommodation. The others were later taken to Columbus to resume their journeys. The engineer, William Clark, of Columbus, was buried beneath his engine and his body was burned to ashes. His fireman, William Dwyer, of Cincinnati, was horribly mangled, but was thrown from the engine.

The uninjured passengers rendered all possible assistance and rescued many from the debris before the fire broke out and drove them back to be helpless witnesses of the cremation of those who were pinioned beneath the wreck. Conductor Hughes, who was on the ill-fated train, reported that there were at least three or four passengers who could not be gotten out and whose bodies are still in the ruins.

To Clarence Kincaid, treasurer of a distilling company at Treble, is given credit for averting a second collision. Knowing that a fast freight was approaching, he telephoned George Barr, a Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton agent, who could reach the Pennsylvania tracks to flag the freight. Barr, by fast sprinting, succeeded in this effort. Two tramps riding on the blind baggage, escaped with mere scratches.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

Van Wert, Ohio, July 25.—At the conclusion of his preliminary hearing, John Moneymaker, who killed William Walls with an axe at Dixon early Sunday morning, was bound over to the November term of court without bail, as the charge, which is for murder in the first degree, will not permit of bail. The November term begins on the first of that month. By the evidence in the preliminary it is thought that the case against him is very clear. The evidence brought out the fact that he had been carrying the axe and looking for Walls for three hours before he committed the murder. The prisoner maintains an attitude of indifference.

DECLARED A DIVIDEND.

The stockholders of the Archer Printing company, at a meeting on Thursday afternoon declared a semi-annual cash dividend of 3 per cent upon its capital stock. The Archer company is enjoying a profitable business and is growing rapidly.

HENRY BEADELL PRESIDENT

PROMINENT MERCHANT HONORED BY COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Annual Election Was Held Thursday—Other Officers—Vacation Until September.

Directors of the Fort Wayne Commercial club, at a meeting held late Thursday afternoon, elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President—Henry Beadell.

First Vice President—Robert Millard.

Second Vice President—Charles W. Orr.

Secretary—John B. Monning.

Treasurer—Charles E. Bond.

There was a contest for but one of the places—that of secretary, for which the names of Mr. Monning and Thomas F. Bresnahan were announced. On the ballot Mr. Monning received 10 votes and Mr. Bresnahan 6 votes.

The official roster is regarded as a very strong one, including as it does business men of prominence and energy, who have been active from the first in matters pertaining to the welfare of the Commercial club and the city. Mr. Monning has been secretary since the organization of the club, and Mr. Bond was chosen treasurer for the third time.

The club will hold no further regular meetings until the second Thursday in September, when the newly elected officers will be formally inducted into their positions.

MARRIED AT FREMONT.

Ned Leland Crawford and Miss Grace May Lynch, of Bellevue, were married at Fremont, Ohio, last Wednesday afternoon, Rev. A. G. Lane performing the ceremony. The groom is employed as night man in the Nickel Plate restaurant in this city and with his bride is now at that hostelry. Concerning the wedding, the Bellevue Gazette says: "The bride is the daughter of Mrs. George Schuler, of this place. The wedding was a very quiet affair and was something of a surprise to the friends of the young couple. Mr. Crawford came home from Fort Wayne Wednesday morning. His bride, who had been visiting friends in Fort Wayne, accompanied him home. In the afternoon they slipped over to Fremont and returned home man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford left on the excursion train on the Nickel Plate for Fort Wayne, where they expect to make their future home and whether they go accompanied by the best wishes of friends."

WERE WEDDED AT ANTWERP.

Ellis A. Karns, of the New Avelino hotel, and Miss Lucille Warner, of Trimble, Tenn., were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at Antwerp, Ohio, the ceremony being performed at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Bressler, grandfather of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Karns returned to Fort Wayne Thursday and will be at home at 308 West Lewis street. The bride and groom were schoolmates years ago at Antwerp, but in recent years Mrs. Karns has been living in Tennessee, and came to Fort Wayne but a few weeks ago. Their friends will extend the heartiest congratulations.

WILL SPEAK AT A PICNIC.

Hon. J. M. Robinson, Judge Edward O'Rourke, Clarence C. Gilhams and Attorney W. C. Geake will go to Leo tomorrow to deliver addresses at a picnic to be given by Masons of that village in a grove along the banks of the St. Joe river. A number of Fort Wayne members of the fraternity will be present.

MRS. M'INTOSH VERY ILL.

Mrs. Benjamin McIntosh, wife of a prominent farmer near Hoagland, is critically ill from heart disease. Dr. W. D. Ruhl was called yesterday in consultation upon the case.

James Byland, a well known farmer north of Avilla, was found dead in his bed Thursday morning. He had not complained of illness, and his death was unexpected.

IRELAND REBUKES

CATHOLICS WHO CRITICISE
PHILIPPINE POLICY.

HE PRAISES THE PRESIDENT

SAYS IT IS BUSINESS FOR THE POPE TO SETTLE.

EXTOLLS THE DEALINGS WITH THE VATICAN.

St. Paul, July 23.—Archbishop John Ireland, in an interview with a representative of the Associated Press, reviewed at some length the progress of the negotiations conducted between Judge Taft and the vatican and takes to task certain Roman Catholic organizations that had assumed to question the fairness of the administration toward their co-religionists. The archbishop says:

"Yes, the news from Rome is quite satisfactory, and I am sure, quite correct. Private advice coming to me from the most reliable source confirm in all respects the dispatches given by the Associated Press.

"The sovereign pontiff and other Roman authorities are delighted with Governor Taft personally and with the negotiations in course of progress between him and the vatican. Reports sent out by the correspondents of certain London papers to the effect that the pontiff was displeased with the manner of acting of the commission of cardinals appointed to treat with Governor Taft were absolutely unfounded.

"As stated in this morning's Rome dispatches, the pontiff assured Governor Taft that he was most satisfied and happy at the results so far obtained and that he was confident the negotiations begun in Rome would be the starting point of a complete and satisfactory solution of the question under discussion. This statement sums up in the most exact manner the situation as the vatican views it, and as it really is.

DELAY IS INEVITABLE.

"That the negotiations have not yet reached final conclusions and are to be transferred from Rome to Manila is what might have been expected from the beginning. Governor Taft is in a hurry to return to the Philippines and could not prolong his stay in Rome, and, on the other hand, the problems to be solved are so complicated, especially from the vatican standpoint, that time in the work is of prime necessity.

"The vatican and Governor Taft came easily and quickly to a substantial agreement; the question for the vatican is what practical methods are to be adopted to put the agreement into execution. With a little time certain matters now seeming to offer great difficulties will be made, by quiet, skillful touches of pontifical diplomacy, to work themselves out without friction or excitement; and so, when in Manila, final conclusions are to be reached, things will have been ripe and will turn out all right.

"This is the vatican method of proceeding; it is a wise and prudent method. Mr. Taft understands the matter, and leaves Rome thoroughly satisfied and hopeful. He carries away with him the pontiff's statement that the negotiations begun in Rome will prove to have been the starting point of a complete and satisfactory solution of the questions at issue, and that much he considers to be quite sufficient for the moment. There can be no doubt but that the active co-operation of the vatican is now assured to the American government in its task of pacification in the Philippines, and that in the results the administration at Washington will have ample reason to felicitate itself for having sent Governor Taft to Rome.

WANTS ATTACKS STOPPED.

"And now, it is to be hoped there will be among certain classes of Roman Catholics in America a cessation of movements and declarations such as we have had recent occasion to hear of regarding religious matters in the Philippines. The pope teaches those Roman Catholics to trust the American government, as they seemingly have been heretofore unwilling to do. In his conversation with Governor Taft he expressed the highest esteem for American methods of treating church matters, and remarked that he had more than once pointed toward the United States as setting an example well worth copying.

"The pope's words ought to signify something to those who profess to take him as their leader and guide. At any rate, the direction of Catholic affairs is his business, not that of irresponsible church societies or newspaper editors.

"The agitation, such as it was, in certain Roman Catholic quarters, did no honor to those who participated in it. As is now proved, they spoke and acted without due knowledge, and, certainly without proper regard for the government of their country.

NAILS AN UNTRUTH.

"It was rankest rashness and injustice to intimate that the government intended to proselyte in the Philippines. To know in the slightest degree Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Root or Mr. Taft is to be certain that nothing of the kind could have been thought of or could have been tolerated. Never did there reside in the white house a man more fair-minded and impartial in religious matters, more resolute to give all classes of citizens the religious rights granted them by the constitution and to protect them in those rights than Theodore Roosevelt.

"As to Mr. Taft, I quote from a letter which I received but yesterday from a Roman Catholic priest, living in the arch-episcopal palace at Manila, Rev. W. D. McKinnon: 'I can assure you, nothing could be more unjust than the criticisms of Governor Taft appearing in some Catholic papers. Governor Taft has not a particle of bigotry in his make-up. In all his acts here I defy anyone to say he has shown himself prejudiced in the least.'

"No stronger proof of fair-mindedness in the settlement of the religious question of the Philippines could the administration have given than to respond graciously to the wishes of the vatican that a messenger from the American government should go to Rome to discuss matters directly with the pope and his advisors. American Roman Catholics should be irreverent most grateful to Mr. Roosevelt for his noble action in this regard, and should see in it the assurance that whatever may be done in the Philippines a spirit of high-mindedness and justice is sure to be the dominant inspiration. Other governments would have gone to work in their own way without a word being said to the head of the church or counsel asked from him.

"But, I repeat, the agitation I am reproving only comes from the few American Roman Catholics, as a body, trust the government—and in the present issues trust the holy see and hold their souls in peace."

EIGHT HEATS NECESSARY

2:09 PACE FOR $3,000 AT CLEVELAND LONG DRAWN OUT.

Won by Dan R., Which Showed Best
Lasting Powers—Other Circuit
Events Won in Straight Heats.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 23.—The grand circuit races opened yesterday, a day late because of the downpour on Monday. The $3,000 stakes for 2:09 pacers was the banner event and it was decided only after an eight-heat contest, making it the longest race that has been held this season. Fred S. Wedgewood was the opening favorite and continued so until after the fourth heat had been paced. Then Dan R., which had always been well played, showed himself, but dropped the next two heats to others. At the beginning of the seventh heat the Wedgewood horse was back favorite, but Dan R. did the lasting and led the way in the pair of succeeding trips around the track. All bets made on the race were small ones, no card amounting to over $400.

Pronounced favorites won each of the other three races in straight heats, and at no time was there much danger of either of the three being beaten out.

Sirentum Spier, b c, by Directum-Lulu Campau (Kenny), won; Wilque, b g (McDonald), second; John Patterson, b g (Geers), third. Time—2:13¼, 2:14. Lauretta, Horace W., Miss Johnson, Roan Wilkes, Blanche, Prince Caton and Jurash also started.

Wayne King, who finished eighth in the 2:19 pace, is a Fort Wayne horse, owned by Frank Bogash. He is a green youngster of much promise, but yesterday was his debut in a contest.

SESSIONS CLOSE

IS OVER.

OFFICERS CHOSEN TODAY

PRESIDENT HOHNSEHN, OF CLEVELAND, RE-ELECTED.

The sessions of the Walther League of the United States, which began Sunday evening at Zion's Lutheran church, concluded this afternoon, and while quite a number of the delegates will remain over Thursday to participate in the social session at Robison park tomorrow, many will leave for their homes this evening. The convention of 1902 has been the largest in the history of the Walther League and in some respects the most important on account of the final settlement of a number of important questions.

The principal business of this morning's session, which was opened with a prayer by Rev. C. H. Luehr, of Zion's church, was the election of officers. Owing to the abolishment of the dues, decided upon yesterday, the office of financial secretary, held by W. C. Baade, of this city, was done away with.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Louis Hohnsehn, of Cleveland, O.

Recording Secretary—Ed. M. E. Gross, Fort Wayne.

Corresponding Secretary—Prof. M. Dippman, Milwaukee.

Treasurer—R. E. Braeunlich, Buffalo, N. Y.

The officers of the league today denied the report that the lady delegates were working to have one of their number elected to a national office. The constitution of the Walther League provides that no woman can hold such an office.

The committee appointed to revise the books of the financial secretary and treasurer reported that the books were in perfect order. President Hohnsehn appointed the following committees: On membership, H. F. Wells, John Partensfelder and Herman Landeck, all of Milwaukee; on entertainment, H. W. Nobis, J. Dress and A. Walker, of Cleveland; on buttons, A. Kramer and Gottlieb Strieder, of this city.

SOCIETIES WITHDRAW.

The following societies presented notices of withdrawal from the national body: Defiance, O.; Christ's church and St. Luke's societies, of Cleveland; St. Andrews, of Buffalo. The reasons given for withdrawal are that the above mentioned societies are opposed to membership fees, and as the fees have been abolished, the presidents of the two districts were instructed to endeavor to have the societies reconsider their resignations.

This afternoon's session was devoted to the consideration of unfinished business and the discussion of a number of questions of minor importance. The final adjournment was made shortly after 4 o'clock.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

It was definitely decided yesterday afternoon to do away with the payment of dues to support the league, although the matter was not settled without considerable debate. It was also decided to hold annual meetings, both matters being placed in the hands of a committee for settlement. The convention decided to donate all collections received during the coming year for the support of theological students in the Missouri synod. All money collected from the leagues for the Walther Luther Monument association will be refunded and the amusement committee will return to the leagues all books it has received.

The society at Mishawaka was stricken from the rolls, having failed to make formal application for membership. The society at Goshen will take the matter up and will endeavor to form a new society in Mishawaka, affiliated with the national body. The Buffalo district will be divided into two districts to be known as the east and west.

An important point decided yesterday was the granting permission to the English members to form separate districts in the league. This permission is granted with the understanding that they remain affiliated with the national body.

Rev. Bruno C. Poch, pastor of a German church in London, gave a lecture on missionary work in that city. It was decided to donate the money taken at the opening collection for mission work in London.

Prof. J. H. Ungemach has been asked to arrange the Walther League choros for mixed and female choirs.

QUEER OLD SOUVENIR.

John W. Double, of this city, is the possessor of an old newspaper which he prizes very highly as a souvenir of the days before the civil war. It is a copy of "Brother Jonathan," a publication issued by Wilson & Co., New York, dated July 4, 1848, and "published on the Fourth of July and Christmas of each year." The imense sheet is tattered and discolored by age, but its contents are interesting as showing the topics of those times. The paper is a nine-column quarto, and its first page is entirely taken up, save for the space used by the heading, by portraits of Thomas H. Benton, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun and Daniel Webster, who were then in the zenith of their prominence. Two pages are occupied by an immense wood engraving illustrating the storming of the castle of Chapultepec, September 13, 1847, less than a year previous, by the American troops under General Scott. Other illustrations include humor of the day and scenes from the Fourth of July parades. The paper has been in Mr. Double's possession for many years.

MONEY IN MOVING QUICKLY

GRAIN MEN ADVISE QUICK
MARKETING OF OATS.

Fifteen to Twenty Cents a Bushel
Higher for July Delivery Than Later Selling.

Fort Wayne grain dealers say that Allen county farmers will make a lot of money if they are able to get their oats marketed quickly, and they point out that a few days delay may mean a loss of from fifteen to twenty cents per bushel on the crop.

The harvest of oats is just beginning in this county, the first having been cut this week, and within a day or two it will be in very general progress all over the county. Yesterday's Chicago market quoted 66 cents for July delivery and but 34 for September.

Charles S. Bash strongly advises that farmers get their grain into market as quickly as possible, and says if it can be hurried to either Chicago or Toledo in time to be included in the July contracts the farmer will be the gainer to the extent of fifteen to twenty cents per bushel. All will depend, however, upon the facilities for cutting and threshing during the next few days. The grain ought not to reach Fort Wayne later than next Monday to get in on the July contracts.

NEW HOME FOR DAILY NEWS

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Possession Is to Be Given September
1—Prudential Has Not Yet Chosen Quarters.

The Fort Wayne Daily News company has just closed a lease with the White estate for the occupancy of the city Y. M. C. A. building on Calhoun street, between Wayne and Washington, and from and after September 1 the Daily News will be printed from its new home in that building.

The lease is said to be for a long term of years, and includes the entire building with the exception of the top floor, now in use as a bowling alley. The Prudential Insurance company now occupies the front portion of the main floor, and Superintendent Beal stated this morning that their lease extended until February next. He had as yet made no selection of future quarters for the insurance company. With the exception of the portions used by the Prudential and the bowling alley the building will be surrendered to the Daily News company on September 1.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION.

Henry Killinger, a traveling salesman, at Angola, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $4,070.24 and his assets $285. Brown & Carlin, of Angola, are attorneys for the petitioner.

HURT IN LOUISVILLE.

L. S. Williams, of 2412 Miner street, was brought home from Louisville last week, suffering from serious injuries which he sustained last Friday. Mr. Williams was standing near a car loaded with lumber, when one of the timbers fell and struck him on the head. He is in the employ of the Kentucky Veneer Lumber company as inspector.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; in cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

MISSING SCHOOL TEACHERS AC-

KILLED BY LADRONES IN CEBU

BODIES OF FOUR OF THEM ARE RECOVERED.

MISSING SINCE JUNE 10

LEADER OF THE MURDERERS IS KILLED.

Washington, July 23.—The war department today received the following cablegram regarding the school teachers who have been missing from Cebu since June 10th:

"John E. Wells, 200 Montgomery avenue, Providence, R. I., and his cousin, Louis A. Thomas, same address; Ernest Heger, 1413 Vine street, Cincinnati, Ohio; Clyde A. France, Berea, Ohio, missing, Cebu, murdered by Ladrones, bodies recovered. Leader murderers killed; eight others captured by the constabulary."

BARE—ZUBER.

Miss Frances C. Zuber and Albert W. Bare were united in marriage Wednesday at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's brother, Jacob Zuber, at 3521 Ramsey avenue, Rev. J. W. Lake, pastor of Calvary U. B. church, officiating. Only a few invited friends witnessed the ceremony. After the wedding the guests sat down to a wedding breakfast and later Mr. and Mrs. Bare went to their new home at 102 Wheeler street. The bride is a daughter of Jacob J. Zuber, of this city, and the groom is a son of George W. Bare, living west of town. Mr. Bare recently returned from the Philippine islands, where he served three years in company C, of the Fifth infantry.

BUT ONE NEW OFFICER NAMED

W. E. DOUD IN DIRECTORATE OF ALLEN COUNTY LOAN.

He Succeeds C. H. Newton, Now of Toledo—Fine Showing at the Annual Meeting.

But one change in the official roster of the Allen County Loan and Savings association was made by stockholders at the annual meeting of the organization, which has just been held. W. E. Doud, the real estate man, was elected a member of the board of directors to succeed C. H. Newton, who retired for the reason that he is no longer a resident of this city, and could give the duties of the office no personal attention.

The board of directors as it is now constituted is made up of C. S. Bash, Gottlieb Haller, H. A. Keplinger, C. W. Orr, F. L. Jones, O. N. Heaton, V. Culbertson, E. W. Cook and W. E. Doud. Mr. Haller is president, Mr. Orr vice president, Mr. Keplinger treasurer, Mr. Heaton attorney and Mr. Cook secretary.

The board of managers is composed of Mr. Haller, Mr. Keplinger, Mr. Cook, Mr. Orr, Mr. Heaton, Mr. Jones and Mr. Nathan. Mr. Michael is appraiser. The reports presented at the annual meeting show the association in a very prosperous condition, and the future outlook is regarded as most encouraging.

SHOT IN THE NECK.

A four-year-old son of John W. Bohde, of 3202 South Broadway, was shot in the neck Monday evening by a bullet from a 22-caliber target rifle. The lad was crossing the commons in that section of the city when the shot was fired. A physician cut the bullet from the lad's neck, and while his wound is painful, it is not serious. Yesterday Detective Coling took possession of a 22-caliber Colt's rifle at the home of Harry Stoltz, of Organ avenue. The bullet cut from the neck of the boy fits the rifle perfectly. Stoltz has been complained of by neighbors for shooting about there. The bullet did not glance, but struck the lad direct, for it is not at all battered. Stoltz was not at home when the officer called.

BIBLE AS NEWSPAPER SERIAL.

Penn. Ill., July 22.—The bible as a serial story is the undertaking proposed by the Assumption Independent, a weekly newspaper. The publisher announces that he will begin with an installment from Genesis this week and will print additional chapters in each issue until the work is finished. He estimates he will need fifty years to complete the publication.

The editor of the Independent says he has read many of the modern historical romances and that none of them compared with the scriptures for plot, dramatic situations and sustained interest. By breaking off each installment at a critical point in the narrative he expects to arouse curiosity in the succeeding issues and he believes he will not only increase the sales of his paper, but will also secure widespread interest in a work which he declares is grossly neglected in the modern household.

SWIMMERS WILL COMPETE.

Master John K. Baker, of this city, will meet Thomas J. White, of Indianapolis, in a swimming contest for the championship of their class at Chicago on August 5th. Baker swam two and three-fourths miles at Newport, R. I., last summer, and is of the opinion that he can swim three miles in fresh water.

AUBURN BOYS IN TROUBLE

CHARGED WITH ROBBERING STORE AT ALTONA.

Were Arrested Last Evening at La-otto—Deputy United States Marshal is Summoned.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Garrett, Ind., July 23.—Monday night Maggart's general store at Altona, a little village one mile west of this city, was entered by burglars and a varied assortment of plunder taken, aggregating about $50 in value. Entrance was gained by forcing a rear window and the stuff stolen included $5 or $6 in pennies from the cash drawer, some knives, a lot of hosiery, handkerchiefs and other notions.

Suspicion was directed toward four young Auburn boys, all of them under twenty-one years of age, and Marshal Freese, of this city, in company with a number of deputies, took up the search for the suspected lads. At Laotto Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock Marshal Freese and his men arrested Lewis E. Clark, John Blaney, C. J. Marsh and W. L. Watt, all of Auburn.

Three of them were taken without resistance, but Blaney started to run. Deputy Joseph Leeson fired two shots from his revolver in the air. This had the effect of stopping Blaney and he surrendered without further ado. The four lads were brought to Garrett and lodged in jail to await a hearing this afternoon. The post-office at Altona is located in the Maggart store building, but it is not believed that any of the government property was molested.

Shortly before noon today United States Commissioner Logan received a telegram from Garrett to the effect that the postoffice at Altona had been robbed and that four young fellows were under arrest at Garrett for the crime. Assistant United States Attorney Lafollette is in the city and a telegram was at once sent to Indianapolis asking that a marshal be sent to Garrett to look after the case. Mr. Lafollette will remain over and if the charge of robbing the postoffice is made against the lads they will be brought to Fort Wayne for a hearing before the commissioner.

FIVE GENERATIONS LIVING.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rollin L. Walker, of 1315 Horace street, last week, and the very youthful miss enjoys the distinction of being the only person in Fort Wayne having a great-great-grandmother. Her arrival makes the fifth living generation of one family, the four preceding generations being represented as follows:

Mrs. Nancy Wiles, Coesee—great-great-grandmother.

Mrs. Luke Tousley, Coesee—great-grandmother.

Mrs. M. G. Walker, 1315 Horace street, Fort Wayne—grandmother.

Rollin L. Walker, Fort Wayne, father.

Mrs. Wiles is nearly ninety years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Tousley, is over seventy. Mr. Walker is an employee of the Newspaper Union and is very well known here.

POISONING THE SYSTEM.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dullness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. Meyer Bros. & Co.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kohlbacker, a ten pound boy. The jubilant papa is a clerk in the Central Grocery.

Attorney Wilbur L. Stonex, of Goshen, attorney for the proposed Fort Wayne and Goshen electric line, is in the city on business for that company.

Miss Caroline Hipskind, who, with the Misses Sara and Julia Rogge, of Wabash, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jump, has been obliged to return home on account of the death of a relative.

Will Collins and B. Dalen, who recently purchased the Olneck cafe, have dissolved partnership. Mr. Collins, who was formerly night clerk at the Wayne, will conduct the business alone hereafter.

Gottfried Hartman, of 2217 Broadway, who deserted his family some time ago, was seen by a Fort Wayne gentleman in Chicago Sunday. An effort will be made to have him brought back to the city.

Constable A. L. Bagby is credited with one of the handsomest piscatorial accomplishments of the year in landing a four and one-half pound black bass from the Maumee river, near the Columbia street bridge.

The condition of August Zagel, who is the victim of one of the worst cases of smallpox that has been seen here in years, is somewhat improved now. Dr. Carl Proegler is of the opinion that the patient will recover.

Jacob Almer, notice of whose purchase of the Frank M. McLeish grocery on East Wayne street was made by The Sentinel a day or two ago, resigned his position as car builder at the east shops in order that he might give the grocery business his undivided attention.

Invitations have been received in the city to the marriage of Miss Edna Louise Wones and Marvin H. Coppes, at Wolcottville, on Wednesday, Aug. 6. Miss Wones is a daughter of Rev. W. E. Wones, formerly pastor of Trinity M. E. church. The groom is a resident of Nappanee and is a student at Purdue.

Vinita, the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stamets, of 1217 Thayer street, who has been quite ill with diphtheria, is doing nicely under the care of Dr. Drayer and will soon be around again. Mr. Stamets' family has been very particularly afflicted, diphtheria having gone through the whole family, and one little boy died of the dread disease in April.

Ralph Lane, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Rome City, came down to town last week on the late excursion train and wandered along Calhoun street in a very peaceful manner and in a benignant mood. He was encountered at an alley near the south depot by a certain Mr. Frederick McComb, a gentleman with a fierce disposition and very red hair.

Mr. McComb wanted to fight almost anybody, but particularly Mr. Lane. After much persuasion Mr. Lane, who is a big man, accommodated the slender Mr. McComb and the result was that both were arrested, Lane being charged with assault and McComb with liquor and public intoxication.

Lane made an interesting talk and in the course of it stated that he had not taken a drink since he came to town and declared that he had tried to get out of a fuss. He tacitly admitted that he was responsible for the rather lopsided eye that McComb was wearing at the time. He got $1 and costs which he said he would pay as soon as he could get into telegraphic communication with his brother at Rome City. McComb was also given $1 and costs and accompanied the wagon over to the jail.

TENT AT HAPPY HOLLOW.

(Huntington Democrat.)

The Fort Wayne and Southwest-ern Traction company has decided not to erect a building at Happy Hollow park this season. Instead a large tent, forty by thirty feet, has been secured and was taken to the park this morning. This will be put up and will serve as a shelter in time of storm for the picnic crowds which may from time to time find it convenient.

A WORLD RECORD

FOR 1,000 MILES BROKEN BY FORT WAYNE BIRD.

ARRIVED HOME THIS MORNING

HOMING PIGEON COVERS DISTANCE IN 195 HOURS.

LOWERS RECORD 37 HOURS

FREED AT ABILENE, TEXAS, JULY 12, AT 5:25 A. M.

The first two birds of the flock of fourteen homing pigeons which were liberated at Abilene, Texas, last Tuesday morning reached Ft. Wayne shortly after 8 o'clock Wednesday having flown the 1,004 miles between Abilene and Fort Wayne in 8 days, 3 hours, 5 minutes and 30 seconds and lowering the world's record for 1,000 miles by nearly a day and a half.

The first bird to arrive belonged to Henry Beach, president of the Fort Wayne Homing club, and a bird belonging to Dr. Carl Schilling arrived less than five minutes afterward. The birds had been in nearly half an hour before it was known they had arrived, but in accordance with the rules governing a pigeon race, the time was reckoned from the time the arrival of the birds is noted.

Mr. Beach, who lives at 2,013 Lafayette street, first became aware of the return of his bird by hearing a great commotion in his pigeon loft, and upon investigation found the pigeon engaged in a duel to the death with another bird who had alienated the affections of his mate.

The stay-at-home bird had not only "cut out" the other, but had pre-empted his nest box, hence the fight. The homer had decidedly the best of the argument, notwithstanding his long flight, and soon put his rival out of business. Then, apparently disgusted with his mate's fickleness, he turned her out and proceeded to find another.

The fourteen pigeons, belonging to Henry Beach and Dr. Carl Schilling, were liberated at Abilene at 5:25 o'clock Tuesday morning, July 15. The pigeons were all of the blue barred and check variety and several of them had made long flights earlier in the season.

In making the trip home the birds crossed Texas, Indian Territory, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, averaging about 125 miles a day. The birds seldom alight except to roost at night and eat but little. In long flights it is seldom that more than one bird in four returns, as they are frequently shot, killed by eagles or hawks, captured, or lose their way.

Mr. Beach's bird which now holds the world's record is of the variety known as the "smoky cheek" and is about four years old. It has made long flights quite frequently and only a few weeks ago covered 600 miles in record time. Mr. Beach is president of the Homing club and has one of the best equipped pigeon lofts in the United States. Mr. Beach raises homing pigeons exclusively and his birds have taken numerous prizes in races and exhibitions.

The Fort Wayne Homing club is composed of the following gentlemen: Henry Beach, Carl and John Schilling, Frank Contant, Oscar Griebel, Fred Kreibbaum, William H. Link, Louis Gebfert, Ben Mariotte, Fred Match, William Minser, Fred Fisher and Messrs. Slagle, Swart and Burchard.

BATTLE WITH AN EAGLE.

Baltimore, July 23.—Silas Bennett, of Baltimore county, had a fierce battle with an eagle this morning near Gardenville, and as a result Mr. Bennett now bears several bad lacerations on the hands and face, which were made by the bird's talons.

When Bennett first saw the bird on the ground in the field he thought it would take flight as he approached to where it was, but this was not the case. As soon as he made a pass at it with a club the eagle flew at him and for fully ten minutes there was a terrific battle on between the man and the large bird. Bennett finally escaped into a building, leaving the bird conqueror. He returned shortly with a Winchester rifle, but the eagle had flown.

MACKAY'S PLANS TO GO ON.

London, July 23.—George G. Ward, the vice president and general manager of the Commercial Cable company, was asked today by a representative of the Associated Press what effect the death of John W. Mackay would have on the business of the company. He replied:

"I do not know who will succeed Mr. Mackay as president. That is entirely in the hands of the board of directors. You can say, however, that there will be no change of policy. The progress of the company and particularly Mr. Mackay's plans will be faithfully carried out. The contracts for the Pacific cable have been let and the enterprise will proceed precisely as though Mr. Mackay's death had not occurred."

LOCOMOTIVE BLOWS UP.

Vincennes, Ind., July 23.—Engineer John Conathy, of Washington, and Fireman Michael Muster, of this city, were killed yesterday by a terrible boiler explosion of their engine on the Baltimore and Ohio South-western freight train, No. 34, while running forty miles an hour, near Clarendon, west of this place. Both leave families. Twelve cars of merchandise were ditched and burned by the wreck. The loss will reach $12,000. The accident was most singular in railroad annals.

The trainmen are unable to give any accurate description of the explosion. The train was making fast time on an easy grade and the dead engine evidently had no warning of the disaster. A brakeman saw them a few minutes before the accident. At that time Conathy sat, as usual, on the right side of the cab and the fireman was busy feeding the boiler. The explosion threw parts of the engine in all directions and the speeding cars piled upon and over the debris, the whole mass catching fire immediately and burning rapidly. The engine men evidently died instantly, apparently having been killed by the force of the explosion and being lifeless before their bodies were pinned under the wreckage.

The Dinner Pail

Of the American working man is generally well filled. In some cases it is too well filled. It contains too many kinds of food, and very often the food is of the wrong kind—hard to digest and containing little nutrition. As a consequence many a working man develops some form of stomach trouble which interferes with his health and reduces his working capacity.

Where there is indigestion or any other indication of disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will almost invariably produce a perfect and permanent cure.

Mr. Thomas A. Swartz, of Sub Station C, Columbus, O., Box 107, writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. At last I had all the complaints at once, the more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had given up the thought that I could not be cured. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks, I was weighed, and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I am as strong and healthy today, I think, as I ever was."

LOCOMOTIVE BLOWS UP.

Vincennes, Ind., July 23.—Engineer John Conathy, of Washington, and Fireman Michael Muster, of this city, were killed yesterday by a terrible boiler explosion of their engine on the Baltimore and Ohio South-western freight train, No. 34, while running forty miles an hour, near Clarendon, west of this place. Both leave families. Twelve cars of merchandise were ditched and burned by the wreck. The loss will reach $12,000. The accident was most singular in railroad annals.

The trainmen are unable to give any accurate description of the explosion. The train was making fast time on an easy grade and the dead engine evidently had no warning of the disaster. A brakeman saw them a few minutes before the accident. At that time Conathy sat, as usual, on the right side of the cab and the fireman was busy feeding the boiler. The explosion threw parts of the engine in all directions and the speeding cars piled upon and over the debris, the whole mass catching fire immediately and burning rapidly. The engine men evidently died instantly, apparently having been killed by the force of the explosion and being lifeless before their bodies were pinned under the wreckage.

IS SON OF A FAMOUS SOLDIER

DR. A. BARON VON MANTEUFFEL IN THE CITY.

His Father Was Next in Rank to Von Moltke in Famous Franco-Prussian Conflict.

Among the visitors in Fort Wayne last week was a young German of rank, member of a wealthy Prussian family and a son of one of the really great generals of the Franco-Prussian war—General von Manteuffel, who was next in command to the famous von Moltke in that conflict.

It was Dr. A. Baron von Manteuffel. The young man is but twenty-eight years of age and has been a resident of America several years. His wife was an American girl, who died a short time ago in Colorado, whither they had gone in the hope of benefiting her health, and the young man is now en route eastward. He expects to return to Germany, where the family has extensive estates. The father, General von Manteuffel, was in command of cavalry in the Franco-Prussian war and died at Carlsbad in 1885.

Since his residence in America the son has become largely interested in gas matters and was for a time associated with the Messrs. Dieterich, New York owners of the Fort Wayne Gas company. En route eastward Baron Manteuffel stopped in Fort Wayne for a brief visit, calling upon the local gas company officials and paying a visit to the works of the Western Gas Construction company. The young nobleman was entertained at dinner by President O. L. Guildlin, of that company, and shortly after left for New York.

UNCLE SAM'S HOARD OF GOLD

HAS A BILLION AND A QUARTER, MORE THAN ANY OTHER NATION EVER POSSESSED.

Through the treasury department of this government at Washington, Uncle Sam gave out a rather startling piece of news the other day in the statement that this country, at this moment, possesses about a quarter of all the gold that has been made up into money in the entire world.

To quote the official figures correctly, there is now in the United States (including treasury coin and bullion) one thousand two hundred millions of gold money, whereas the world's entire stock of gold money is worth less than five thousand millions ($4,908,700,000, according to the latest figures). New York financiers believe Uncle Sam's figures as to his own gold are shy, and that in truth the amount of gold money in the country is close to $1,350,000,000—a billion and a quarter—while all the rest of the world possesses less than $3,750,000,000. This is a larger sum of coined gold than has ever been possessed by a single nation in the history of the world.

FRANCE IS SECOND.

Next to the United States, according to the latest reports, comes France, with $810,600,000, followed by the British empire, with $769,700,000; Russia, with $724,300,000, and Germany, with $721,300,000. So far as coined gold is concerned, it will be observed, the United States is in a class by itself.

The British empire is second in the second class, but Great Britain proper is last, its store of coined gold amounting only to $511,000,000. All other peoples are so far behind in the race as not to be eligible even for the second class. Austria-Hungary leads the third class, with about $230,000,000, but even at that the great empire is very poor in gold money relatively as well as actually, for her gold supply amounts to less than $4.90 per capita for her population of 47,000,000 souls. Uncle Sam's children have nearly $16 in gold apiece, which is less than the citizens of the French republic, for each of whom there is a little more than $21 of gold coin a head. Germany comes third in the per capita computation, the figures being $12.81, Great Britain's being $12.34, and that of Russia, with her enormous population of 128,300,000, only $5.64. The per capita figure for the entire British empire is a shade under $2.20, that for India's enormous horde of 297,000,000 being only 15 cents.

THE GREATEST EXTREMES.

Here, as in most other things, the British empire exhibits the most astonishing extremes, for there are parts thereof where the per capita of coined gold is in great excess, in Australia, for instance, there is $24.26 in coined money for every man, woman and child. At one time the South African republics led this, with per capita figures of $26.34, but now Australia is the highest. Canada's per capita is a few cents in excess of $3.00.

But these per capita figures of coined gold should not be taken as indicative either of a country's actual wealth or the per capita of money in circulation. The total amount of money of all sorts in the United States is rising to two thousand five hundred millions, or more than $28 for every citizen of Uncle Sam, about double the per capita of gold. In Australasia, where the gold per capita is highest, there is little money circulation at all except that made from the precious yellow metal; in India the great preponderance is in silver, and this is true in even greater degree in China.

It is doubtful whether any one can comprehend the meaning of figures as stupendous as those which are needed to express the present wealth of this country in coined gold. It would take a laborer earning a dollar a day 416,666 years to earn a billion and a quarter of dollars, but at that he would have to have the longevity of more than 4,000 Methuselahs. If the money had to be earned by day's work, it would be better to put 416,666 laborers at it for a single year.

Reduced to avoidupois, the 1,250,000,000 of gold dollars now in the country would represent 5,000,000 pounds, or 2,500 short tons of 2,000 pounds each. Packed away as Uncle Sam packs away his gold in the treasury at Washington and in the various sub-treasuries, and in the various strong-boxes, each 21x18x24 inches in size, inside measurement, and containing six cubic feet. Piled up, the gold coin thus accumulated would make a heap containing 15,000 cubic feet; a bar of gold containing $1,250,000,000 worth of precious metal would be five feet square and 300 feet long; erected into an auriferous monument, it would be a highly imposing sight and would make no mean showing beside the Washington monument itself, albeit of about 200 feet less altitude than that patriotic structure.

JUST WHAT IT MEANS.

At two tons to the million, it would take 2,500 double teams, or 5,000 horses, to haul this unthinkable mass of coined treasure over the average roads of the country. Fixing fifty pounds as the proper load for the average man to carry any distance, it would require an army of 100,000 to pack the stuff. In ranks of twelve moving in fairly open order this army of gold bearers would stretch over eleven or twelve miles, or about the length of Broadway on the island of Manhattan.

There is little danger that the yellow specie of the great republic will be looted and carried away "by hand."

WHAT OUR GOLD WOULD BUY.

One thousand two hundred and fifty millions of dollars would buy an enormous amount of merchandise and would pay the expenses of no end of wars or merry-making. A few weeks ago, before it could be foreseen that the coronation of King Edward VII would be postponed by a royal illness, it was estimated that the total cost of the ceremonies to government and English people would be not far from $7,000,000. At that price for such jublations Uncle Sam's stock of coined gold would foot the bill for 179 coronations and leave some millions over.

A billion and a quarter dollars would build eighty Brooklyn bridges. It would build, equip and put in commission more than 400 great battleships. It would probably suffice to buy the whole British navy, provided that aggregation of marine fighting machines could be purchased at anything like a fair valuation. At a million dollars a day, the approximate cost of the civil war, the coined gold now in the country would wage a war for more than three years and four months.

COMPARISON OF VALUES.

Comparison of the quantity of coined gold in the country with the value of some of the country's staple products is somewhat startling. For instance, in round numbers the output of coal, both soft and hard, in 1901 was 322,000,000; of pig iron, more than 250,000,000; of silver, more than 75,000,000; of corn, wheat and oats, nearly 209,000,000; of butter and cheese, more than 384,000,000. Yet the billion and a quarter of coined gold now in the United States would buy all these products and leave a trifling matter of $27,375,857 as a nestegg around which to accumulate another twelve hundred millions or so. It would build 62,500 miles of railroad at $20,000 a mile, nearly a third of all the railroad mileage now in the United States.

THOUSANDS OF ACRES OF PIE.

But it is when the purchasing power of a thousand and a quarter millions of gold dollars as applied to pie is considered that the ordinary mind may come nearest to grasping with the real meaning of such a vast sum. Good, fair pies can be bought for ten cents apiece, and thus the coined gold now in the country would buy twelve billions and five hundred millions of pies. The square surface covered by pies varies, but fifty square inches for each would not be far out of the way, allowing for the waste room that would have to be allowed for, supposing the pies are round. On this basis the gold coin in circulation in Uncle Sam's dominions would buy pies enough to cover at least 4,000 acres of land. How many pie bakers it would take to bake this enormous aggregation of toothsome in one day is matter for conjecture only.

Yet all this gold could be packed into a very small space, relatively speaking. Made into a pile forty feet square, it would be only a little more than nine feet high, and its weight of 5,000 tons would not furnish a full cargo for any one of several of the great ocean liners now plowing the Atlantic ocean, though it would build hundreds of them.

FOOD FOR SERIOUS THOUGHT.

All in all, good Americans may be proud of the magnificent showing our gold coin enables us to make before the world, yet there is another and a more serious aspect of the situation to be considered—an aspect, by the way, that thoughtful men are examining with much gravity. Will the presence of so much gold in the country produce the apparently logical result of permanently holding up the price of all things eatable by reason of its own comparative cheapness? Some economic philosophers declare that it will beyond the shadow of a doubt. In time they say there will also be a general uplifting of the scale of wages, but not until it is settled whether the present plenitude of the yellow metal is permanent or not. Naturally, in the meantime, the man who works will have increased problems to meet.

On the other hand, a plenitude of gold will mean lively circulation, and that will mean a continuance of the present "good times" for a considerable period to come. And, if the prophets speak wisely, the present unexampled quantity of coined gold in this country is only a forerunner of the future. Unless all signs fail, say they, the day is not far distant when we shall have two thousand millions instead of a thousand and a quarter millions of gold coin in our land.

NATION OF SLUGGARDS.

The dispatch of a commission by the British government to investigate the "sleeping sickness" in Uganda promises to throw some light on one of the most mysterious maladies known. The characteristic feature of the disease is the falling asleep of the patient, who remains profoundly slumbering in spite of the efforts of the doctors. Sleeping sickness or "negro lethargy" is a deadly disease which has been long known in West Africa, but has recently traveled along the Congo into Uganda.—Chicago Daily News.

LIBERAL TO SOLDIERS.

The amount estimated as necessary for the payment of our pensions for the coming fiscal year is $138,500,000. As compared with the appropriation for the present year this sum shows an estimated decrease of $5,500,000. Compared with the pension expenditures of other governments, as based on the figures of the last two years, it is more than double the total of all of them put together. The magnitude of our pension scheme is an obvious indication of the liberality of our laws. Their liberality as regards the title of claimants, as well as the conditions under which pensions are paid, can be more fully comprehended by considering the requirements and restrictions which attach to the pensions paid by the United States and those paid by other governments. Practically, there are military pension systems in all countries. Occasionally, they are closely connected with provisions for civil pensions. In Italy the two plans are inseparable.

In the first place, there are few countries in which the regulations under which applications may be filed are as favorable as they are in this country. Great Britain refuses to entertain any application from an officer for a pension for a wound unless he applies within five years after receiving the wound; in Japan the maximum time is three years, and in Switzerland one year from the time the disability was incurred. Switzerland, furthermore, pensions for one year only, the application being "reconsidered" at the end of each year.

Very different from these requirements are those of the pension law of the United States, with no limitation as to the time of application, no term pensions and no annual examinations. A civil war soldier is fully at liberty to seek a pension today for wounds or disability incurred in 1862; and if he can trace the origin of a disability to his army service the pension is granted, although for forty years he has failed to make any claim on the government for assistance. It may be that the applicant is occupying a remunerative position; if so, that fact will not be considered in adjudicating the claim or in paying the pension. In Japan, however, a pension is suspended during the time of government employment. In this country the pension roll has included members of the cabinet and of congress.

In case the pensioner desires to leave his country, either permanently or for a term of years, how is such a departure looked upon by the various governments? Under the law of Serbia such a pensioner ceases to receive aid from the government. The Argentine Republic pays him for two months only. In Peru the right to a pension is forfeited if the beneficiary remain abroad two years. France, Austria and Greece permit residence abroad by express consent of the government only. England requires pensioners to obtain leave to go outside the country, and provides for a reduction of the pension after three years' absence, with its entire forfeiture if the pensioner is under 50 years of age; between the ages of 50 and 80 the pension may be commuted. With the exception of a law that was in operation from 1893 to 1895, the United States have made no distinction between pensioners resident abroad and those resident in the United States. Last year this government paid $641,161.65 to 4,547 pensioners residing in foreign countries.

CENTENARY OF DUMAS

One Hundredth Anniversary of the Man Who is Read Wherever Books Have Gone.

(London Times.)

The year draws near the birthday and "centenary" of Alexander Dumas, who first saw the light on July 24, 1802, in the Rue Lormet, at Villers-Cotterets. France is not so fond of "centenaries" as we are, and how that of the great novelist will be celebrated remains to be seen. He was, and is, the most popular romancer since Scott, but then he is the favorite of the literary "masses," not of the literary "classes." He is read with enthusiasm in every country. He is translated into every civilized language. His fame is world-wide, not bounded by the marches of France; but the literary "classes" do not much love the Portos of letters, the gigantic, gay, good-humored soldier of the pen. George Sand, to be sure, delighted in his works; R. L. Stevenson has written dithyrambs to his honor, and Thackeray, who began by laughing at Dumas, ended with a loving admiration of the Musketeers, longing to see their shadows enter his room "with a noiseless swag." Every human being who is young in heart, whatever the number of his years, is an ally of George Sand and Thackeray and Stevenson. If the "greatest happiness of the greatest number" is a thing to aim at, then Dumas must be deemed one of the very greatest of writers.

Statesmen have labored, martyrs have died, poets have sung, patriots have fought, without conferring on mankind a title of the happiness which Dumas has given, merely by being his own great, jolly, kind, charitable self in scores of volumes. He had the heart of Scott, or of Shakespeare, the almost divine tolerance for, and love of, the creatures of his own creation. He had the wit of France, and the humor of England, and the most dazzling gift of rapid narrative, and that absolute lack of speculation about things inscrutable, of interest in things abominable, which makes him little liked by persons of culture. He did not break his heart over daintiness of style; he cared for preciseness no more than Moliere did; prigs, for Dumas, did not so much as exist, his eyes overlooked them. Ethical and psychological "problems" did not concern him; he never peered with a dark lantern into the slums of human hearts. His heart was in the woods, on the battle-field, in the broad highway, where the adventures gallop, and the heavy wagons creak, and the fair, masked ladies ride, and the hosts at the inn doors welcome them all indifferently. He lived on the further side of that railway cutting, which, as Thackeray says, is the true dividing line between the old world and the new. Science did not afflict him, with her neurons, microscopes, cells, conversation of energy, and everything that is the burden of Durer's picture of Melancholia. He contemplated the vast spectacle of the world, as he said, and applauded with both hands. His works, for some inscrutable reason, are on the index, and he was no orthodox Catholic; but he had religion enough to keep his soul sweet, and if he was deficient in certain virtues, he never lacked the greatest of these—charity. He was le bon geant of literature; in his books there is hardly a page from which the weakest of weak brethren could take any harm.

His philosophy is that of Pantagruel; no whining and peevish pessimism. In courage, loyalty, gaiety and charity his heroes go on their perilous ways and conquer the world. Fouquet is the man for Dumas, not Colbert. He radiates good fellowship, and is so humorous and so tolerant that he perverts our historical judgments. For example, Henri III was undeniably a very unwholesome and improper person. There is not much to be said for the painted devotee and murderer, with his tears, his hair shirt, his skull and cross bones, his cup and ball, and poodles, and mignons. But we read Dumas, and we contract a sneaking affection for the king, who, after all, appreciated Chicot. By his friendship for Chicot he is redeemed in our memories. Concomitant was a cruel scandal; le brave Bussy verged on the ruffian; La Mole was not the soul of honor—we know all that; but they are redeemed for us by the charity of Dumas, by the warm sunlight of the kind genius. Through the blackest palace intrigues of the corrupt age which followed the Reformation, Dumas walks without soiling his shoes or the imagination of his readers. These devout Catholics and godly Protestants were the most perfidious and cruel of men; but they were men for all that, and Dumas makes the best of them by a kind of sunny realism, the reverse of the modern article.

TEXAS TO HAVE A TEA FARM.

The first tea farm in Texas is to be started at Fort Lavaca and tea culture is now to be given a practical test on the gulf coast with the direct assistance of the United States government. Mr. L. Seabrook received the first installment of 500 plants from Washington on Saturday night and they were at once taken out to the tanks of the Placido Canal and Irrigation company and will be set out and receive every possible attention. Mr. Oswald Wilson, special Texas agent of the department of agriculture, will give special instruction and nothing will be left undone to make tea growing pay and add a new and valuable crop to the list in Texas. The government has given practical financial aid and expert assistance to the first tea farm at Summerville, S. C., and a success has been made there and now Texas will be given an opportunity. The tea plant flourishes in coast countries, tropical and semi-tropical, and those capable of judging are of the opinion that the gulf region possesses ideal conditions for its successful and profitable propagation.—Galveston News.

forget their hoards.

An officer in a New York savings bank that has 137,000 depositors—one of the largest in the country—and whose deposits exceed $75,000,000, has unearthed enough romances in which the bank has played a part to stock a novelist with raw material for life, says the Anaconda, Mont. Standard. It is the duty of this clerk to look up the owners of "dormant" deposits, that is, deposits that have lain untouched in the bank for twenty-two years, at the end of which period they cease to draw interest. That there are enough such deposits to keep one man constantly busy trying to find out to whom the money belongs is significant as attesting the fact that many persons put away money without the knowledge of their relatives and later on die without ever having disclosed the fact.

Among the quaint and curious romances which the bank furnishes is that of Frederick Cullman, who opened an account in 1861. In 1863 he died and his widow transferred the account to her own name as trustee for their three children. Finally the account, then amounting to $1,197.63, became dormant. Years of letter writing and advertising at last brought to the bank a prosperous-looking man, who said he was William Cullman, son of Frederick. He said that his father's sudden death had deranged his mother's mind and she was finally sent to an asylum, while the children went to an orphanage until old enough to work. He could not remember where he had lived in childhood, except that one house was opposite a graveyard. Examination of old maps proved that Frederick had lived in such a place and the son pointed out the exact house. Thus the unfortunate mother, still living, though insane, eventually received the benefit of her husband's savings.

Aaron L. Magoun opened an account in the '50's. When it became dormant it amounted to only $89.64. After much advertising there came a letter from a claimant and in response to a request for a personal interview there appeared a little old lady in the costume of half a century ago. Aaron Magoun had been her husband and her grief over his untimely death had never ceased. She produced letters written by the dead man to her which proved the relationship.

Ulrich Habermeier in July, 1862, wrote from the camp of the Eighteenth New York, at Brandy Station, Va., inclosing nearly $400. He was never heard of again and search of the war department records showed that he had died in prison at Florence, S. C., in December, 1864. Every Grand Army post in the United States was searched in vain for men who knew his relatives. Ambassador White then set the German officials to work and finally in March, 1901, there was found in Germany a letter written by Habermeier in March, 1862, and $431.79 was ultimately divided between a brother, sister and nephew of the soldier.

SAVES A WOMAN'S LIFE.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by Dreier & Bro. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

THE MYSTERY OF LOST RIVER

FAMOUS INDIANA STREAM WHICH LOSES ITSELF IN THE CAVERNS OF THE SOUTHERN PART OF STATE.

Mysterious Lost river, which flows through a portion of southern Indiana, famous for its numerous underground disappearances, its long subterranean journeys, and its sudden reappearance to the surface, is one of the greatest of natural wonders.

Lost river, which is formed by the merging of several smaller streams, bursts from the base of a steep cliff in Washington county, Indiana. At this point, and for some distance, the current has sufficient force to carry everything before it.

For years geologists and other men of science have sought an explanation to the mysterious Lost river, but today the remarkable stream is almost as great a mystery as ever.

The only explanation that can be accepted as the true cause of the strange pranks of Lost river is the fact that this entire underground section of Indiana is hollow—literally honeycombed, in fact, with caves and caverns into which Lost river plunges, only to suddenly reappear again in some unexpected place.

The theory had been advanced, in fact, it is now known almost beyond a doubt, that the subterranean passages through which Lost river flows, and that the numerous caves in the vicinity of the stream are but a part of the system of caverns branching off from the Mammoth cave of Kentucky. In proof of this claim the same varieties of blind fish have been found in Lost river which swim the gloomy river Styx of the mammoth Kentucky cave.

The region through which this mysterious river flows is most wonderfully picturesque. It is very rugged and broken, strangely wild and weird with its lofty forested hills, picturesque knobs, rolling meadow lands, its deep and winding valleys, dark and impenetrable because of the dense forestry and tangled undergrowth. The forests through which Lost river winds its tortuous way make an ideal game preserve. Game is still in abundance, and the report of the hunter's gun daily breaks the deep silence. These were famous hunting grounds of the red men who roamed this region years ago. Evidence of their presence, in the way of stone tomahawks, flint arrowheads and rude implements, are still found in the caves and caverns and in the numerous rocky places along the course of Lost river. This region was once thickly populated with red men of four tribes, the Twigwies or Miamis, the Weas, the Plankeshaws and the Shawnees. The Indians in the earliest days did not occupy much of this portion of the state as a permanent habitation, but lived at a distance and along the shores of the larger streams. Several small villages were established promiscuously, the principal one of which belonged to the Shawnee tribe. It was located on the banks of Lost river at a point not far distant from where the stream sinks in the northeastern part of Orange county. The chief of this village was known as "King Billy," and according to the stories that have been handed down, his wife was a red-haired white woman.

After the coming of the white men the Indians were driven from the villages along Lost river. A few remained, however, but only in straggling, roving bands, sometimes bent on hunting, sometimes pillaging and plundering, and occasionally murdering the white settlers, whom they regarded as enemies having taken their hunting grounds. At numerous places along the course of Lost river are localities peculiarly adapted for camping places. These were often utilized by parties of Indians while on hunting excursions, or on other temporary journeys to this region. The rise of Lost river at the site of Orangeville was the principal camping place. During the winter season the red men caused the white settlers but little trouble. Their acts of hostility usually began in the springtime when the "leaves were the size of squirrel ears." From that time until late in the fall the settlers would form into bands and attend one another's crops for mutual protection, and to present more formidable opposition to any attempt at hostilities on the part of the Indians.

There are in the Lost river region a great number of mounds, the work of the mound builders, a prehistoric race of humanity whose time, habits, customs and origin have long since perished, and are so deeply and obscurely veiled in unknown and unrecorded centuries that the most diligent and active investigation has as yet failed to throw upon this mysterious race more than a single ray of light.

At a great number of places along Lost river arrow and spear heads are found in large quantities. Besides these, fleshing implements, stone axes and ornaments of curious designs have been found.

Near Paoli is an important earthwork thrown up by these primitive people untold centuries ago. It consists of two embankments now about three feet high, at a distance ranging about twelve to thirty feet apart and nearly 1,500 feet in length. These begin upon the bank of the river and extend their full length in the form of the large end of an oval, returning again to the stream some distance farther down. The ground around this embankment presents a smooth and even surface, and many arrow heads have been found on this spot. Growing upon these earthen walls are a large number of giant forest trees, many centuries old.

Excavations have been made in several parts of these earthworks, and but little was found to indicate for what purpose they were constructed. If there is any difference the outer wall is the higher one, and a cross section showed that it was made of dry, fine dirt of the surrounding fields, while here and there scattered through it were slight traces of ashes and charcoal, and an occasional bone of some animal. This bank was probably built after the time of the inner one, and into it was cast the refuse of the camp, which consisted largely of the campfire ashes, the bones of such animals as these mysterious men were accustomed to eat, and broken pottery.

The other wall is constructed of the same kind of soil, but about half way down from the top is a layer of large flat stones contiguously arranged. These evidently had been carried from the river bottom, and vary greatly as to size. Close to the surface on the inside of this wall a great number of pieces of broken pottery have been found, mingled with more ashes and charcoal than appears in any part of the entire mound. These pieces of pottery are all blackened by fire, and being found with the ashes, would lead to the conclusion that the cooking for the inhabitants was nearly all done close to this bank, or the ashes and pottery broken by careless cooks were cast against the bank to be out of the way. This was further confirmed by the shallow earth which covered them, for they were most likely left as they had been used, and all that covered them had been washed down from the bank, or had been deposited from the overflowing waters of the stream.

From the place where Lost river bursts forth from a cliff in Washington county to a point near Orleans it flows between clearly defined banks. A great portion of the course of upper Lost river is through dense woods. At places the stream is well defined and at others it is so choked with water weeds and fallen trees that its presence is scarcely recognizable. A dirt road follows the wanderings of upper Lost river, or, rather, it tries to. In many places the road lies in the course of the river where it is a mere stream, and it is usually crossed by a fording.

Near Orleans Lost river drops from sight into a great, dark cavernous hole, which has the appearance of the entrance to satanic regions—and from which the river gains its secondary name—the River Styx.

This "sink" is four feet wide, eight feet high, and is dark, foreboding and unfathomable and has never been explored, not even during the dry season. At the time I visited this spot Lost river was lashing itself furiously in its frantic efforts to get underground, the entrance to its subterranean passage being partly choked with debris, floated down stream by the heavy rains which caused the river to rage far beyond its banks. It has been ascertained, however, that the descent of the river after it enters the "sink" is gradual for about 600 feet, but what course it takes beyond that point is as yet but one of the unsolved mysteries of the river.

As one follows Lost river down stream from its source it will be noticed that the stream gradually decreases in size, continuing so until it sinks from sight near Orleans. Upper Lost river in its course also divides itself many times, unites a short distance farther down stream, and forms islands. Five miles from Orleans is a little white church known as the "Island" church, from the fact that it is built on one of these islands formed by the wanderings of Lost river. The church is reached by a rude wooden suspension bridge.

After the river disappears into the earth the broad, deep channel which is left empty continues on its tortuous way through meadow land and thick forests for eight miles, when the waters of Lost river, apparently tired of their subterranean journey, again come to the surface and fill the river's bed.

In dry weather all the water of Lost river can easily find accommodation in its underground passage, but rains will easily overflow it, choking the underground passage. The dry bed which extends from the first sink of the river to its rise at Considerable counterfeit money has just been found in the river at Logansport, in the rear of the residence formerly occupied by Nickum, the "perpetual light" inventor. The secret service department has asked that the coin be forwarded to Washington for examination.

Orangeville takes all this overflow and becomes a river itself.

It is claimed that the subterranean passages of Lost river are a complex system of mains and leads, and not a single channel through which the river rushed, and that these underground passages do not follow the course of the dry bed.

The dry bed of Lost river is not at all open and is very different from the beds of usual streams. Large upland forest trees, briars and other underbrush grow in wild disorder along the banks and in the bed itself, showing that for centuries the river has been lost in concretionary limestone.

Stamper's creek, lacking a dry bed, is a counterpart of Lost river. It is a saucy little stream which springs from the foot of a cliff near Millersburg and disappears into a sink hole a mile distant. It is not known where this stream makes its reappearance, but it is thought to rise again at Spring Mills, six miles south. Sawdust and other materials dropped into the stream have reappeared here, seeming to prove this theory.

At the point in the rear of the mill Lick creek bursts into view from the foot of a hill. Some distance down stream Lick creek sinks from sight, then it reappears and flows to New Prospect, where it mingles its waters with those of Lost river.

There are several surface rivers which empty into Lost river, and everyone of them is more or less freakish. Near them are caves and caverns through which subterranean rivers flow. These streams are inhabited by eyeless fish, eyeless crawfish and other water animals that also have no eyes or any use for them. The currents of many of these streams are swift and for this reason are supposed to be a part of the Lost river system.

At numerous places along the course of Lost river the surface of the underground passage has been seen, and the river itself may be seen hundreds of feet below, continuing its subterranean journey.

The mysterious underground journey of the good Widow Scott's milk crock covers proves beyond a doubt that Lost river in its subterranean passage flows through many of the caves of this section.

The Widow Scott, who lives four miles from Orangeville, was in the habit of keeping her milk in the mouth of a cave near the house, which was cold and well adapted to the purpose. For crock covers she used the large square tops from tobacco boxes.

One morning the widow visited her milk house and was surprised and perplexed to find its floors swept clean. Not a vestige of crocks, covers or milk was to be seen. A heavy rain had come up the night before, and running into the cave, had carried away the widow's milk crock covers. The next day, however, they were found floating peacefully in the river near the old Springer chapel, over three miles from their accustomed place, and none the worse for the subterranean journey.

After a good night's rest, an early breakfast, and a wait of several hours for the rain to stop falling, I secured a horse, and armed with a camera, started out to view some of the freakish antics Lost river performs in the vicinity of the quaint and sequestered little village of Orangeville.

Orangeville is in itself an attraction. The little village of perhaps fifty souls is located just north of the "rise" of Lost river, and is unique from the fact that it is perhaps the only town in the world situated directly over the mouth of a river. A score or so of cottages, half hidden by gay colored hollyhocks, a church, a store and a blacksmith shop constitute the village. The main street is wide, and a wagon road hopelessly attempts to twist its tortuous way up the slope to find a smooth path over the rough limestone.

The village of Orangeville was laid out into fifty-eight lots in June, 1849. Something of the spirit of its founders may be learned from the stipulation which they placed upon the records at the time that "the proprietors of the town of Orangeville do mutually covenant and agree that we and our ancestors in title forever will not sell, make or dispose of, or permit others to sell, make or dispose of spirituous liquors, except for medicinal or mechanical purposes in or contiguous to the town of Orangeville."

This stipulation has through all these years been kept inviolable, and today not a drop of intoxicating liquor can be purchased in Orangeville except for the purpose stated by the founders.

Every visitor that comes to Orangeville has pointed out to him one of the chief points of interest in Orange county—the last rise of Lost river, the place where the stream makes its reappearance after a long journey under the earth. From this point on to the White, Lost river flows on like an ordinary well-behaved stream. On the rocks above this natural wonder is picturesquely perched the little village of Orangeville. At this point Lost river boils up from the bowels of the earth like a mammoth spring, and flows away a stream thirty or forty yards in width. The river entirely fills the cave from which it bursts forth, even in the driest seasons. Here the river forms an immense pool, the depth of which is unknown. Boats have been rowed over the boiling surface of the water and lines with lead weights attached have been let down over 800 feet, but no bottom was touched. The stream has the appearance of a huge spring as the waters boil and swirl up in three great bubbles from unknown depths below.

The water in the river at its last "rise" is excellent for drinking. It is clear and cold, having passed underground for miles through natural filters of sand and gravel. During the summer the water is as cold as that drawn from a deep well, while in the winter it is warmer, as the pool was never known to freeze over.

Some sixty years ago, according to the story told by the old residents, a team hitched to a heavy wagon became frightened and plunged over the cliff and not a sign of either horses or wagon were ever seen since.

Half a mile north of Orangeville is a spot known as the gulf. It is a great, deep funnel-shaped valley, in the bottom of which the waters of Lost river again rise and flow above the surface in a serpentine course for about fifty yards. Then the river rushes into a fissure in the rocks and hides underground again. For many years it was thought these were the same waters that appear at Orangeville, but sawdust and oats cast in the waters at the gulf have always failed to appear at the rise far below.

Another peculiar feature connected with the gulf is the two streams that burst from a ledge of rock at one side. After a rain one stream will always run muddy water, while the other will remain perfectly clear. This has never been accounted for, being put down as one of the mysteries and freaks of Lost river.

MAY GO TO CARDINAL SATOLLI

MANTLE OF LEDOCHOWSKI IS LIKELY TO FALL ON HIM.

Pope Would Like to Appoint the Late Delegate to America as Prefect of the Congregation.

Rome, July 26.—The question of a successor to the late Cardinal Ledochowski, as prefect of the congregation of the propaganda, continues to absorb all the attention of the vatican. Against the candidature of Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli is urged the fact that his brother, Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli, is the great plenipotentiary of the church, so the two highest positions in Catholicism would be centered in the same family. Against Cardinal Satolli, who seems to be the candidate preferred by the pope, the objection is raised that he would be apt to prove a revolutionist, in introducing modern methods and progressive ideas and in turning everything upside down. One cardinal said if Cardinal Satolli were chosen it would mean the Americanization of the propaganda. These arguments in the eyes of the ablest and most far-seeing clergy are additional endorsements of Cardinal Satolli.

In Russia factories are usually near forests, wood being still the chief fuel.

KING KNOT OF RUSSIA

The Death-Dealing Whip That Is Used on the Rebellious Students.

(Pearson's Weekly, London.)

"The knout for students." Many have read this headline in connection with the Russian riots with the same equanimity as they would "The cat for highwaymen," thinking that the former is simply Russia's equivalent for the British flogging instrument. As a matter of fact, the "cat" is soothing and gentle in comparison with the "knout."

The "knout" is the most terrible castigation ever invented by man, and to be sentenced to it, as administered by Russian "justice," is practically the equivalent to death. In fact, the average sentence, namely 101 strokes, is regarded by the Russian legal mind as a capital sentence.

"Knouts" diffed in form just as do "cats" and birches in England, but the one generally in use is a heavy leather thong, about eight feet in length, attached to a handle two feet long. The lash is about the breadth of a broad tape, and is curved so as to give two sharp edges along its entire length. It is sometimes bound with wire thread, with a little hook at the end. At each blow the sharp edges of the lash fall on the victim's back, and cut him like a flexible double edged sword.

Peter the Great fixed the maximum number of strokes permissible to be given a prisoner at 101, the human body being unable to support more. The prisoner is stretched on an inclined frame, and his hands and feet are extended at full length, and firmly bound to iron rings at the extremities of the frame. In many cases the custom is to fasten the head of the sufferer so that he is unable to cry out, which adds greatly to the pain.

"Knouting" is regarded as a profession—even an art—requiring life long study and practice, and executioners have to serve an apprenticeship before being regarded as qualified to administer it. In the old days, the chief knouter was always a criminal himself condemned to receive the punishment, but relieved on condition that he undertook the duties, at which he would be employed within the prison walls for a period of twelve years, after which he would be released. While in prison he had to give instruction in the art to pupils, whom he taught to practice by means of a lay figure, on which they would operate until they acquired the necessary proficiency.

Different prisoners were knouted in different ways, according to the nature of their offenses. In some cases the knout could, by slight alteration in the method of applying it, be transferred into an instrument of death, while in others it merely administered castigation. Immediate death would be caused by making the victim dislocate his own neck against the fastenings as a result of the agony from the blows.

Death would be insured but deferred for a day or two by making the lash wind round the body of the victim, whereby it would cut into the interior of the chest and cause mortal injury. A skilled operator of the "knout" could smash a brickbat into dust at a single blow were he so disposed, so it will be seen what power is placed in the hands of these executioners.

One of the most terrible stories of knouting comes from the Russia of 1823. Seven Tartars had been found guilty of murder and robbery in several towns. Their sentence was that they were to be knouted in each of the towns in which they had committed their crimes.

At the first town, Akmetchet, they received the first installment, which took place in the presence of the citizens in the market place. Each culprit was in turn fastened to an inclined post, with a ring at the top, to which the head was tightly fixed by means of a rope to prevent him crying out. The hands were closely tied on either side and the feet were secured by rings at the bottom. After reading the sentence the executioner approached, wielding a knout as thick as a man's wrist, gave one cut and walked back about forty yards. Flourishing his whip he returned and struck again until the necessary number was given.

This process was repeated at each of the towns, the prisoners being dragged in irons from place to place. Not one of the men survived to undergo the full punishment.

The idea of subjecting a woman to such treatment makes the mind shudder, but one of the most terrible "knoutings" in history is recorded in which the victim was a beautiful and brilliant woman. Mme. Capuchin, one of the leading ladies of the court of Elizabeth of Russia. She had been compromised through a love affair with an ambassador. She was at first ordered to have her tongue cut out, but this the empress mitigated to knouting. The victim appeared on the scaffold dressed in a careless costume, and gave an entreating glance at the crowd, hoping some of her old friends and admirers might interfere to save her. But the people were anxious to see the operation, and the unfortunate lady had to undergo the frightful torture which was not mitigated in the least on account of her sex.

In all grades of society there are stories of women having been flogged with terrible severity, even ladies of rank, guilty of small offenses, being sent off to the police station, like ordinary criminals and subjected to the same indignity. A German newspaper tells of an extraordinary instance of this some thirty years ago in St. Petersburg. The victims were three noted beauties, and were seen to be driven from an imperial ball, in their own carriages, to the police station, clad in all the finery of their court costumes, to be flogged for an offense which we should designate "little tattle."

After the outbreak of the Crimean war the Russian government issued an order for supplies of lint, rags and other aids, for the use of the wounded, to be supplied by the upper classes. The wife of the governor of Moscow, having heard of the superior strength of the British and French forces, remarked frivolously that "the supplies were not likely to be needed." This remark was reported to the authorities, and she was summoned to appear before the police. Unable to deny what she had said, she was summarily sentenced to be flogged in a merciless manner.

Insubordinate servants are flogged for offenses in Russia, and the late George Augustus Sala once gave his authority to the statement that ballet girls are flogged in Russian theaters if they are disobedient to instructions.

Supposing Britons were to have heard that a day or two before his death Shakespeare had been flogged by order of royalty for having indulged in a joke or two in his plays. They would scarcely believe such barbarity possible. But this is precisely what happened to Puskin, the Russian Shakespeare, the greatest poet that nation has produced. The czar disapproved of his too caustic humor, and he was arrested by the police and flogged in the rooms of the prefect. Two days after he was killed in a duel.

But extraordinary as this may seem, to Russians such a story would be quite an everyday occurrence. As a matter of fact, the rod is a national institution in that country.

On Darling's side of the road are several unsightly heaps of brush, and lest some of the hundreds of passers-by on the electric line shall hold him responsible for this defacement of the beauty of the highway, he has printed in white letters on a big black oilcloth sign stretched beside the brush heaps the following:

DUCKY.

Once I had a little duck,
"Quack, quack, quack."
Yellow fuzz and feathers stuck
Out straight, and some were black.

Ducky's ma was our old hen,
"Quack, quack, quack."
Kept her busy, now and then,
To follow Ducky's track.

Such a tiny, fluffy ball,
"Quack, quack, quack."
Couldn't pen him in at all,
He crept through any crack.

Every time he went to swim,
"Quack, quack, quack."
She thought it was the last of him,
And fussed till he came back.

—George R. Brill.

TO PROTECT THE BIRDS.
A European international agreement has been concluded at Paris for the protection of birds useful to agriculture. The parties to the agreement are Belgium, France, Greece, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Monaco, Austria-Hungary, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland and Spain. Among the birds accounted useful are certain nocturnal birds of prey, as well as bee-eaters, swallows and several birds of the sparrow species, while ravens, magpies, jays and some others are branded as mischievous. Italy, a country in which the capture of northbound birds is a regular trade, does not appear among the signatories.—Exchanges.

Mrs. Margaret Tonnellier, 84 years of age, and an Adams county pioneer, died Friday morning at her home near Decatur.

TEMPERANCE NOTES

Declared by Eminent Authority That Alcohol is a Potent Factor in Its Propagation.

"Unhealthy dwellings cause other disasters. Dark and crowded as they are, cleanliness is difficult, if not impossible to preserve. They are not pleasant to pass the time in, and the workman stays in his home as little as possible; he eats there and sleeps there, but the rest of his time is spent in the public house. Sir John Simon was right in saying: 'The wretched lodging is the purveyor to the public house, and we can add to it that the public house is the purveyor of tuberculosis. In fact, alcoholism is the most potent factor in propagating tuberculosis. The strongest man who has once taken to drink is powerless against it. Time is too short for me now to draw comparisons between the laws in force in different countries, those which are proposed, private efforts, associated efforts and temperance societies. But I can say that a universal cry of despair rises from the whole universe at the sight of the disasters caused by alcoholism. I will quote but two sets of statistics, but they speak for themselves. Tatham's show that, the mean mortality being represented by 100, that caused by tuberculosis is in:

Barmen.....257 Deaths
Birmingham.....238
Docks laborers.....176
St. Paul's musicians.....114
Haldersheim.....149
Barmen.....146
Barmen.....146

"Baudran, of Beauvais, has shown that mortality from tuberculosis and from alcoholism are nearly identical. In this connection he obtained the following results:

Deaths from Tuberculosis in 10,000 Inhabitants. Annual Consumption of Litres of Alcohol per Head.

WILSON ESCAPES

MINERS' SECRETARY WILL NOT BE ARRESTED.

JUDGE RESCINDS WARRANT

WILSON THINKS JUDGE FEARS TO EXCITE MINERS.

AGITATION WILL CONTINUE

MOTHER JONES WILL TALK ON BUT OBEY THE LAW.

Indianapolis, July 25.—W. B. Wilson, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers, today received a communication from his attorney at Parkersburg, W. Va., saying that the warrant for his arrest on a charge of violating an injunction, issued by Judge Jackson, had been rescinded. Mr. Wilson said he believed this was done to avoid further exciting the miners.

"Judge Jackson's decision will not keep the organization from continuing its work," Wilson said, when he heard of the decision. He said the authorities might as well begin to enlarge their jails if the injunction is to be enforced, as the miners intend to go ahead with their plans.

This morning a check for $1,025 was received for the strike fund from Fontanet, an evidence of the determination of the miners to win their fight. The check from the bituminous organization amounts to nearly $1.25 for each member, while the Fontanet check is nearly $2 per capita.

Wilson points to a check of $8,000 from the Indiana bituminous miners and the check of $1,025 from Fontanet as an evidence of the determination of the miners to win their fight. The check from the bituminous organization amounts to nearly $1.25 for each member, while the Fontanet check is nearly $2 per capita.

MANY ARE RELEASED.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 25.—District Attorney Blizard in the United States court this morning stated that there were eleven cases pending of alleged violators of the court's injunction, but that if they would agree to refrain from further violations he would consent to their release on their own recognizance. The court agreed to this and they were released pending their good behavior. John R. Gehr, who is charged with making a vicious verbal attack on Judge Jackson, is now on trial. "Mother" Jones says she will not stop her work among West Virginia miners, but will try to observe the law. National Vice President Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, is now in charge in West Virginia.

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

Elnora Hill has filed an affidavit against her husband, Alvin Hill, charging him with desertion. He was formerly a preacher, but is now driving a milk wagon for the Mondamin Meadows dairy. The couple at one time lived in Marion township and have had previous trouble, which was aired at the time in the local courts.

Justice France last week married Bert Flowers and Lulu Monroe, at the residence of the bride's parents, at 330 Murray street. The most notable incident of the ceremony was the presentation to the bride of a bunch of handsome roses. Mr. Flowers, the groom, made the presentation and said that he presumed she would now have all the flowers she could take care of.

Martha Bucher has filed an affidavit charging Arthur Funk with having assaulted her adopted boy, Edward Bell. Justice Bullermann will hear the testimony.

After a miscellaneous train of adventures in the justices' courts of the city and a trial covering the better portion of two days, Christian Boehm, of Leo, was acquitted of embezzling $100 from Julia Fink, also of Leo. The finding was made by Justice France Wednesday afternoon, who stated that the evidence showed that Mrs. Fink had loaned the money to Boehm and received and accepted his note for the same, and that therefore the plaintiff would have to resort to civil action.

Justice Bullermann accepted a plea of guilty from Charles Hunt, who was charged with allowing minors to loiter in his saloon. The second case against him in the same court, charging him with having sold liquor to Edward Blair, a minor, on July 3, was dismissed, the same charge having been disposed of in police court earlier in the day. In the loitering case Hunt was fined $10 and costs, amounting to about $23.

M. McCampbell, a barber at Monroeville, was arrested Thursday for Sabbath desecration, in that that he followed his usual avocation on Sunday. He pleaded guilty that afternoon and was fined $1 and costs, which he paid.

Justice Huser last week united

Louis E. Redding and Bessie E. Williams in wedlock.

John Drebert, of Marion township, has filed an affidavit for assault and battery and another for surety of the peace against Frank Holly, a neighboring farmer.

The Pompey assault and battery case tried before a jury in Bullermann's court Thursday, resulted favorably to the defendant, who was acquitted. The suit brought by Mrs. Pompey charging her husband with desertion was dismissed by the prosecutor, it being found that the plaintiff had real estate in her own name and had personal property besides.

On Friday Frederick Halle, of Marion township, was fined $1 and costs on a plea of guilty to committing assault and battery on John K. Drebert, a neighbor. A surety of the peace case against Halle was being tried before France that afternoon and presented some ludicrous phases. Judge Drebelbiss is Halle's attorney and he drew from Drebert the admission made with a bombastic display of bravado that he wasn't afraid of anybody or anything; that he was a big man and could whip his weight in most anything except wildcats; that he wouldn't run from anybody and that he is about the best man that walks around in his township. Halle, the man of whom he is afraid, on the other hand, is a man of slender build, is sickly and is subject to epilepsy from which he has suffered for eighteen years. The fun that Judge Drebelbiss had with Drebert was refreshing to the court as well as to the lobby; in fact, it was generally enjoyable to everyone except the plaintiff. After this case is decided Drebert will answer to a charge of assault and battery preferred by Halle in Huser's court.

FIRST WABASH PASSENGERS WERE CARRIED LAST NIGHT BY THE SOUTHWESTERN.

Despite Unfavorable Conditions, Trip Was Satisfactory—Electrical Storm at Roanoke.

One hundred members of the Fort Wayne lodge of Pathfinders carried the first passengers carried to Wabash over the Fort Wayne and Southwestern. The trip was made Friday evening, leaving Fort Wayne at 6:05 o'clock and reaching Wabash at 8:40. Beyond Lago the track is not yet in first-class shape, and it was necessary to run very slowly. The return trip from Wabash to Fort Wayne was made in two hours and fifteen minutes. Manager Nelson was himself in charge of a car on the trip.

The distance from the Calhoun street terminal of the Southwestern in Fort Wayne to the point at Water street and Wabash avenue, in Wabash, where it is to connect with the Wabash River traction lines, is just 45.37 miles by actual measurement. The Southwestern people hope to get the Wabash terminal arrangements completed shortly, and the trip will then be made in much shorter time than that of last night.

DELAY FROM STORM.

Roanoke was visited late Friday afternoon by an electrical storm of unusual severity, and the electric line suffered some damage and delay. Several poles were struck by lightning, four of the block signals were burned out, and the high tension equipment was put out of service. This crippled the service on the Fort Wayne end of the line, and for nearly an hour anything like regular movement of cars was an impossibility.

The rainfall in the vicinity of Roanoke is said to have been phenomenal. Torrents of water poured through the big ditches, filling the waterways to their banks and overflowing many fields.

HANNA CONTINUES EFFORT.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 26.—Senator Hanna has sent another telegram to Washington in regard to Dr. Russell Wilson, who is about to be tried by court martial in Nicaragua for participating in a filibustering expedition.

Dispatches from Nicaragua state that Dr. Wilson is seriously compromised, as he was suspected of having participated in an expedition in one of the provinces of Nicaragua in 1899.

"I have discovered," said Senator Hanna, "that Dr. Wilson was a student in the medical department of the Ohio state university in 1899, and he did not graduate from that institution until 1900. There is no truth in the charge that he participated in the revolution of 1899. I have wired to J. J. Hill, assistant secretary of state, requesting him to notify our minister to Nicaragua and see that Dr. Wilson is accorded a full and fair trial for his life. Dr. Wilson's mother has already started for Bluefields, Nicaragua, where her son is now confined."

The Ryan & Gebert saloon, on East Columbia street, has been sold to Charles Wolf & Son.

DR. READE IS DEAD

END CAME AT UPLAND TODAY

HE HAD LONG SUFFERED FROM STOMACH TROUBLE.

EMINENT PASTOR-EDUCATOR

CAME TO FORT WAYNE TO TAKE COLLEGE PRESIDENCY.

Rev. Thaddeus C. Reade, A. M., D. D., president of Taylor university at Upland and very well known in Fort Wayne and throughout the middle west, died at his home in Upland early last Friday morning. Rev. Dr. Reade was 56 years of age, and death came following an extended illness from chronic stomach trouble.

News of Dr. Reade's death came in a telegram to Dr. C. B. Stemen, formerly president of Taylor university, and for many years connected with the institution in this and other official capacities. Dr. Reade had been in failing health for several years, and during the past year he was able to attend to very little of the work of the university president.

REV. T. C. READE, D. D. President of Taylor University, Who Died This Morning.

Though retaining that office, Dr. Reade was compelled to practically relinquish the work, spending much of the time at Battle Creek and other sanitariums, and Dr. Schilling, the vice president, has been directing the work of the university. During the past few weeks Dr. Reade's decline has been more pronounced.

LIVED IN FORT WAYNE.

Dr. Reade was born in Steuben county, New York, educated at the Ohio Wesleyan university, and had a long and eminent career, both as a preacher and as an educator. He early entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church, was successful as a pastor and occupied a number of the most prominent churches in Ohio and other states.

When the presidency of Taylor university was offered Dr. Reade in 1892, he was pastor of the First M. E. church at Zanesville, Ohio, comprising a large and wealthy congregation. He resigned the position to take up the arduous work of directing the university, came to Fort Wayne and succeeded Dr. C. B. Stemen, who had resigned the presidency. Dr. Reade resided on West Washington street in this city, and during the three years preceding the removal of the university from Fort Wayne to Upland he became very widely known in Fort Wayne. He had been continuously at the head of the institution since 1892.

Dr. Reade was a man of fine intellect and brilliant educational equipment. He was a profound Bible scholar, and one of the most fluent speakers who ever occupied a Fort Wayne pulpit. With his other characteristics was a forceful energy and determination that made all his work aggressive, and contributed very largely to his success, both as a pastor and an educator.

Dr. Reade was twice married, and he is survived by a widow, a son and a daughter. The funeral services are to occur at Upland Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

RECALLS FIREMEN'S CONTEST

HELD IN FORT WAYNE TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO.

Steamer With Which Huntington Company Won Prize Is to Be Placed in Service Again.

Mike Robinson is in possession of a clipping from the Chicago Tribune published Sept. 15th, 1875, which has a particular local significance, says the Huntington Herald. It is in regard to a contest of fire companies which was held during the northern Indiana fair at Fort Wayne. There were contests of hook and ladder and hose and engine companies, and it is the latter that is of local interest. The Huntington engine won the first prize of a hundred dollars by throwing a stream of water 226 feet.

When asked about it Mike said he was in charge of the steamer on that day and William McGraw was fire chief. The winning of the event was a source of never ending pride and pleasure to every member of the company, and the record established was certainly one to be proud of. The trip to Fort Wayne was made by rail, at the earnest request of many citizens, and great was the delight at the result. There was a general review of all the fire companies there in the morning, which must have made a remarkable appearance.

In the steamer contest there were companies from Muncie, Warsaw, Defiance and Lima, as well as Huntington, and the rivalry was intense, with the sympathy of the Fort Wayne people with Huntington.

The steamer which was used there is still owned by the city, but has been out of commission for some time. At present it is being overhauled by C. E. Newcomb and will soon be fit for active service. It is of a good type capable of making and maintaining a high pressure and its usefulness is far from finished.

Mike recalls many pleasant recollections of the trip, but is a little modest about telling of it. The old record shows that he knew how to run the steamer and it is not at all unlikely that he could get the same work out of the same old engine if the occasion ever demands it.

MRS. JAMES E. FORD NO MORE WAS WIFE OF HIBERNIAN RIFLES' CAPTAIN.

Estimable Young Woman Succumbed to Bright's Disease—Other Mortuary Matters.

Mrs. Clara E. Ford, wife of James E. Ford, captain of the Hibernian Rifles, died last Wednesday morning at her home, 432 St. Martin's street, from Bright's disease. Mrs. Ford was 25 years of age, and had been in failing health for several months.

She was born and reared in Fort Wayne and was widely known and highly esteemed, prominent in church and social circles, and had a large circle of friends. The surviving relatives include the bereaved husband and a babe but a few days old, in addition to three brothers and three sisters. The latter are Peter Mettler, Mrs. Simon Freistrotter and Mrs. Louis Odden, of this city, and John and Joseph Mettler and Mrs. Daniel Gordon, of Sioux City, Iowa.

Mrs. Ford was an active member of the Rosary society of St. Patrick's Catholic church.

SLAIN BY BRUTES

MME. SEMPIS SET UPON BY A PAIR OF GREAT DANES.

DOGS WERE HUNGER-CRAZED

TRAGEDY OCCURS NEAR PARIS

VICTIM WAS FORMERLY MISS RUTHERFORD, OF BROOKLYN.

New York, July 26.—Mme. Edmond Sempis, who before her marriage a year ago was Miss Louise Rutherford, of Brooklyn, has been set upon, says a Paris dispatch to the World, by two hunger-maddened Great Dane dogs, which had been secured to guard her husband's country house at Ancey Lake, and so terribly injured that she died two hours after the attack.

M. Sempis is a prominent business man in Paris. His home at Ancey Lake is isolated, and following a recent attempt by burglars to enter the place, he purchased two powerful Great Danes as guards.

The dogs proved so ferocious that they were confined in an iron enclosure during the day time for the safety of the family. M. Sempis was advised to starve them, so that when food was given them they would remember kindly their benefactors. So they had nothing to eat for two days.

Mme. Sempis did not accompany her husband and their guests, who started for a drive to Aix-les-Bains. She noticed the dogs while she was walking in the yard, and knowing that they had been without food, determined to feed them, as they were apparently quiet. She ordered the cook to prepare a bowl of meat, and carried it to the kennel, the woman accompanying her.

The instant Mme. Sempis entered the iron enclosure the Great Danes leaped upon her like hungry tigers. They bore her to the ground, and as she vainly sought to defend herself, their teeth sank in her arms and body. Her struggles apparently maddened the animals the more.

The coachman heard the screams of Mme. Sempis and the cook. Mme. Sempis begged the man to save her. He ran to the stable to get a pitchfork. When he returned the Great Danes had fearfully torn their victim.

The coachman fought the brutes into a corner and kept them there until the cook summoned neighbors and carried Mme. Sempis from the enclosure in a dying condition.

A few minutes after M. Sempis and his guests returned she succumbed to her injuries, after exchanging a few words with her husband, who is nearly crazed by the tragedy.

Rev. Guy McBride, a young Bluffton minister, has been appointed by Presiding Elder Daniel to the vacant pastorate of the M. E. church at Ashley. He will take the place August 1.

Miss Lizzie Goodfellow is home from a visit in Columbia City.

Nobility Recommends Nervine.

The above portrait is that of Countess Movelstrud, of Chicago, Ill., whose gratitude for the benefit received from the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine prompted her to make this statement:

"It affords me great pleasure to add my testimony to the very excellent merits of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Although I am past 80 years of age I find it soothes the tired brain, quiets the irritated nerves and insures restful sleep. I never feel contented without a bottle of it in the house." Gratefully yours, CHRISTIANA MARIA, Countess Movelstrud.

HE CAUGHT IT.

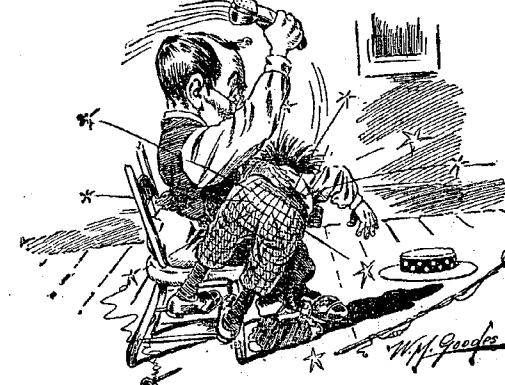

Little Johnny saw a fish, Opened his eyes; For he'd never seen a fish Quite so large in size.

Early Sunday morning he Took his line and hook; 'Stepped off to Sunday school, Went right to the brook.

"That big fish—he must be mine," Little Johnny said; "I will catch it"—but he didn't, For the fish had fled.

Then he turned off for home Through the neighbor's wood, Father saw from whence he came—"Johnny caught it"—good.
